Standing room crowd attends TAC opening

by Sheila Billerbeck

The late Newton E. Tarble's lifetime dream came true when the Tarble Arts Center was officially opened with dedication ceremonies Sunday to a standing-room-only crowd.

Tarble, an Eastern alumnus, had a devout interest in the arts which created his mission to "take the arts to the people."

His original contribution of $1 million and funding from other sources made completion of the TAC possible.

Ceremonies began Sunday with a musical presentation by the Eastern Brass Ensemble and Concert Choir.

Following the presentation, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin introduced "the many people who have been very significant in the completion of the center."

Marvin said the building of the TAC was "definitely a university-community joint endeavor."

The TAC is now "100 percent paid," he added. No tax dollars were used to finance the facility.

Board of Governors Chairman Dominick Bufalino, serving as a representative for the state of Illinois, accepted the building from Marvin and then presented the TAC to State Senator Max Coffey (R-Charleston) and State Rep. Harry Woodyard (R-Charleston), who accepted the center for the people of Illinois.

The portrait of Tarble, to remain in the TAC permanently, was unveiled by Tarble's daughter, Jan Tarble, and Gilbert Early, the portrait's artist.

Tarble said, "I must thank all the people here for their contributions to this center. It's a beautiful building and we are fortunate to have it."

Tarble, Marvin and TAC architects E. Verner Johnson and L. Eugene Dillow participated in the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Public attendance at the free ceremony consisted mainly of Charleston residents.

Charleston resident Mildred Hofacker said, "This is a singular event and it is very gratifying to be a part of this."

Dignitaries dance to celebrate opening

by Michael Kuo

The strains of old jazz could be heard from outside, while inside Eastern's new Tarble Arts Center the dignitaries in black ties and long dresses danced long into the night.

The first annual Beaux Arts Ball, which cost $30 per person and was by invitation only, was held Saturday in the Tarble Arts Center as phase one of the official opening of the facility.

The ball, which featured a dance band, was to celebrate the arts and honor those who have donated to the center, Mark Alexander, TAC curator, said.

"What can I say? It's a dream come true," Board of Governors Chairman Dominick J. Bufalino said of the new center.

Bufalino said the new facility will provide great opportunities for students, faculty and community members to view and participate in the arts.

"I am very happy and very excited to see (TAC) become a reality," he added.

State Senator Max Coffey (R-Charleston) said the center will be "a great asset to the community and to the arts in particular."

Student death linked to heart problems

by Denise Skowron and Ed Mazzocco

Cardiac complications appear to be linked to the death of an Eastern sophomore found on university property early Sunday morning.

Nineteen-year-old Robert M. Jemilo, of Hickory Hills, was pronounced dead on arrival, 2:14 a.m. Sunday at Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center.

Coles County Coroner Richard Lynch said Jemilo was found unconscious at approximately 1:45 a.m. in front of a vacant house, 1609 Seventh St., which is used and owned by Eastern for janitorial supply storage.

Preliminary autopsy results showed the death was due to "natural causes," but Lynch added that Jemilo had a health history of cardiac problems which were a contributing factor.

"There definitely was a cardiac involvement, but I can't say right now if it was a heart attack," Lynch said.

"They (campus police) were not really sure if Jemilo was dead when he was found," he added. "Personally, I think he was." Final results of the autopsy will be available in 10 days to two weeks.

Campus police were called to investigate the incident because Jemilo was found on university property.

An investigation conducted Sunday showed that there was no foul play. After speaking with witnesses and friends, it was hypothesized that Jemilo was alone at the time of his death, a campus police official said.

Capt. Jack Chambers, in charge of investigation, said, "I expect no foul play and until I see a report on the autopsy I really don't want to speculate."

Eugene and Maxine Edwards, 1603

Seventh St., live next-door to the vacant house.

Eugene Edwards said a male student came to their door at 1 a.m. inquiring if the person lying on the ground next-door lived with them. Edwards said he advised the unidentified student to contact campus security.

Edwards said he saw a body lying on the north side of the house's steps, but hesitated to call police because he thought that person had been drinking and probably passed out.

After seeing several passers-by stopping at the house next-door and trying to wake the person up, Edwards did call police.

Members of Phi Beta Chi sorority, 1621 Seventh St., also said a male student came to their door asking about a person lying on the ground.

Jemilo's parents were notified Sunday.

News Round-up

Broken dam frees swollen lake

CALIFORNIA—Several homes were washed away and police with bullhorns helped evacuate up to 1,700 people after a dam broke uphill from this resort community Sunday, freeing the rainfall-swollen North Lake.

The Southern California Edison dam, about 25 miles west of Bishop, broke at about 9 a.m., and destroyed several homes in the tiny unincorporated community of Aspidell, said Dave Walizer, state fire marshal for the Bishop area.

"There's been considerable damage," he said, adding that there were no reports of injuries.

Queen Elizabeth buys horse farm

LONDON—Queen Elizabeth II is digging into her pockets to purchase the stables where most of her racehorses are now trained, her racing manager has announced.

"The queen thought she would like to own a racing stable, especially with so many horses of her own to come into training," said Lord Porchester, announcing the queen's decision to buy the Berkshire stables.

The queen already owns two stud farms in Norfolk.

Lord Porchester did not say what the queen will pay for the stables at West Ilsley. The stables include land, a house and cottages. A local realtor estimated the price at not less than $1.275 million.

The queen has 14 horses among the 103 at the stables, now owned by electronics millionaire Sir Michael Sobell and run by Major Dick Hern, the queen's principal trainer.

The queen's horses have won 350 races in the last 30 years, but the Epsom Derby, the blue ribbon of the turf, has eluded her.

Prince gets mother war souvenir

LONDON—Prince Andrew brought his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, a souvenir from the Falkland Islands War—a spent British shell casing shaped into an ashtray, the Sunday Mirror reported.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said he had "no information" on the report and noted: "It's a private thing."

