Don't forget,
set clocks
hour ahead

It is that time of year again-- daylight-saving time. The big question: do I turn my clock back one hour or ahead one hour? This question can be answered by the adage "Spring Ahead and Fall Back".

This is the time of year we sacrifice an hour's sleep in exchange for an extra hour of evening daylight.

Daylight-saving time goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday, at which time clocks should be turned ahead one hour-to 3 a.m.

Henry Taitt of the physics department said daylight-saving time was initiated around the time of World War II to enable more people to grow gardens to support the war effort.

People with jobs often got home late and had few hours of daylight to work and grow a garden, Taitt said.

Taitt added that this system is controversial.

Many parents are opposed to daylight-saving time because it interferes with children's bedtime, he said.

Celebration '79 to begin today

by R.W. Monroe

A five man trumpet fanfare echoing across campus on Friday will signal the beginning of Eastern's Celebration '79—A Festival of the Arts.

Two trumpets will sound from the top of the Union, two from the top of the Fine Arts Building, and one from the Library Quad at noon, Jim Brinkman of the music department said Thursday.

Following the trumpet fanfare a chorus of dancers will perform to "Cosmic Festival" by Jose Feliciano, Gary Zwicky of the music department said Thursday.

"Brass Tower" music will be presented in front of the library after the chorus performance, Brinkman added.

"Brass Tower" music is similar to music that was performed from church towers during the 18th century, Brinkman said.

The opening ceremonies will also be performed at 11 a.m. Saturday and noon Sunday.

"I'm very excited about this year's Celebration since we planned it to coincide with the beginning of spring. Like spring, we feel the celebration represents the introduction of new life," Vaughn Jaenike, Dean of the School of Fine Arts said Thursday.

"This year's Celebration has been planned to feature more variety with many events scheduled for each hour," Jaenike added.

"I feel this will be the best Celebration we have had with more people attending than ever before," he said.

"The Celebration would not be possible if it weren't for all of the people who help to prepare for it and to assist in the running of it. Most of the people donate their time voluntarily and the School of Fine Arts is very grateful to them," Jaenike said.

"Since all of the afternoon events are free, I would encourage the students to stop and look what is being offered," he added.

"The closing will involve a balloon ascension with $100 worth of groceries to be given away for correctly guessing the time of lift off," Jaenike said.

Hardee's, Union Board to negotiate

by Melinda DeVries

A spokesman from the Hardee's Corporation said Thursday Hardee's plans to negotiate further with the University Union Board if the Union Board does not accept its current proposal.

"I feel we gave the Union Board a good proposal, but if negotiations are needed, we will negotiate. Eastern needs help with their Union and we can help," Larry Joseph, Hardee's director of institutional development, said.

Hardee's has proposed to the Union Board that if Hardee's provides the remodeling money, Eastern will receive five percent of the gross income, up to $300,000, with a $15,000 yearly guarantee, Joseph said.

If Eastern provides the remodeling money, Eastern will receive 13 percent of the gross income, he added.

The estimated cost of remodeling the present Panther Lair is $93,025, he said.

Joseph said that he will try in anyway he can to help Eastern get a Hardee's located in the Union.

"If Eastern has only half of the capital funds needed for remodeling, we are still willing to negotiate," Joseph said.

"For example we could raise the percent that Eastern could receive to seven or eight percent and split the cost of remodeling," Joseph added.

"We are very receptive to make an agreement," Joseph said.

Although Hardee's is willing to negotiate further with the Union Board, Bill Clark, area Union head, said that until Hardee's is willing to raise the percentage Eastern would receive from the profits, Eastern will probably not negotiate.

"It does not matter whether we pay for the remodeling now or pay for it later through the percentage of profits. We still would not be making a profit," Clark said.

With Hardee's guarantee of $15,000, the Union would still not be making a profit because of the overhead charges the Union must pay, Clark said.

These overhead charges include indirect personnel, custodians, utilities (See HARDEES, page 8)

Moll, Price to receive awards

by Janet Jones

Edward Moll, from the zoology department, and John Price, from the music department, will receive this year's Distinguished Faculty Award, Faculty Senate Chairman Robert Shuff announced Thursday.

The Charleston Times-Courier prematurely published the names of the award recipients Wednesday. The Times-Courier received the names from an "unauthorized source," Shuff said.

Moll and Price were chosen from 12 candidates nominated by faculty, administrators, alumni and students. Shuff said the Distinguished Faculty Committee presented the candidates' qualifications to the Faculty Senate and the senate made the final selection.

Shuff said besides the personal gratification of knowing their peers selected them for the prestigious award, Moll and Price will each receive a $500 check.

Moll, a specialist in the study of reptiles and amphibians, became concerned with the continued existence of the turtle while working on his doctor's thesis in Panama. Since that time he has received grants to study in Southeast Asia. He spent his 1975 sabbatical leave working with the game department in Malaysia, where turtle eggs are a major source of food.

Price was chosen by the Faculty Senate as a recipient of the Distinguished Faculty Award "because of his activities as a composer and pianist," Shuff said. Price also plays the cello, oboe, English horn, trumpet, alto horn and French horn.

Price said his music, which is composed in an AfriAsian style, is partially the result of his grandmother's influence.

Price said as a child he would listen to his grandmother sing. He wanted to write the songs down so that he would never forget them and would get frustrated because he didn't know how to. Price came from a musical family and at age six had learned enough about music to write his first song for his kindergarten graduation.

Since that time Price estimates he has composed 540 pieces. Of these, he has had four published and will have a book of 35 traditional and original spiritual arrangements published this spring.

Moll and Price will be officially presented with the Distinguished Faculty Award at commencement ceremonies on May 13.

Cheap gasoline attracts crowd

CHICAGO — When Al Farmer opened his service station at 7 a.m. Thursday, motorists were lined up for eight blocks to buy his gasoline at 33 cents a gallon.