The newspaper quoted Andrew's fellow pilots aboard the aircraft carrier Invincible as saying the 105mm Howitzer shell was used in an attack on Argentine positions.

Brokerage fraud causes suicide

CHICAGO—A 49-year-old man apparently killed himself after losing at least $1 million in an alleged brokerage fraud, police say.

Fred J. Ness, 49, of Northbrook, was found dead in his apartment Friday, Cook County Sheriff's spokesman Dave Andre said Saturday. A suicide note also was found, he said.

A judge suspended a brokerage house's operations Thursday after it was accused of using clients' money to speculate in futures markets.

Israel leaves West Beirut's sector

LEBANON (AP)—The Israeli military command said Sunday its forces will be out of west Beirut and the international airport by Wednesday, but no date was announced for complying with President Reagan's demand for a total pullout from the Lebanese capital before U.S. Marines enter the besieged city.

The announcement Sunday in Tel Aviv pointedly stated that the Wednesday withdrawal was being worked out in coordination with the Lebanese army and involved no other parties. It marked the first time Israel set a date for leaving Beirut's Moslem sector, which it entered Sept. 15. Israel's Foreign Ministry said Sunday the withdrawal from all of Beirut would take somewhat longer, without giving any date.

An estimated 800 U.S. Marines had been scheduled to land in Beirut Sunday to join French and Italian peacekeeping troops in an effort to help the Lebanese government reassert its authority, but U.S. presidential envoy Philip C. Habib was said to have told Israeli officials the Marines will stay offshore until all Israelis left Beirut. Italy and France also said their troops, though ashore, are not deployed.

In Washington, White House spokesman Mark Weinberg confirmed Sunday that the landing of the Marines was contingent on the Israeli withdrawal from the entire Lebanese capital, and not just from west Beirut and the airport.

Promises reveal painful realities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reagan administration is coming around to the politically painful truth that it cannot deliver economic prosperity, low inflation and low unemployment all at the same time.

The early promises of Reaganomics to do just that have given way to the same economic realities and lowered expectations that prior administrations also had to confront.

The tight-money, high-interest-rate policies of the Federal Reserve Board, enthusiastically endorsed by President Reagan, have produced unexpected success on the inflation front. Consumer prices are rising at the slowest pace in six years, 5.1 percent annually.

But the price has been severe: the highest unemployment and business failure rates in more than 40 years and a year-long recession that doesn't seem to want to end. Unemployment now stands at 9.8 percent and is likely to top 10 percent when new figures are released in October.

Nowadays, administration officials are acknowledging that their best hope for keeping inflation down is through a slow economic recovery that will mean little success on the unemployment front for the foreseeable future.

President Reagan's nominee as chief economist, Martin S. Feldstein, said at his Senate confirmation hearing last week that rising wages and prices are "an unfortunate feature of our economy and imply that inflation can only be reduced at the cost of a temporary reduction in output and employment."

Meeting held for teachers' strike

CHICAGO (AP)—Meetings aimed at settling two of the teachers' strikes affecting Illinois were scheduled Sunday, but no talks were set in the two other districts where teachers were off the job.

The four job actions—two in the Chicago area, one in Southern Illinois and one in the east-central part of the state—affect 647 teachers and some 12,400 students.

Teachers and the District 95 board in the far northwestern Chicago suburb of Lake Zurich set a mediation session for 1 p.m. Sunday, said Robert Fritch, a member of the union executive board.

Teachers in the Lake County community went on Thursday after a meeting involving a federal mediator failed to produce agreement on a new contract, school and union said. The main issue is wages, they said.

About 3,200 students and 170 teachers have been kept out of school.

In Chicago's southwestern suburbs, representatives of the Bremen Township District 228 board and the union planned to meet at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Union spokesman Timothy Hart said the strike by the 267 teachers, which began Monday and affects 10,000 students at four high schools, centers on staffing levels, procedures for reducing the teaching staff and class sizes.

Downstate, the superintendent of Hamilton County Community School District 10, Obe Bond, said no meetings have been scheduled to resolve a strike by nearly 100 teachers that began Tuesday and has kept more than 1,400 students out of class.

Students give pond good cleaning

Douglas Backstrom

Despite the cool weather, enthusiasm was not dampened during the weekend as a group of students participated in Douglas Hall's campus pond clean-up.

Residents of Douglas Hall and one student from Lincoln Hall worked in shifts all day Saturday to rake out debris from the north side of the pond. The clean-up continued Sunday as students waded through the south end of the pond.

Rakes and shovels were supplied by the Physical Plant and the zoology department provided a row boat, Douglas Hall Counselor Kevin Lookis said. "If we come up with any kinds of animals we will throw them back in the water."

"The people out here are pretty brave. These people are pretty dedicated," he said.

Spectators came and went but nothing seemed to discourage the workers. They had a good time despite the 52-degree weather and light drizzle.

Students supplied themselves with music from car radios, fought in boat battles and threw a frisbee from the shore to the boat.

The only female worker, junior Camillia Devriese, said, "I love it. It's crazy I know, but when Parents' Weekend gets here it (the pond) will look nice. They won't have to see how it was looking before."

The workers raked and shoveled seaweed from the water which they took to a nearby dump. Among the "treasures" recovered from the pond were crabs, frogs, small fish and sea shells.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in Friday's edition of The Daily Eastern News that Eastern's Residence Hall Association tabled a discussion Thursday at its meeting about whether to take over the Project Recycle program from the Student Senate. RHA members voted against taking over the project, RHA President Lynn Vokac said.

Giving blood? 'I gave at the office'

Editorial

It's that time of the year again when everyone is taking a sudden interest in your blood.

And we're tired of telling you to give.

Anyway, what right does the Red Cross have to ask you to give blood? It's your blood, after all, and we're sure you probably get tired of people urging you to part with the precious red stuff.

Besides, there are plenty of reasons not to give blood:

- There is always the possibility that you'll faint or get sick. It's a pretty rare occurrence, but it could happen to you. Think of how embarrassing fainting in front of a bunch of nurses would be. True, it might be a chance for you to get that rest you've been needing since classes started, but they probably wouldn't know how to revive you because they're only nurses.
- Giving blood is a hassle for people who hate to wait in line. Who can spare 45 minutes to spend in a room full of people? After all, it might take 46 minutes and then you'd be late for that accounting class you love so much.
- There's something a little suspicious about the free food they feed you after they take your blood? Who are those ladies who fix those ham salad sandwiches and chocolate chip cookies? Who can afford all those calories anyway?

Besides, you might not like what they're serving.

- And what about those of us who can't stand the sight of blood? You might pull a neck muscle turning the other way. If we were meant to give blood, we would have been born with a tube extending from our arms.
- Then there's the famous excuse—your mom won't let you. The needle could be dirty and she doesn't want you lying down in public. And if that excuse doesn't work you can always say your dog ate your appointment card.

So don't give blood. Tell them you gave at the office. There are so many good excuses not to give and only one good reason to overcome your fears and go through with it.

But don't think about that accident victim rushed to the hospital in dire need of a blood transfusion. Don't think about how it could be a member of your family or maybe even you.

Some of the reasons mentioned before may really be valid excuses for some not to give, but most people are capable and should make the effort. If you don't give now to those who need it, who will give later if you need it?

Your turn

Support safe bicycling

Editor:

As a good, safe bicyclist, I agree with Elise Dinquel that many bicyclists don't follow the Illinois driving laws. Almost all of the traffic laws which apply to motorized transportation carry over to bicyclists. I am glad to hear that bicyclists are now subject to the same fines as other motorists, and I regret that a few unlawful bikers present a bad perspective of the rest of us.

However, as activities editor of The Daily Eastern News, she should have taken note of Saturday's "Panther Pedal" sponsored by the Student Association for Recreation. The best way to improve bicycling is to help student groups who support safe bicycling, not by writing sarcastic columns cutting down people who bicycle. Come on and support good bicycling and do your job as activities editor.

Official strategy on loan defaults unfair treatment

While many students have to go without student loans, there are many ex-students who are sitting pretty—some even earning big money—without repaying overdue student loans.

The government has come up with a new strategy to collect delinquent student loans—by making public their names—to shame people who owe money into paying their obligations. U.S. Attorney Stephen S. Trott announced on Sept. 13 initiation of 90 civil suits against prominent ex-students including a network sportscaster. The sportscaster promptly paid up.

While students suffering from cutbacks in student aid may be rubbing their hands in glee, this tactic of publishing the names of the government's debtors is questionable.

The $824 million owed in delinquent loans is a lot of money and the government is right in going after it. But to select certain people for public shame in order to get the money is tantamount to unequal treatment before the law.

The government has the power and the legal means to collect what is owed it. The government can put liens on property, attach wages, seize assets and sue. But all those who owe money must be afforded due process under law—and due process does not include punishment by ridicule.

The government has taken steps to inform defaulters before filing suits to give them a chance to pay-up and avoid embarrassment. A commendable step—but matters need not go beyond this. Anyone, regardless of their station in life, who doesn't pay should be prosecuted if that is necessary. There is no necessity to make spectacles of a special few.

and students and come smelling like a locker room.

We realize that this does not apply to all the football players, however you are affecting the reputation of the whole team. Maybe you should ask Darrell to take a time out for practice in manners.

Eastern to host workshop for student leaders

by Keith Clark

Eastern has been chosen to host a national student government workshop next August.

The workshop, which will run from Aug. 6-8, will be sponsored by Eastern's Campus Organization Committee, Chairman Don Cook said.

Cook said the workshop will be directed toward student leaders and advisers interested in student government.

He added that student government representatives from several universities will be in attendance.

"We will be showing student government people how to work within a university to help students," Cook said.

One of the main objectives of the workshop will be to develop a model set of constitutional bylaws, he continued.

"We hope to devise a set of constitutional bylaws that will be used as a model for other universities to plan their bylaws by," Cook explained.

He said another objective of the workshop will be to promote and build the image of student government within a university.

Student Senate Speaker Terese Lang said she is looking forward to the workshop as chance to show other schools how Eastern's student government works.

"I feel that Eastern has a great student government, and the workshop will offer us a good chance to show off," Lang said.

Department aids publications publicity

by Frank Garvin

A student publications marketing department was created this fall to increase readership of both the student yearbook and the student newspaper.

Nine marketing majors were selected, on the basis of marketing skills and abilities, to operate the department, marketing manager Gayle Van Ort said. "These people were taken from a very large group of applicants."

The marketing department, which consists of a business section and a promotions section, will help make students more aware of The Daily Eastern News and the Warbler, Van businessmen.

McElwee said, "The surveys are to help businessmen get the best advertising return on their money."

The new marketing department is in the process of developing a monthly quota system for members of the News' advertisement department, she added.

"This way, the advertising representatives will have definite, realistic goals to work toward," Van Ort said.

However, she stressed the quota system will be experimental and will require close observation to make sure that any problems are smoothed out.

Ort said.

Robert McElwee, marketing department adviser and student publications business manager, said the business section of the department will be involved in conducting business surveys and setting ad quotas.

The department's promotions section will produce promotion materials, such as ad fliers.

"Another goal of the new department is informing businessmen how The Daily Eastern News can help them," she added.

Van Ort said the marketing staff will be sending out surveys to area

Fight in Union results in injuries, arrest

by Denise Skowron

A fight in the University Union between an Eastern student and a Western Illinois University student resulted in one arrest and injuries to both early Saturday morning.

The fight occurred "shortly after 2 a.m." following a Zeta Phi Beta sorority dance which was scheduled in the Ballroom Friday evening, Capt. Jack Chambers of campus police said.