"I just thought it was time the motorists got a break," said Farmer, 31, who has operated his Amoco Standard station on the South Side for eight years.

"I think it's time to give something back to the customers," Farmer said. "I don't think gasoline prices should be as high as they are. I'm tired of hearing about who's going to be first at $1 a gallon. I'd rather hear about who is going to have the lowest price. Let 'em try to beat 33 cents a gallon."

Farmer said about 50 motorists an hour filled up at the two pumps with what Amoco calls its "Blue" unleaded gasoline until all the 4,500 gallons were gone.

Woman elected head of local

CHICAGO — A 51-year-old woman who once charged sex discrimination in a federal suit against the giant United States Steel Corp. has been elected president of United Steelworkers of America Local 65.

Union officials said Alice Peurala apparently will be the first woman to head a basic steel local. The local has a membership of 7,200 employees, including about 500 women.

Ms. Peurala, employed in the research and development section of the metalurgical department of U.S. Steel's South Works, where she has worked for 26 years, was elected president of the local Wednesday.

She defeated incumbent John Chico,

1,205 votes to 1,077, in one of the local's largest election turnouts.

A spokesman for the local who refused to be identified said Ms. Peurala is the unofficial winner and possibly may be challenged.

Israelis retaliate, bomb Lebanon

Syrian and Israeli fighter jets streaked ominously over Beirut on Thursday and Christian militiamen lobbed mortars into two southern Lebanese villages after an Israeli bombardment of Palestinian camps in Sidon.

Despite the action, a spokesman for the Palestine Liberation Organization said there had been no "significant" violations of an early morning U.N.

truce that ended four days of fighting between Israel and Palestinian guerrillas.

A U.N. spokesman in Jerusalem also said the truce, arranged by U.N. liaisons in Israel and Lebanon, was holding.

Jury charges bribe scheme

CHICAGO — A federal grand jury charged Thursday that a $100,000-plus annual bribery fund to influence state officials was operated for nine years by the Community Currency Exchange Association of Illinois.

The grand jury handed down a 13-count indictment against the association and 17 of its directors, alleging the fund was in operation from October 1967 to Dec. 31, 1976.

The grand jury said the alleged bribe fund was financed through collections from association directors and from the 580 currency exchanges in the association—usually $300 every other year.

Fences to correct blowing trash violation

by Cathy George

Blowing trash has created problems at the Service Dispos-All landfill, Tom Chestnut of the County Health Department said Thursday.

Chestnut said that Environmental Protection Agency standards were being violated but that the service was taking steps to correct it.

The disposal service, on Loxa Road five miles west of Charleston on Rt. 316, is in the process of constructing a fence that would stop trash from blowing into neighboring fields and onto the Loxa Road, Chestnut said. The installation of the fence has been delayed due to the weather, he said.

Chestnut said the disposal service uses a process of disposal called a sanitary landfill. Twenty to 30 foot deep trenches are dug and the trash is compacted in the bottom and covered with dirt daily.

The problem arose when the top of a trench was reached and the service was performing "surface fill." This means the trash is not actually buried in the trenches, but is covered with dirt at ground level.

Strong winds sometimes unearth the trash and blow it out of the dump, Chestnut said. The fences should solve the problem, he added.

The service recently spent about $1,000 paying employees to clean up trash from creeks and roads in the area, Chestnut said.

"The blowing trash is hurting them just as much as it is an eyesore to the public," he said.

There have been several area complaints on the blowing trash. Lucille Abell, who drives on the Loxa Road daily, recently wrote a letter complaining about the situation to a local newspaper. "It's not as bad as it was before," Abell said. "But it still is a mess."

Chestnut said Kleenwell Disposal, the company that hauls garbage from Charleston, the university and other area communities, also dumps at the Service Dispos-All site.

He added that Carl Ball, owner of Kleenwell, has applied to the EPA for a permit to build a new landfill east of the current landfill site. The new landfill would be in competition with Service Dispos-All.

Chestnut added that the sanitary landfill method of disposing of garbage is the most economical for a city the size of Charleston.

Singleton takes over vacated senate seat

by Jim Holland

Vacancies created by Wednesday's student government elections and resignations will be filled soon, Student Senate Speaker Kevin Sandefur said Thursday.

Due to John Grant's election Wednesday as Board of Governors representative, senior Robert Singleton will fill Grant's vacated Off-Campus District seat.

Singleton will take over the office because he received the next largest vote total in the district, Sandefur said.

Singleton will serve a semester term and can begin on July 1, when Grant takes over the BOG representative position, Sandefur said.

Sandefur said that because Singleton is filling a vacancy he will serve only one semester of Grant's year term and then elections will be held in the fall.

Sandefur added that another senate seat in the Off-Campus District will be open when Student Senator Joan Simmons graduates this year.

Sandefur said Simmons will graduate, but she has not yet announced her resignation.

Nancy Taaffee, who was second runner-up in the Off-Campus District election, is next in line to fill Simmons' term in office, Sandefur said.

There will also be a vacancy in the Residence Hall District because current Residence Hall Senator Ellen Oliver was elected in the Off-Campus District, Sandefur said.

Melvin Pashea, runner-up in the Residence Hall District race, will take over for Oliver for a semester, Sandefur said.

All student government candidates are required to submit financial statements outlining campaign expenditures by noon Wednesday, Election Committee Chairman Linda Phillips said.

Also, the Elections Committee will hear any election complaints on May 9, Phillips added.

Phillips said the written complaints should be signed and handed in to Phillips at the student government office.

Let's go up, up and away with Celebration

The Celebration balloon is poised for flight, ready to carry away the doldrums of a long, cold, drizzling winter.

Warm and breezy spring is here and heralding its arrival is Eastern's third annual festival of the arts, Celebration '79.