Both Eastern student Don Smith and Western student Mike McBee were treated and released for lacerations at Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center, an emergency room spokesman said.

Smith was arrested on the charges of criminal damage to state supported property and resisting arrest, Chambers said. McBee was not arrested.

Chambers said additional charges may be filed Monday.

A glass window located on the south side of the union annex was broken during the fight. Chambers estimated the window's value at "over $500" but added an exact figure cannot be determined until the Physical Plant provides one Monday.

Smith was placed in the county jail Saturday where he remained over the weekend, Chambers said. Bond will be set Monday.

Weir voices viewpoints at fundraiser

Matthew Krasnowski

"Through the state legislature, we can provide loans and grants for education at all levels," David Lee Weir, candidate for U.S. representative in the 106th district, said.

Weir voiced his views of various issues Saturday at a fundraiser in his honor at The Cellar.

"The state legislature is going to have to clean up the education deficit that Reagan has created," Weir said.

"Under Reagan's new plan there will be 800,000 less Pell Grants awarded," Weir said. "That is only Pell Grants."

Weir said the route for employment today is to attend a specialty school or two-year community college instead of a traditional four-year college.

Those seeking employment today must have some sort of formal education, he said.

"This country cannot afford to cut back on education," Weir added.

Weir, a counselor at Eastern's Counseling Center, sees the economy as the main issue this election year.

"The governor (Jim Thompson) keeps running around the state telling us that he is incapable of doing anything about unemployment—that it is a federal problem," Weir said. "Yet, he tells us how he has created several jobs."

"He was at the General Electric plant in Mattoon two weeks ago telling people there how many jobs he created for G.E. That day G.E. laid off 75 people."

Weir said, "The 106th district is full of small towns. One thing the Legislature can do for the district is support small business and industry."

Small business pays most of the industry tax, while big industry has all the loop holes, Weir said. "We need to build tax incentives for small business."

Weir said if elected, he will work for property tax reform.

People are concerned about inequalities in property taxes, Weir said. "You have two houses side by side of the same structure, but there is a $400 difference in property tax. That is what bothers people."

The state needs to quit looking at the property tax as the main source of income for schools. The income tax should replace the property tax, but in fair measure, he said.

Turtles race to fortune in annual Fall Festival

The Charleston Jaycees sponsored a turtle race during last Saturday's Fall Festival as 45 turtles raced for prestige, fame and a trophy for their sponsor.

(Clockwise from top left) John Daire, 10, urges turtle No. 22 to the finish line; Jerry Cole attaches numbers to the contestants; Turtles rest in their pens; A large crowd cheers as Diamond Lil, sponsored by Hanft's Jewelers, wins the competition. (News photos by Fred Zwicky) because if you don't, you won't be there long!! For the first time, students and graduates, and even dropouts have collaborated on a project aimed directly at making your college career a successful one.

GOING TO COLLEGE? SAVE YOUR TIME AND YOUR MONEY . . .

WHAT DO YOU NEED?

You need to know how to read. You also need to know how to take advantage of others' experience. More importantly, you need enough money and time to achieve your goal. Before you can succeed in your chosen career you must succeed in college. If you are not in college to become successful, you don't need to read any further.

50% OF STUDENTS WILL FAIL . . .

to graduate from the college that they entered. That's right!! Fully half of all entering students do not graduate. That is a national average. Why? Some of you don't belong in college. However, most of these dropouts simply either can't afford to continue or they can't organize their time. If your time isn't organized, your college life will be miserable!

If someone had given me this information in school I would not have had to quit. . . I was broke and discouraged. This book could have saved me in college.

R.K.R.
Cleveland, Ohio

SCHOLARSHIPS & FINANCIAL AID . . .

are getting harder and harder to obtain. The Original College Survival Guide, tells you how and where to look. There is still aid available if you know how to go about getting it.

WHAT'S TO LOSE?

Absolutely nothing. That's right, not one thing. If for any reason, you return your book within ten days undamaged, your money will be fully refunded. No questions, no strings, you will get your money back. It's that simple.

WHAT'S TO GAIN?

The Original College Survival Guide, tells you how to save your time and your money. You can save 20% or more on your current food costs with just a little effort and know-how. It does more than that. Your book tells you how to deal effectively with the administration. You will learn what to beware of in leases and how to get out of them if you have to. It even tells you how to make money at college!

$100 CASH IN ONE DAY!!

Several methods described in this book can net you this much and more!! No tricks and no gimmicks. These methods have been tried and proven by other students. You have the motivation and intelligence or you wouldn't be in college. The Original College Survival Guide, gives you the secrets. You supply the effort.

FREE ROOM AND BOARD!!

That's right, free. Many students pay no money for their room and board. No, they don't live at home. You could do it too, if you knew how. Remember, if you are not satisfied with The Original College Survival Guide, for any reason, you get your money back. What do you have to lose?

ROTTEN ROOMMATES & BAD PROF'S.

You should avoid both. You can if you know how. You will learn how to find out who the bad teachers and lousy roommates are before you get them, not after. Moreover, you will learn what it takes to be a good roommate.

APARTMENT OR HOUSE?

Or should you live in the dorm or perhaps at home? Your book gives you the trade-offs to consider.

IN EIGHT WEEKS . . .

You can be two months poorer or many years wiser. The decision is yours. The years of experience contained in The Original College Survival Guide, have never been presented in such a complete and easy to read fashion before.

I could have saved a small fortune in college with this book. I sure as - - - am now.

A. D. Law Student
Ventura, California

YOU PAID MORE . . .

just to apply to college. They didn't give you a money back guarantee either. Shouldn't you be willing to pay less to find out how to get through college than you did to get in?

I wouldn't be successful today if I hadn't succeeded in college. This book would have made it a lot easier on my wallet and my mind. The information in this book is worth hundreds of dollars to any student.

Cold and misty weather did not prevent eighty-seven Democrats Saturday from enduring a 6.2 mile "Walk for Jobs and Justice." Over $500 per kilometer was generated from the walk.

Democrats walk for jobs

by Mike Dominick and Michael Pramshafer

Despite cold, misty weather, Saturday's "Walk for Jobs and Justice" was a success, David Lee Weir, candidate for U.S. representative in the 106th district, said.

The 6.2-mile walk was sponsored by Democratic candidates Weir, Neil Hargigan (for attorney general), Jerry Nikitas (for state representative in the 53rd district), and the Citizens Committee for Jerry Cosentino (for secretary of state).

Eighty-seven walkers participated, just 13 short of the goal of 100.

"Well over $500 per kilometer was generated from the walk," Barbara Powell, walk coordinator, said.

Walk coordinator Rich Dulka said he was very happy with the walk turnout.

"If everyone could walk this route again, we could collect twice the amount of funds," he said.

"I felt most of the funds came from residents of Charleston," Weir said.

He added that although there was a lot of labor support for the march, he felt there was not much support from students.

Eastern journalism department acting chairman Peter Voelz, a Weir supporter, said about one-third of the funds came from Eastern students.

At the conclusion of the walk, a rally was held in Morton Park by the Democratic candidates who had participated in the walk.

At the rally, Bruce Scism, Coles County clerk candidate, emphasized the importance of getting people back to work.

The unemployment rate in Coles County is 12 percent, which is much too high for this area, Scism said.

"Job opportunities are going down in Charleston, and industrial construction was down 5 percent in August. So much for the Reagan tax cut," Weir added.

Weir said there are 700,000 people out of work in Illinois. "We can't let this continue. We have to get off our duff's and get us on a positive roll instead of the negative roll we are on."

Sigma Kappa wins first in Derby fun

by Deann Leatherwood

This year's annual Sigma Chi Derby Days came to an end Saturday with Sigma Kappa sorority capturing first place overall.

Alpha Phi and Alpha Sigma Tau sororities took second and third place respectively.

Events throughout the week included volleyball, Dec-a-Sig, crest painting, Derby Chase and a Derby Darling contest.

Alpha Phi members placed first in volleyball competition, defeating second place Delta Zeta. Alpha Gamma Delta placed third and Sigma Kappa took fourth place.

Dec-a-Sig, which is a skit presented by each sorority including one Sigma Chi, was won by Alpha Phi. Second place went to Sigma Kappa, while Sigma Sigma Sigma received third.

Crest painting was a new event this year. Each sorority painted its crest on the sidewalk next to the Sigma Chi house at 1617 Ninth Street. Sigma Kappa won first for the best crest painting, Alpha Phi took second and Alpha Gamma Delta placed third.

Derby Chase, scheduled on Friday on the Library Quad, required sorority members to chase Sigma Chi members to pull their football flags to earn a ticket worth one point. The sorority that earned the most tickets, Sigma Kappa, took first place, and Alpha Phi followed in second.

In other Derby Days action, Cindy Hlinka of Alpha Gamma Delta was named the 1982 Derby Darling Wednesday night by a panel of judges which did not include Sigma Chi fraternity members.

Other Derby Darling candidates were Diane Swanson, Debbie Raymer, Julie Tucker, Karin Kraai, Karen Coppersmith, Kathleen Benjamin and Amy Bardis.

Each sorority member donated $1 to participate in Derby Days and all proceeds will be donated to the Wallace Village for minimally-retarded children in Broomfield, Colo., Wes Trombino, Derby Days co-chairman, said.

Students can work at Disney

by Elise Dinquel

Students interested in participating in a work-study program at the Walt Disney World Magic Kingdom in Florida will have an opportunity Tuesday to set up an interview with Disney representatives.

Members of the Disney staffing team will give a slide presentation at 7 p.m. in the Union addition Kansas Room for students majoring in retail management, hotel/restaurant management, recreation and park administration or business, Dorothe Johnson of Eastern's recreation department said.