Celebration is the time of year we look forward to most. The center of the university becomes filled with dancers and singers, revelers and fanciers, bluegrass and symphony, pottery and sculpture.

For a too brief period, the campus is transformed into a colorful, exuberant...well, celebration is the best way to put it.

Celebration was the brainchild of Dean of Fine Arts Vaughn Jaenike, who worked with members of the music, art, and

Celebration '79

A Festival of the Arts

theatre departments, among others, to develop the most complete, enriching festival possible.

Among those who should receive special recognition for their efforts are J. Sain, for promotion and publicity; the 37 different committee and sub-committee chairmen, and the students who have given their efforts to help.

Several area businesses and residents also contributed time, equipment and money—a good sign that Celebration is reaching directly out to the community.

As a result of the work and planning by these groups, this year's Celebration will feature the widest array of events and entertainment ever.

This year will include a nationally-known sculptor, pianist and poet. We will also find bluegrass, jazz, symphony, choral, and swing music; Eastern and community theater productions; modern, disco and square dancing; and films, mime, poetry and food of all kinds.

Celebration '79 opens Friday and lasts through Sunday. Take a weekend trip to the quad and grab your helium balloon. Spring is in the air, Celebration is back again and all is right with the world.

Letters to the editor

Speaker's point

Editor,

To the two students who attended the Psi Chi lecture featuring speaker Nancy Weiler, did you gain information?

To Nancy Weiler, did you give information just to fulfill self-esteem needs, or did you deliver to give information to fulfill educational needs of two interested people?

I assume (I hope) Dr. Weiler delivered the lecture. Whether to a crowd of 100 or to a few people it was her obligation to present material of interest. Who cares how many seats were filled?

It was wrong if Laura Funk misrepresented the number of people she thought would attend, but it was not her responsibility to ensure that a crowd would indeed be there.

Of course it is more satisfying to a lecturer to see many faces but as in the college classroom, body presence does not necessarily mean mind participation. Obviously, the people who went chose to go, not out of obligation but because it was their prerogative.

There have been times I have read assignments for classroom preparation (preparation time), walked to class from off-campus (transportation costs—not much, legs come cheap), only to have the instructor (lecturer) not show up. Should I charge a fee to cover preparation on time, transportation costs, and anticipated lecture time?!

I was angry at first, but I realized the instructor must have had a legitimate excuse for not showing up. Just as Dr. Weiler should realize the students must have had a legitimate "excuse" for not attending the lecture.

Also, how can Dr. Weiler "fully understand staff not responding positively to student requests"? This is a retaliation that is biased and is not the reverse situation of students not responding to a staff lecturer in a non-classroom, departmental activity.

I hope this letter will not go in one ear and out the other, but I realize the ear is Dr. Weiler's area of expertise.

Janie Hillman

Reel bad

Editor,

This letter concerns the E.F.S. When I first discovered it, a few years ago, I was surprised and relieved.

I began buying season tickets and anticipating Tuesday nights. Even last semester there were many excellent films. But what the hell happened this year?

I maintained my "perfect attendance" for the first four or five films. But the science fiction 'wonder' offered little more than a monotonous while wasteland, the "European Hitchcock" was far more boring than suspenseful, the "X-rated" more was vaguely interesting, but rating it X was a cheap (not to mention false advertising) way to attract dollars, and many of the others will show up on late night ABC sooner or later.

The best film I did see was "Body Snatchers" but it was hardly worth the price of my season's ticket. I would ask for a refund but since I plan to be here again next fall, I will consider that sum to be a contribution for future features.

I, for one, would rather see six or seven good to excellent films a semester than so many, so dull, so bad films.

'Crazy Daze in May' to begin Wednesday

by Frank Adducci

Crazy Daze in May, a week long event, will begin Monday featuring a hypnotist, bands, movies and various other activities.

Julie Hellyer, coordinator of the University Board event, said "We are really happy with the way things are going.

"We have gotten some reactions from students and all are favorable," she said.

Festivities begin at 8 p.m. Monday with hypnotist Tom DeLuca, who will perform in the Union Addition Grand Ballroom.

"DeLuca is a hypnotist who uses people from the audience to participate in his act," Hellyer said. "DeLuca stresses that every participant is aware of everything they are doing when they are hypnotized."

Tuesday is Frisbee Day on the Library Quad, Hellyer said. The day will also include a dunking machine where students can dunk student government and UB people. Free helium balloons will also be given out that day.

The movie "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" will be presented at 6:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Addition Grand Ballroom.

Wednesday Illinois's number one pop-rock band Eargasm will give a concert, she said. The Peoria based band will perform from 1 p.m to 3 p.m. in the Library Quad.

An open stage in the Rathskeller is slated for Thursday night, Hellyer said. This is where students can get the chance to perform in front of an audience.

"We have had different acts apply for the stage," she said. "That night we will be giving out free popcorn to the spectators."

The movie "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" will be presented at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Friday in McAfee Gymnasium.

The mime artist O. J. Anderson will perform two 45 minute sets at 8 p.m Saturday in the University Union Old Ballroom.

On Sunday the country rock band Appaloosa will perform.

"The theme of Sunday is 'hav dinner with Appaloosa,'" Hellyer said "We will be serving barbecue and fre ice cream, since the dorms don't hav Sunday dinner."

The band will play from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. on the Library Quad.

The folk singer Jim Post will perform at 8:00 p.m. May 6 in the Union Addition Grand Ballroom. Post has made nine albums, Hellyer said.

Hellyer said that people are getting interested in the Crazy Daze in May.

"Some people are really looking forward to it," she said.

CUPB to finish 1981 budget

The Council on University Planning and Budgeting Friday will finish discussing capital project requests and rank priorities for the 1981 fiscal year budget, CUPB secretary Martha Morrow said Thursday.