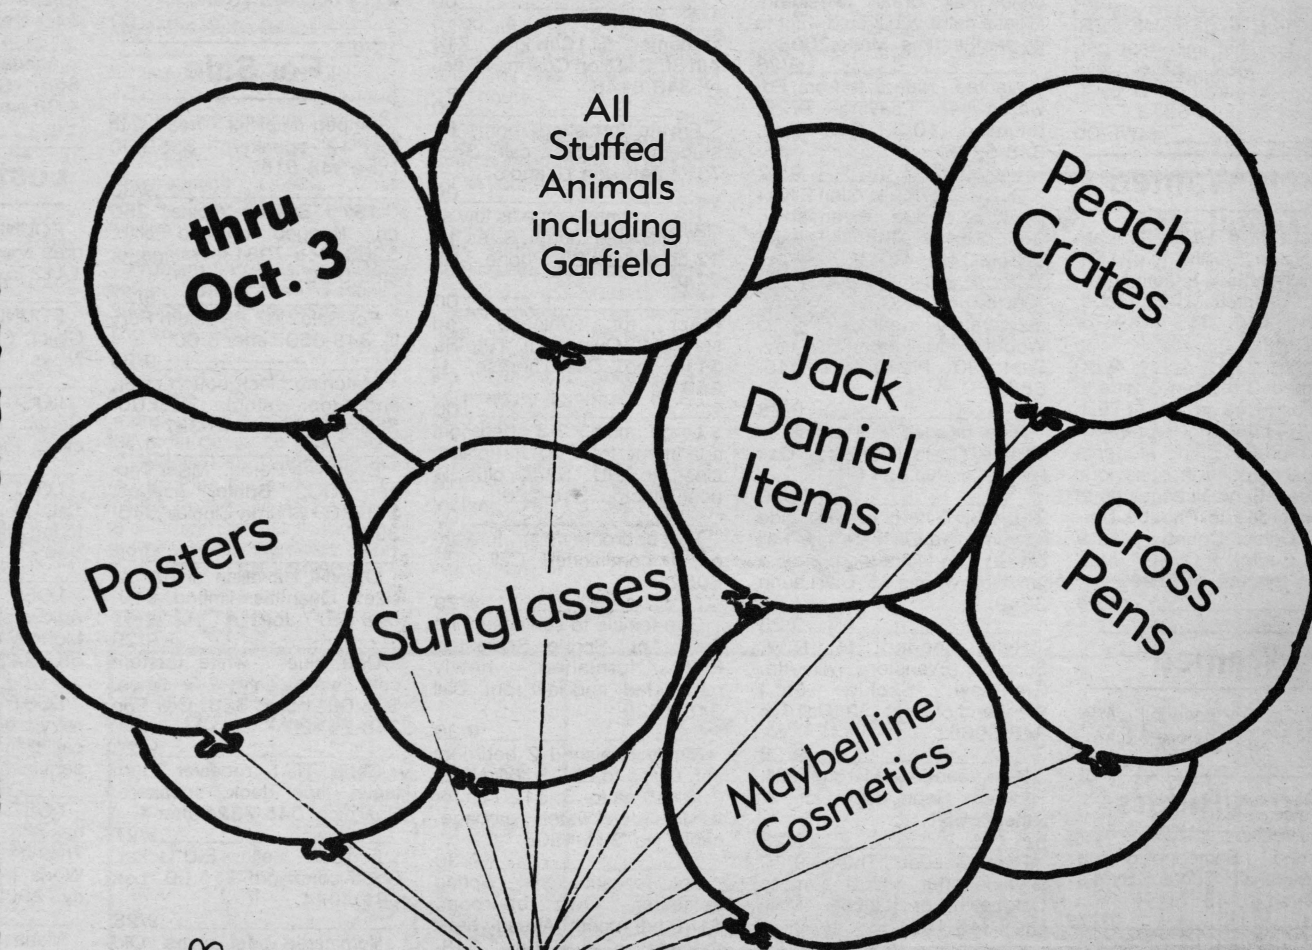

Following the presentation, students may set up interviews between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Wednesday. Students must attend the slide presentation to set up an interview, Johnson said.

The work-study program includes a minimum of 30 hours of work per week in either merchandising, operations, custodial or food services, and two to three hours of seminars and classroom work per week.

Participants will spend a semester as part of the Disney World staff and will receive competitive hourly wages.

Wes Nixon and an 8-yard sideline pass to Holoman. With 42 seconds remaining and the ball at the Northern Iowa 14-yard line, the momentum shifted again and Christensen was wrapped up for a 28-yard loss. The loss put the Panthers out of field goal range. Christensen had a final attempt to score, but his fourth-down pass to Holoman was incomplete and Northern Iowa held onto its 10-0 edge.

Momentum continued to be fickle in the second half. UNI took over near midfield and with the aid of an Eastern roughing the kicker penalty, the ball moved to the Eastern's 19-yard line.

Once again, Eastern's pursuit on Miller's passing line paid off, as linebacker Ortega Jackson intercepted a pass and returned it to Northern Iowa's 41-yard line.

Three plays later, Christensen appeared bottled up out with the aid of some key blocks by the offensive line the senior quarterback found Nixon in the end zone for a 28-yard touchdown.

Eastern place kicker Dave Strauch booted the extra-point kick and Eastern rallied back to pull within three points, 10-7.

The Panthers were given another break early in the fourth quarter, as a bad snap on a Northern Iowa punt put the ball at UNI's 17-yard line. However, on the second down, Christensen's pass was picked off by Mark Wilson, who returned the ball 80 yards to the Eastern 10.

Fortunately for Eastern, a clipping penalty after the interception brought the ball back to the UNI 11-yard line. UNI was unable to generate any offense and Eastern took over following the punt.

After Staple gained 12 on a sweep to the right, Christensen found Holoman for a 13-yard pass completion. Two incomplete passes followed and a delayed draw by Nixon netted one yard. Eastern opted to tie the score as Strauch's 28-yard boot with 7:33 remaining knotted the contest.

Momentum was with the Panthers as a fumbled kick-off put together yet another Eastern drive. However, two incomplete passes and a play up the middle brought up the fourth down on UNI's six-yard line with 4:05 remaining.

The placement of the ball played an important role. Consequently, with the ball on the right hash mark, the poor angle denied Strauch the 23-yard tie-breaker and the boot was wide to the right.

Strauch found the missed kick hard to swallow. "There's no excuse to miss that close—no matter what angle it is. You're only as good as your last kick."

Christensen completed 15 of 31 passes for 167 yards. Holoman caught four passes for 50 yards, while Nixon's two catches garnered 52 yards.

Nixon led the Eastern rushing attack with 66 yards, while Kevin Staple raced for 43 yards. Eastern ended the game with a net rushing of 84 yards.

Warneke captures invitational title

by Rhea Nall

KENOSHA, Wis.—Tim Warneke's first place finish and Perry Edinger's third place effort in the TFA Mid-American Championships Saturday led Eastern's men's cross country team to a fifth place finish.

St. Johns University captured the overall team title with 52 points, while Southwest Missouri finished second with 70 points. Saginaw Valley placed third with 99 points, St. Cloud State finished fourth with 155 points and Eastern finished with 162 points to round out the top five teams.

Warneke's time of 24.38 led all Eastern runners in addition to beating the other 262 runners on hand Saturday. Edinger cruised the Kenosha course in 24.47 for third place, while John Gassman placed 42nd to lead the Panthers.

"I look at the meet in two ways," Eastern assistant coach Tom Akers said. "Tim and Perry ran super races and ran very competitive, but I was disappointed with the fifth place finish."

"When you place first and third in an invitational you expect to be up there when it's over," Akers added.