The CUPB will meet at 8:30 a.m. in the Union addition Martinsville Room.

In its discussion, the CUPB will deal with academic and non-academic programs and capital projects such as renovations and additions.

The final budget requests will be forwarded to the Board of Governors for review by April 30, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin said.

He said a number of projects need to be considered by the council before the final budget is submitted.

The projects include remodeling the Buzzard Auditorium, remodeling Blair Hall and looking for a more spacious place to move the Eastern News, Marvin said.

Scott trial assigned judge

CHICAGO (AP) — The income tax evasion trial of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott was assigned Thursday to U.S. District Judge John Powers Crowley—after five other judges disqualified themselves.

Judges Stanley Roszkowski and Thomas R. McMillen disqualified themselves Wednesday. Judges Jame B. Parsons, Hubert L. Will and Frank J. McGarr disqualified themselves earlier.

A clerk in Roszkowski's office said the judge had stated no reason for disqualifying himself.

McMillen once headed a lawyer's group in support of Scott's candidacy for governor in 1964. He disqualified himself, but not before chastising U.S. Attorney Thomas P. Sullivan in a six-page opinion for what he called "spurious" objections to McMillen's qualifications to hear the case.

In his opinion, McMillen also criticized the news media, saying the circumstances of the case almost amounted to a "selection of a judge by the press and the prosecution."

The federal indictment accuses Scott of deliberately understating his income on federal tax returns for the years 1972 through 1975, including an amended return for 1974.

ities, building system repair and trash removal, which adds up to $23,321 per year, he said.

Therefore, even with Hardee's guarantee of $15,000, the Union would still be losing $8,321 per year, Clark added.

The Hardee's Corporation has located outlets in nine universities and colleges and all have reported a considerable increase in profits, Joseph said.

Jan Schweitcer, assistant manager of the Western Illinois University Hardee's outlet said, "Our Union would go into debt if we didn't have the Hardee's here."

"When Hardee's took over here we were so far in debt that no one thought we would ever make a profit, now we are coming out way ahead every year," Schweitcer said.

The University of Northern Iowa also reported receiving a profit from constructing a Hardee's in their Union.

The University of Northern Iowa receives 13 percent of all sales by Hardee's, and this figure climbed to $47,000 in 1978, a university spokesman said.

The University of Northern Iowa, whose previous operation lost money, attributes their steady profits to Hardee's methods used in the operation, the spokesman said.

Although other schools have made a profit Clark said he still does not think Eastern can.

"Each campus is different in its financial basis. It appears that the other universities which have established a Hardee's run their food service financially different than ours," Clark said.

"Other campuses evidently do not have their Union food service paying for their overhead charges such as we do, or they would not be able to make a profit either," Clark said.

Short-handed tracksters host five-team tourney

by Matt Davidson

Eastern's women's track team will attempt to win its second EIU Invitational in a week, Saturday at O'Brien Field. The tracksters host a five team affair with field events starting at 10 a.m.

Head coach Joan Schmidt said this meet is different from others in that no team scores will be kept. "This will allow a lot of people to compete and will give individuals who haven't been running a chance," she added.

All teams competing are from the state, with the University of Illinois heading the entries. Northern Illinois University, Illinois State University and Western Illinois University round out the field.

Eastern's main goal of the meet is "trying to get some people to qualify for the nationals," she said. "The two people closest to qualifying are Carmen Ritz in the 400 meter hurdles and Robin Smith in the 3,000 and 5,000 meter runs," Schmidt said.

The Panthers will be hampered in the relays somewhat due to some team members inability to be at the meet. "We have a couple of individuals who have prior commitments," she said.

Freshmen Mary Martello and Mary Jane Crouch will be absent from Saturday's meet. "We'll have to switch and try some different people in the relays," she added.

However, Eastern will not be the only squad with a disadvantage at the meet. Both U. of I and WIU have people who will be at Drake. Only people that are real good will be there, she said.

One of the better freshman around, Charleston native Becky Kaiser, will be one of the Fighting Illini's representatives at the Drake meet.

Intrasquad game pits 'best against best'

Eastern's national championship football team will match the best against the best Saturday in another intrasquad spring football game when the squad travels to Triton College in River Grove.

Panther head coach Darrell Mudra and his staff decided to put the best offense up against the best defense in the 1 p.m. contest on the artificial turf at Triton.

"We thought it would be more of a test. Your best receivers against your best backs, the top linemen against each other and so on," Mudra said.

"I think it will also be a better situation for our second teams to go against each other. It'll give us a better look at these people too and help everyone function a little sharper," Mudra added.

Both the offensive and defensive coaching staffs were pleased with their respective units following last Saturday's scrimmage won by the Blue at Robinson High School.

Kevin Winbush was chosen 'Player of the Week' for his play on the defensive line. The Iowa Lakes Community College transfer had three quarterback sacks, one deflected pass and five quarterback scares.

Panthers to play Western in crucial series

by Carl Gerdovich

If any one baseball series this season was ever more important than Eastern and Western Illinois University's set this weekend, Panther coach Tom McDevitt and Leatherneck skipper Dick Pawlow knew nothing about it.

McDevitt and Pawlow's clubs are scheduled to meet both Saturday and Sunday in 1 p.m. doubleheaders for an all-important four-game series at Monier Field which may decide a post-season tournament bid for one of the teams.

"If there's a chance for us to get the bid, we'll have to win. This series is that important," McDevitt said Thursday. "Last week's games against Edwardsville were big, but these mean even more now."

Pawlow couldn't agree more, looking at the series as one which may just be "the series" for his Leathernecks.

"We've played some important games but as we stand now, this series could say a lot," Pawlow said. "When we get together, the results usually are important."

Neither the Panthers or WIU boast impressive won-loss records, but the weekend results still could spell the bid.

Eastern is 12-13 and Western 8-6, not including the Leathernecks' single game against Quincy college Thursday.

However, the Leathernecks are going into the games like any other, even though the Panthers eliminated them in last year's NCAA II Regional and proceeded to a fifth place finish in the nation.

"We could stand a chance by winning three out of four. Whoever does get the series could be in the drivers seat for the tournament bid," McDevitt said.

Eastern will use Elliott Skorupa (3-0) and Ken Westray (0-1) Saturday and Rick Furmanski (2-3) and Tom Ozga (3-3) Sunday afternoon.

The Leathernecks will pick two of five starters from their five man pitching rotation, led by Steve Pastrovich (3-1) and Tim Major (3-1).

'Honor team' Panthers to run in Drake Relays

by Brian Nielsen

Eastern's track team will make its annual appearance in one of the college track's glamour meets this weekend when it competes at the 70th Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Coach Neil Moore will take "only the best" among his Panther tracksters to the prestigious event in which nearly all of the Midwest's premiere teams will participate.

"Everyone who has any kind of a track program from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians will be there," Moore said. "It's that big of a meet."

"I really get excited about this meet," the coach continued. "We're used to having just a few people coming to watch us, but here you have 30,000 crazy fans who think track is the only sport there is."

"When I competed at the meet a long time ago it was something I'll never forget," he continued. "We're just thankful to have the kind of program here that we can go to it."

As a part of the opening ceremonies on Friday, Eastern will be presented the annual "honor team" plaque for its continuing years of participation at the classic.

The Panthers will be making the trip with more in mind than the ceremonies and the other pageantry involved at the Relays, however.

The two-day affair is one of just three meets left for Eastern to qualify men for the NCAA Division II championships.

Moore said his primary emphasis this weekend will be qualifying the 4x100 and 4x400 meter relays for the nationals.

"If we can qualify those two, we'll do what I feel we came to do," he said.

Moore's tentative lineup in the 4x400 baton race is Augustine Oruwari, Bob Johnson, Reggie Johnson and Ed Hatch, and he has Jeff Bauer, Joe Snyder, Reggie Johnson and Hatch slated for the 4x400.

The Panthers are also entered in the 4x200-meter, distance medley and 4x1600 meter relays at Drake, but those races are not contested in the national finals.

Moore has the same quartet slated for the 4x200 as he has in the 4x100. In the distance medley Hatch is pegged to run 400 meters, John McInerney 800, Pat Hodge 1,200 and Bob Feller 1,600.

The tentative 4x1600 foursome is Bill Bandy, Feller, McInerney and Reo Rorem.

All of the relay teams will compete against NCAA Division II and III and NAIA teams in the college division of the Drake Relays, but Eastern will also have some individuals competing in invitational events open to all college athletes.

The individual entries were selected according to best performances recorded earlier this season.

Both Oruwari and Bob Johnson have been selected for the 110-meter high hurdle race.

Oruwari, a national qualifier, has been bothered by a bad cold, but Moore said he probably will be able to compete. The coach is taking sprinter Ray Wallace along as a possible alternate for Oruwari in the relays, however.

Also accepted for the open races are 1,500 meter runner Reo Rorem and 5,000 meter man Casey Reinking. Both qualified for the Division II finals in their respective events last week at the United States Track and Field Federation Illini Classic.

Snyder is listed as a fifth alternate for the 400-meter intermediate hurdle race, and Moore said he should have a good chance of running, because five at least of the 32 men invited probably will not show up.

The Panthers also have Dan Larson entered in the pole vault.

Doubles play leads netters to win

by Julie Penne

Eastern's numbers two and three doubles teams pulled out close three-set matches to cap a 6-3 upset by the men's tennis team over DePauw University Thursday.

With the win, the Panthers improve their season record to 4-3.

Eastern led after the singles competition 4-2, but needed to take at least one doubles match to ice the victory.

After the number one doubles pair of Rick Hayden and Mike Stumpe lost a close match 6-2 and 7-6, it was up to Brian McDonald and Brad Siler, the number two doubles team, or Brad Patterson and Tom Wenzel at number three, to come through.

In the first set of the number two doubles match, McDonald and Siler edged F.D. Wilder and Steve Ayres 6-4. In the second set, DePauw turned the tables on the Panther pair and won 4-6. But in the third set, Siler and McDonald were behind 3-1 while the number three doubles team of Patterson and Wenzel were also losing. Siler and McDonald came back and took the match 7-5 for the win.

In number three doubles, Patterson and Wenzel lost the first set 3-6 but bounced back to take the second set 6-3. The match came down to the wire as the Panthers edged DePauw's Joel Hammond and Bruce Eades 7-6.

Head coach Dutch Gossett was

Softballers whip ISU; Western, Northern next

by Phil Vettel

With the Panther softball team trailing Illinois State just 1-0 after three innings, head coach Melinda Fischer tried an unorthodox move.

She replaced starter Karen Redfern with her other starter, Bonnie Kraemer.

"They were getting around on Karen," Fischer explained. "I thought next time up they'd start jumping on her. I thought changing pitchers might confuse them."

The strategy worked. Kraemer allowed one hit the rest of the way, and the Panthers' two-out, two-run rally in the sixth beat ISU 2-1.

"It was a very big win for us," Fischer said. "ISU has beaten Western, so it was important for us to win."

The victory left Eastern at 15-6 and raised its in-state record to 4-4.

"Karen was pitching all right, but they were hitting the ball hard off her," Fischer said about her decision to lift the left hander. "She's a control pitcher and her control was a little off. Bonnie's a fastball pitcher."

"Apparently, it worked," Fischer said.