Akers said the long workouts last week should not have affected his runners, but he added that Saturday was his squad's first invitational and the tough course made the striders run a little conservative.

"Our middle runners have got to be more competitive and move up in the upcoming races," Akers said. "If we want to do well in the intercollegiate and conference meets they have to do better."

Strider Notes...Arron Sheply did not compete in the invitational due to a sore knee. Akers said Sheply is expected to return next week.

Women striders place 11th with top efforts

by Kathy Leahy

KENOSHA, Wis.—Eastern's women's cross country team finished 11th out of 25 teams Saturday in the 1982 TFA Mid-American Championships.

The University of Wisconsin-Madison ran away with the team title, while Iowa State finished second and Purdue placed third. Illinois State's Wendy Van Mierlo was the individual champion with a 16:47 clocking for the 5,000-meter course.

Senior captain Gina Sperry finished 18th with a time of 17:51 to lead all Eastern runners. Panther coach John Craft said he was pleased with Sperry's performance. "It was a tough course and Gina had a very good time."

Craft also was very impressed with junior Margaret Smith who showed great improvement by finishing 30th with a time of 18:11. In addition, Eastern freshman Ann Ogle finished 79th with a time of 19:11. Craft said Ogle's time has consistently been dropping and he is happy with her steady improvement.

Spikers win six, but place fifth at invitational

by Susan McCann

RICHMOND, Ky.—Despite winning six of seven matches, Eastern's volleyball team managed only fifth place at the Eastern Kentucky Invitational Friday and Saturday.

Eastern was the only squad other than eventual champion Louisville to notch a 6-1 record in the 10-team tournament, with a first-round loss to Louisville the only blemish on the Panthers' record.

"It was disappointing in that only we and the champion had 6-1 records," Eastern coach Carol Gruber said. "You just have to find satisfaction in that you played well."

But the most damaging blow to Eastern's title hopes was not the loss to Louisville, but a defeat to Morehead State in a one-game tiebreaker after the conclusion of pool play.

Eastern had defeated Morehead State by 15-10, 7-15 and 15-6 scores in the final game of pool play.

But because Louisville, Eastern and Morehead State had identical 4-1 marks, a tiebreaker was necessary to determine which two teams would advance to the semifinals and who would be relegated to the fifth through eighth place playoff.

Under Eastern Kentucky Invitational rules, teams with the highest percentage of games won would advance to the semifinals. Louisville won 73 percent of its games, while Eastern and Morehead both finished with 69 percent marks.

In the tiebreaking game, Morehead downed the Panthers 15-11 and advanced to the semifinals.

"We were really high from winning (the Morehead State) match," Gruber said. "It was tough for us because we had to wait 30-40 minutes before the playoff. The momentum just doesn't stay with you that long."

The Morehead State squad had dominated its opponents prior to the meeting with Eastern. Gruber described the Eagles as "very big, aggressive and very loud. They really let people know they are there."

"We really played aggressively against Morehead," Gruber said. "We were really psyched up for it. We knew if we put them down a few times, they would get frustrated."

That strategy worked for the Panthers and Gruber said she believed the Louisville squad emulated Eastern's game plan to top Morehead in the championship final.

In pool competition, Eastern opened with the 9-15, 15-8, 15-8 loss to Louisville, but the Panthers bounced back with a 15-10, 15-12 triumph over Schoolcraft Community College.

Following that match, the spikers concluded Friday's play with a hard-fought 15-10, 14-16, 15-9 victory over South Carolina.

The Panthers downed Kent State by 15-5 and 15-10 scores Saturday, setting up the finale of pool play against Morehead State.

Although Gruber said the playoff loss to Morehead was "not the highlight of the tournament," she said "I was proud of the team in the respect that they bounced right back and won the next two matches."

Those victories, a 15-13, 15-10 triumph over the University of Rhode Island and a 16-14, 15-13 win over Eastern Michigan, lifted the Panthers to fifth place in the tourney.

Gruber credited her squad's ability to "keep persisting in a tight situation" with its success not only at the tournament, but thus far in the season.

"If I had to personally designate one person as trying very hard to increase the team's ability to come back time after time, it would be Stacy Cook," Gruber said.

"She helped push the team. If we made a mistake, it was not a big deal," she added.

The second-year Panther coach was not the only person to notice Cook's outstanding play and contribution to the team effort, as she was selected to the All-tournament team.

Eastern's 6-1 mark at the invitational boosted the Lady Panthers' record to 13-5. In addition, the spikers equalled their longest winning streak—six matches—for the season.

Spiker notes...Gruber gave her squad the day off Monday to rest up for Tuesday's match with ICC...Both Cook and Kathy Briggs are transfers from ICC and should be especially psyched up for the match...Although the team was very tired and sore after playing 18 games this weekend, no one sustained an injury that would keep them out of action

Golfers taste tournament pressure

by Scott Mountford

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Eastern's golf team returned home from a two-match road trip this weekend with mixed feelings, Panther coach Kevin Anglin said.

"Some of the players were having their first go-around in college competition," Anglin said. "I think we were just a little uptight."

Eastern finished sixth out of nine teams Thursday at Kentucky Wesleyan and Friday the Panthers rallied back to finish third out of the 12-team field at Indiana State-Evansville.

Leading the way for the Panthers against Kentucky Wesleyan was Mike Wendlandt, who shot a 77. Wendlandt was followed by Mark Ferris, who turned in a 78 shot effort. In addition, Kevin Strothmann shot an 80 and Doug Wilmert and Jay Lavick each finished with 83 shot efforts.

Against Indiana State-Evansville Friday the Panthers adjusted and played very good golf, Anglin said. Once again, it was Wendlandt leading the way by shooting a 74. Wendlandt's score was good enough for an overall individual second place finish.