Despite Kraemer's one-hit performance, the Panthers trailed 1-0 in the sixth. Then after two outs, Jan Cusac was hit by a pitch. Leading hitter Jane Grebner smashed a 3-2 pitch for a run-scoring double and was replaced by pinch-runner Julie Krumpfen. Krumpfen went to third on Glenda Simmering's single and scored the winning run when Jennifer Haley's easy grounder was misplayed by the ISU second baseman.

The Panthers travel to Macomb Friday to play Western Illinois and Northern Illinois. Eastern will play both teams again Saturday.

pleased with the upset over the Tigers and with the way his netters played.

"The team played very aggressively and very well against a tough DePauw team," he said. "It was a good win for us since they beat us badly last year and most of their players are back this year."

Gossett said all the Panthers played well and pulled out some tough matches by "sticking out the long, three-set matches."

At number one singles, Rick Hayden had one of the easier matches of the day as he disposed of DePauw's Bill Burk 6-2 and 6-2. This was Burk's first match after laying off for four weeks due to an eye injury.

"Rick played an excellent match with Burk," said Gossett, "he was hitting very well today."

Siler dropped his number two match to John Wildman 6-0 and 6-2, while number three Stumpe fell to F.D. Wilder in a tight two-setter 7-5 and 6-4. Stumpe was ahead in the first set 5-1 and held seven set points before he surrendered the first set and the match.

At number four singles, Brad Patterson stomped Ayres 6-3 and 6-3.

At number five singles, Wenzel squeezed out a three-setter with Joel Hammond. Wenzel took the match 6-7, 7-6 and 6-1.

Likewise, Joe Benyo came on in the second set to sweep the match in the third set after fighting through the first two. Benyo stomped Bruce Eades 6-1 and 6-1 after losing the first set 5-7.

"Joe played very well in his match," said Gossett, "he never gave up and never let up playing Eades."

Celebration '79:

A Festival of the Arts

For three days at Eastern, square dancers, craftsmen, dancers, musicians and artists demonstrate their abilities in Celebration '79: A Festival of the Arts.

Students, faculty members and townspeople flock to the library quad and surrounding buildings to witness first-hand the heritage and folklore of America.

Just take a walk through the quad and you'll find happy people experiencing the joy found in the arts. Now in its third year, Celebration '79 offers something for anyone curious about how people express themselves.

Today's Verge is devoted to giving you an overview of the events scheduled for the weekend and some pictures of previous festivals. Let's celebrate!

by Rich Bauer

A slide lecture on computer art by Bob Illyes, an instructor at the University of Illinois, will open Celebration '79 at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Fine Arts Center room 202.

Tom Brewer, a studio potter from Ivesdale, will present a ceramics lecture at 11:30 a.m. Friday to give students an idea of how to run a pottery shop.

The lectures will then resume at 2 p.m. with Amy Davidson of Fayette, New York giving a slide lecture and demonstration on jewelry art.

Ken Ryden, an instructor at Greenville College, will be presenting a slide lecture on iron casting at 3:30 p.m. Friday as well as an iron casting demonstration at 10 p.m. Saturday on the Library Quad.

George Foster, a painter and designer from the University of Illinois, will begin his demonstration at noon Saturday also on the Library Quad.

Foster, who works mainly with metal collages, is creating a display which will deal mainly with metalsmith work, Wilen said.

In addition to these lectures and demonstrations, a sculpture will be built on the Library Quad during the Celebration festivities.

Joe Feldman, an instructor at Southern Illinois University, will create a wood and metal sculpture and will present the sculpture Eastern's art department upon completion, Wilen said.

by Craig Stockel

An assortment of artists and craftsmen representing five midwestern states will be making and peddling their wares during the Celebration '79 festivities, Art Fair Director Bill Heyduck said.

Included in the array of artisans will be jewelers, water and oil color artists, weavers, knifemakers and wood carvers, Heyduck said.

Also featured in the 3rd annual event will be a photographer, an epoxy sculptor, a blacksmith, and others, Heyduck added.

"The blacksmith and jewelers will be doing their work on the spot as well as several other craftsmen," Heyduck said. "All the participants will be selling their works."

Heyduck said 52 booths will be present this year as compared with only 36 booths last year.

Heyduck explained, however, that the artists would only be present Saturday and Sunday.

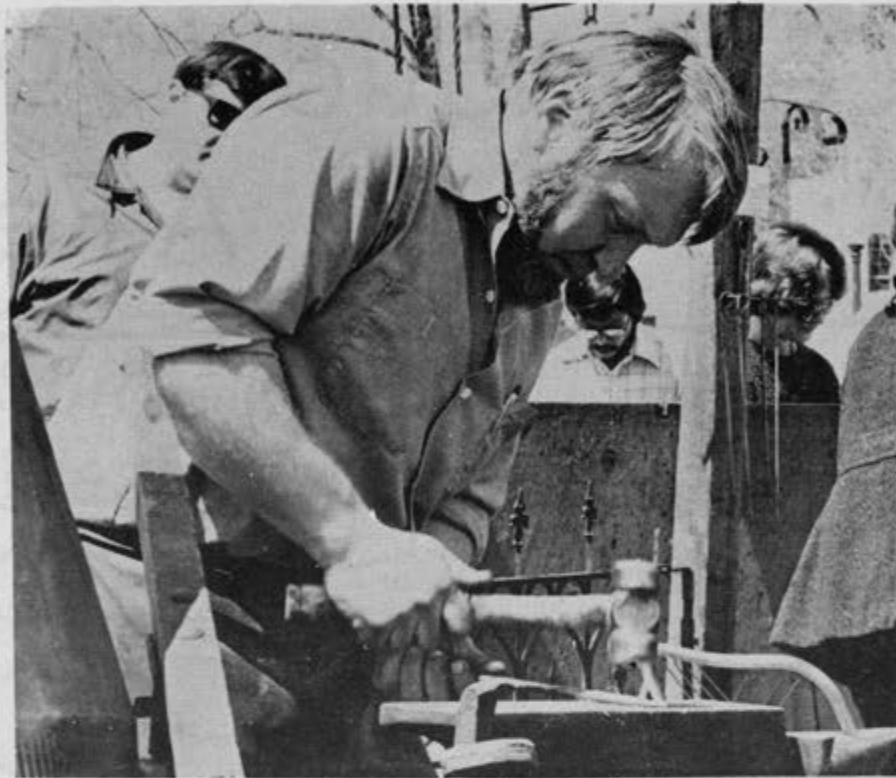

"If it rains, we will try to fit as many of the booths as we can under the Union walkway," Heyduck said. "Those who we can't squeeze under the walkway will have to hope for the sun. We can't guarantee the weather."

Heyduck said although the majority of the artists and craftsmen are from Illinois, many will come from Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri and Indiana.

Heyduck added that he had mailed

lectures

by Rich Bauer

Comics, sculpture and poetry lectures will highlight the art activities scheduled for Celebration '79 this weekend, Jim Johnson, program committee head, said Tuesday.

William Matthews, a famous poet who is the author of "Ruining the New Road" and "Sleek for the Long Flight" will open the group of lectures at 4 p.m. Friday in the Booth Library Lecture Room.

Matthews, who taught at Cornell University, Emerson College and the University of Colorado, also has constructed a new book of poems which will be published this spring by the "Atlantic Monthly."

The next lecture session will be a combination of speeches from sculptor Richard Stankewicz and Marvel Comics Editor Jim Shooter.

The lectures begin at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Booth Library Lecture Room with Stankewicz starting the session and Shooter following with his presentation.

Stankewicz, who teaches at the State University of New York in Albany is primarily a metal worker and has had his works shown in museums such as the Carnegie Museum and the Museum of Modern Art in Stockholm, Sweden.

"Stankewicz is one of the more renowned sculptors in the United States," Carl Wilen, a member of the program committee, said Tuesday.

Shooter will follow Stankewicz with a lecture on comics and will deliver a similar presentation at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the Booth Library Lecture Room.

Shooter, 26, is currently the editor-in-chief of Marvel Comics, one of the largest comic publishing companies in the world.

Shooter submitted his first comic script at the age of 13 to DC Comics and then went to Marvel Comics, where he worked until 1969 at the age of 18.

After a brief return to DC comics, Shooter came back to Marvel Comics where he worked as an editorial assistant and an associate editor before moving to the head post.

dance

by Nancy Bunker

Quite a variety of dance will be presented during the weekend's Celebration '79 activities, including square dance, disco dance, ballet and jazz dancing, according to Marge Ann Ciaravino of the physical education department.

Activities begin with the EIU Modern Dance Concert at 8 p.m. Friday in McAfee Gymnasium. No admission will be charged.

The concert will be repeated at 8 p.m. Saturday, Ciaravino said.

Ciaravino explained that the EIU Dancers are "students and faculty who do the performance and the choreography."

The concert will be a multi-media piece with slides of original water colors by Carl Shull," she continued.

Don Covens Jazz Dance Concert will be held at 1:45 p.m. Saturday in the Dvorak Fine Arts Concert Hall.

Coven, a principal dancer for the Peoria Civic Ballet and a choreographer for the Peoria Players, currently teaches jazz, tap and ballet at Illinois State University.

The Jacqueline Bennett Dancers will perform at 2 p.m. in Buzzard Auditorium.

Ciaravino said this will be "Jackie's annual recital with students from her studio performing."

Her studio is located on the Charleston Square.

Dance demonstrations will be given Saturday and Sunday by senior Lafayette Wilson.

The demonstrations will be at 3:15 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the Library Quad, according to Ciaravino.

This event is "strictly a demonstration," Ciaravino said. Too many problems occurred in previous years, to have it as an open learning event, she added.

Celebration '79 will also offer square dancing from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom.

Robert Hussey of the physical education department will team with his brother Dave, as "The Brothers Hussey" to do the calling for the dance.

Ciaravino said the dance is "for those who already know how to dance." There will be a $3 fee.

just for kids

by Laura Rzepka

Little children have a big part in Celebration '79 as they participate in art, dance, music, and theatre this weekend.

During the week prior to the festival, Charleston and Mattoon students attended classes at Eastern to learn the concepts of color, line and texture.

Children's works will be displayed at the children's corner during the festival, Sarah Redd, art co-chairman said.

The main art attraction this year is the ceramics classes on Saturday and Sunday, Redd said.

A new attraction this year is the breaking of pinatas which area children have made. Elementary education majors assisted the students in this project.

Redd said 25 percent of Celebration '79 is geared toward children. "The festival should extend outside of the university confines," she added.

Sesame Street characters will be strolling around campus to greet the children, Redd said.

Celebration '79 is more structured for children, Redd added.

The highlight this year in dance is the production of "Sleeping Beauty," dance instructor Jacqueline Bennett said.

Children from Charleston and surrounding areas have been practicing since September. "The play is by children for children," Bennett said.

The performance is slated for 3 p.m. Saturday in Buzzard Auditorium.

"Celebration '79 offers a nice party atmosphere for children," Bennett added.

Children may also participate in numerous music activities.

A program entitled "Hands On" will be held Saturday and Sunday for children to make their own instruments. They will also dramatize stories that they are familiar with.

These activities are a "walk on" experience, Karen Sanders of the music department said. "Everything is impromptu," she added.

Drawing to music and a sing-in are also included for the youngsters.

The dramatizations and the sing-in are new to this year's festival, Sanders added.

Two attractions for children in the theatre area are the production of "Cinderella Cinderella" and a puppet show, "The Adventures of Mr. Toad."

"Cinderella Cinderella" is written with audience participation involved, theatre co-chairman Gerald Sullivan said.