Gridders draw tie with UNI

by Paul Black

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa—Momentum is one of the intangible aspects found in football. It is the quality that can turn a sure win into a resounding defeat or a rout into a highly-contested battle.

That was just the case Saturday as Eastern and the University of Northern Iowa battled to a 10-10 tie in the UNI Dome. For Eastern, which opened its Mid-Continent Conference schedule Saturday, the deadlock at least earned the Panthers a tie for the conference title.

"It was really disappointing for us," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "I felt we were potentially a better team, but we didn't show it."

Eastern quarterback Jeff Christensen added, "We couldn't put together three or four plays for a decent drive. It's only disappointing in knowing that you're better than they (UNI) are."

Fumblitis plagued both teams in the first half, but it was Northern Iowa which capitalized on Eastern's miscues and built up a 10-0 halftime lead.

Eastern took possession at their own 30-yard line with 9:00 left in the half. A clipping penalty on a misdirection play moved the ball back to the 15 and Christensen hit Wes Nixon on a play action pass at the original line of scrimmage.

However, the catch turned stale as the ball popped loose and Northern Iowa recovered the ball at the Eastern 29-yard line.

The Eastern defense sacked UNI quarterback Larry Miller for a 14-yard loss, but a pass completion with a personal foul put the ball at the 14-yard line. Miller followed with a touchdown aerial to flanker Chris Nordlie. Steve Schonert added the extra point kick for a 7-0 UNI lead.

The momentum continued to stay on Northern Iowa's side as a second Eastern fumble allowed UNI to extend its lead.

Eastern mounted a drive from its own 20-yard line and picked up a pair of first downs. A second-down dump pass to running back Kevin Staple was complete, but the ball sprung loose and UNI recovered near midfield.

Miller wasted no time firing a 37-yard completion to Nordlie, putting the ball at the Eastern 12-yard line. When the drive stalled, Schonert booted a 36-yard field goal and Northern Iowa lead 10-0 before the intermission.

Eastern had one more scoring drive late in the second quarter, as Christensen opened up the passing game. The Panther quarterback fired an 18-yard pass to split end Roger Holoman for a first down at Eastern's own 45-yard line.

Two plays later, Holoman's 10-yard reception put the ball in Northern Iowa territory. Christensen continued his passing spree with a 23-yard completion to

Panther JV unit dumps Illini 34-16

by Kirby Flowers

Eastern's junior varsity football team rolled past the University of Illinois' Fighting Illini JV squad 34-16 Sunday at O'Brien Field. For the Panthers, the victory lifted their season record to 2-1-1.

"Our offense really came through for us today," Eastern JV coach Sheldon Herd said. "Earlier in the season we sputtered a bit but it looks as if we have finally put it all together."

The main purpose of Eastern's junior varsity contests are to provide the Panther coaching staff with the opportunity to watch their younger talent develop. And Sunday's victory accomplished just that.

"These men are the future of Eastern football," Herd said. "This gives the player, who doesn't have a chance to play much on varsity, an opportunity to prove himself and show the coaching staff their improvement."

Herd's offensive coordinator, Rob Mehalic, agreed and added that this was a good opportunity to play against a major college grid program.

"They are young and hungry," Mehalic added. "We played a fine game against Illinois and I feel the entire coaching staff is pleased with the team's performance."

The Panthers scored on their initial possession at the 7:29 mark of the first quarter. Eastern quarterback Dirk Androff, who normally is a tight end for the varsity, connected with Charles Vinson to give the Panthers an early 7-0 lead.

After the Illini were unable to get on track, Androff and Vinson took over with a 44-yard scoring strike to give the Panthers a 14-0 lead at the 1:04 mark of the first quarter.

Neither team was able to sustain any kind of a drive until the Illini intercepted an Androff pass and returned it to the Panther nine-yard line.

That interception eventually set up a nine-yard pass and the Illini notched a two-point conversion to close within six points to 14-8.

Panther quarterback Eric Treida sparked Eastern to their third tally of the game as he connected with Pat Blair from four yards out.

Eastern broke the game open moments later as Panther defensive back Cornell Wilson intercepted an Illini pass to set up another score, which eventually gave Eastern a 27-8 lead. The extra point failed, but the Panthers were in complete control with 10 minutes remaining.

Both squads notched a final tally late in the contest to complete the scoring. Consequently, the Panthers led for good 34-16.

Booters upset with tourney efforts

by Jim Woodcock

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—With one game remaining for the soccer Panthers in the Budwesier Soccer Bowl Sunday, the situation was dim concerning a second tournament victory.

After battling the University of Evansville on Thursday to a 1-1 draw in which there was a controversial call by a linesman, Eastern dropped a 1-0 decision to North Texas State Saturday to virtually eliminate any chance of repeating as tournament champions.

Eastern had one game remaining in the four-day tournament on Sunday against Texas Christian University, so a 1-1-1 mark would be the best record the Panthers could post.

In the Evansville clash, the Aces scored five minutes into the match and then slipped back to play a defensive game. That play frustrated Eastern frequently last season, and it looked as if it was going to work for the Aces Thursday.

Tri-captain Damien Kelly had other ideas, although they were erased when a linesman nullified what would have been Kelly's second goal of the season.

"I asked the referee what I did and he said he didn't know," Kelly explained. "He said that the linesman raised her flag so he had to call something. Then I asked her what I did and she said I pushed someone. The only person around was George (Hough).

Fortunately for the Panthers it did not bring their attack to a halt. Kelly and midfielder Agye man Prempeh were closing in when the Aces found it necessary to foul one of the two or else give up a sure goal.

So Evansville gave Prempeh his second penalty kick opportunity of the 1982 season. Prempeh made it count and beat the Ace's goaltender cleanly to knot the score at 1-1.

Inside

Spikers slighted

Although Eastern's spikers won six of seven matches, a record equalled only by the tournament champion, they placed fifth at the 10-team Eastern Kentucky Invitational.