The play is slated for 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Saturday in the Fine Arts Playroom.

Three performances of the puppet show will be shown at 1:30 p.m., 2:45 p.m., and 4 p.m. Sunday in the Fine Arts Playroom.

foreign arts

by Yvonne Beeler

A display of artifacts from different countries represented on campus will be in an international arts exhibit during Celebration '79, a festival of the arts.

The exhibit will be open to the public Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Union addition Grand Ballroom.

"The exhibit will also feature music from the different countries on display," Pay Beaulieu, secretary of the international student services, said Tuesday.

Students from Thailand and Malaysia will give slide presentations on their countries at alternate times Sunday, Beaulieu added.

Food booths offering different native dishes will also be at the exhibit, she said.

"There is also the possibility of a short variety show featuring songs and dances typical from foreign countries performed by the students on campus," Beaulieu added.

music

by Cathy Bielong

Among the several activities planned for Eastern's Celebration '79, the musical entertainment ranges from jazz to classical and will be performed both in the concert halls and on the Library Quad.

Fred Bouknight, co-chairman of the music committee said, "All the performances are going to be good" but some of the highlights will include the U of I Bands Clarinet Choirs at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom, Pianist Santiago Rodriguez at 9 p.m. in the Dvorak concert Hall and the NIU Asian Music Ensemble with Balinese Dancers at 8 p.m. Saturday in the University Union Ballroom.

There will be an admission charge for the Rodriguez concert but all other performances are free, Bouknight said.

Another interesting concert will be the 20th Century Ltd., a concert of new music, at 7 p.m. Saturday in Dvorak Fine Arts Concert Hall which will feature students performing music they have composed on the instruments they composed it for, Bouknight said.

Other types of musical entertainment include singing groups, bands and orchestras, jazz bands, sing-a-longs, and student recitals.

Besides the sit down concerts, performances in the Union addition walkway lounge will offer singing, guitar, and flute ensembles.

Friday's schedule for the Walkway Lounge will include guitar and flute music at 1 p.m., the Barb Bennette Trio at 3 p.m. and solo guitar at 4:30 p.m.

Saturday, the Charleston High School Chorus will perform at noon in the Union addition Walkway Lounge followed by the EIU Vocal Chamber Ensemble at 1 p.m. and guitar and recorder music at 4 p.m.

The final walkway lounge performance will be a guitar ensemble at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Singing groups include the Last year's dance festivities included performances by members of the National Ballet of Illinois. This year's dance highlights include an EIU Modern Dance Concert, a disco dance.

Hoopston Swing Choir at 2 p.m. Friday and the "Friends", the United Campus Ministry Swing Choir, at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Both will take place on the Library Quad.

Sing-a-longs include an old time music sing-a-long directed by Richard Anderson at 4 p.m. Friday in Dvorak, which will feature songs written before 1950.

Saturday's sing-a-long will be a hymn sing rehearsal directed by James Rogers at 3 p.m. in Dvorak Fine Arts Concert Hall followed by a performance by the participants at 5 p.m.

Student Recitals include a sophomore/junior recital by Leslie Wilkes on the piano and Jeanie Lorenzen on the organ at 2 p.m. Friday in Dvorak Fine Arts Concert Hall, and a graduate vocal recital by Anne Timblin at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Dvorak Fine Arts Concert Hall.

literary arts

by Chris Goerlich

Representing the literary arts, poet William Matthews will be one of the highlights of Celebration '79, Bruce Guernsey of the English department said Tuesday.

Matthews, currently director of creative writing and associate professor of English at the University of Washington, will present several pieces of his poetry at 4 p.m. Friday in the Booth Library Lecture Room.

The event is free to the public. "I chose Matthews to come because I know him and how good he is, and I also feel that as a teacher he tries hard to make his writing familiar, open and accessible," Guernsey explained.

"His (Matthews') work has a sense of grace, friendship, generosity and warmth. There is nothing pretentious about it," Guernsey said.

Matthews' poems include "The Search Party," "Suddenly," "The Asian War," "Replacing the Director" and "What You Need."

He is also the author of several books titled "Ruining the New Road," "Sleek for the Long Flight," "Sticks and Stones," "Rising and Falling" and "A World Rich in Anniversaries."

The Ohio-born poet is also the chairman of the Literature Panel for the National Endowment for the Arts and has served alternately as co-editor, poetry editor and advisory editor for a number of publications.

Some of Matthews' recent readings have been at the University of Georgia, University of Michigan, Library of Congress and Central Washington University.

"Matthews is a good reader of poetry," Guernsey said, "and he has a wonderful sense of humor—he's very bright."

Other events planned by the Literary Arts committees include the sale of Karamu, a special memorial literary magazine containing the works of former English instructor Allen Neff.

Karamu is published by Eastern's English department, funded by an stration, a square dance and a performance by the Jacqueline Bennett Dancers. (News photo by Cheryl Bannes.)

"Petunia," by Tennessee Williams.

The play is about a spinster that gets involved with a traveling salesman, who tries to sell her the idea of life unlimited, Gerald Sullivan of the theatre arts department said.

It will be presented at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Doudna Fine Arts Playroom.

The third major theatre production of the semester will be "The Shadow Box," by Michael Christopher.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Doudna Fine Arts Theatre.

It centers around three couples who are terminally ill, Sullivan said.

The Five O'clock Theatre

production will be "And Mrs. Reardon Drinks a Little," by Paul Zindel.

It is a tragic-comedy about three sisters who are associated within the same school district and the eldest sister tries to have her youngest sister committed.

The production, which is directed by junior Linda Neuzil, will be presented at 5 p.m. Friday in the Doudna Fine Arts Playroom.

Both the Five O'clock Theatre and the Community Theatre productions are free to the public.

Admission to the major production is $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for children and senior citizens and $1 for Eastern students.
