Legislature to consider student vote on boards

by Lola Burnham

A package of five bills to give student members of university and college governing boards a collective vote on board matters will be reintroduced Wednesday for a second reading in the Illinois House.

State Rep. Lee Preston, D-Chicago, sponsor of the bills, said Tuesday he will make one "technical amendment" to the bills so they will have to be read a third time, probably sometime next week.

The five bills passed the Illinois House Higher Education Committee April 20.

The bills would give voting rights to student representatives on the Board of Governors, Board of Regents, Southern Illinois University governing board, community college governing boards and the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

A sixth bill to give voting rights to student representatives on the University of Illinois' board of trustees was rejected by the higher education committee.

Preston said he called the first five bills on one vote in committee and called the U of I bill separately because he expected problems with it.

He said he has placed the U of I bill in interim study and must talk to committee members before making any plans to push it through.

Preston said he believes the higher education committee rejected the U of I bill because trustees must be elected in a statewide election and giving a full vote to student representatives, who do not have to be elected statewide, would be unfair.

The U of I bill would put student representatives in a "far superior office" to elected trustees who must pay campaign expenses, Preston said.

He said he has considered introducing a bill to abolish election of trustees, making the positions appointed by the Illinois governor.

Currently, the governor appoints members to the other governing boards.

Tom Hasse, president of Illinois Student Association, which has been lobbying for passage of the bills, said Monday, "As ISA president, I'm very pleased the bills went through so quickly, but as student body president of U of I, I'm very disappointed."

Hasse said he will have to meet with ISA interns to discuss actions the ISA must take now to try to pass the U of I bill. But he added ISA lobbyists may have to ignore the bill for now to concentrate on passing the other five bills.

"I'm sure we'll sit down with the higher education committee and ask specific problems and try to come up with resolutions," Hasse said. "Obviously if student representatives of other governing boards have a collective vote, the U of I should too."

Preston said he is "optimistic" about passage of the five bills, but added that the bills are "a bit controversial."

"I hope students have been doing their homework and calling their state representatives about the bills," he said. "Students contacting their representatives will make all the difference."

Many instructors support credit-no credit proposal...

by Douglas Backstrom

Many faculty members interviewed recently said they favor the Council on Academic Affairs' credit-no credit proposal.

The proposal, which is currently being considered by Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin, would eliminate Eastern's current pass-fail option and institute a credit-no credit system.

Marvin said April 12 he planned to research the proposal before making a decision.

If the proposal receives Marvin's approval, students who receive a grade of A, B or C in a course they take under the proposal would receive hourly credit for the course and CR (credit) on their transcripts.

Students who receive a D or F in a course will receive no hourly credit and a NO CR (no credit) on their transcripts.

Chemistry instructor David Ebdon said "if students do not work hard for a C or above, they should not receive hourly credit. I have no sympathy for students who receive D's."

Geology instructor Ronald Wallace said he has "nothing against it. If a student can't get a C on the material, they don't deserve credit."

"The proposal is good; it will get students" into other course areas, Wallace said.

Shirley Moore, dean of academic development, said the proposal has advantages and disadvantages.

She said the advantage of credit-no credit is that it is "more respectable academically."

"It's important that the employer" see a credit grade rather than a pass-fail, Moore said.

"One disadvantage of the proposal is students that do take a course and receive a D, don't receive credit at all," she added.

Jon Laible, College of Arts and Sciences dean, said he does not approve of the proposal. "It's unfair to have a student doing D-level work receive credit and another doing the same and not receive any credit," Laible said.

"The pass-fail option should be deliberalized. Time should be extended so a student can think about if he wants to take a class pass-fail or not," Laible added.

Also, if a student earns an A in a pass-fail course, Laible said, "he should receive an A."

Sociology instructor Richard Hummel said the credit-no credit system will produce better academic results from students.

"A highly-motivated student would not sloth his classes off. Setting higher standards gets the best

by Douglas Backstrom

Some Eastern students interviewed recently said they support a credit-no credit plan, while others said they favor Eastern's current pass-fail system.

The recent Council on Academic Affairs' credit-no credit proposal needs Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin's approval before it can go into effect. If Marvin approves the proposal, it would eliminate Eastern's current pass-fail option.

Junior Pete Alfino said he believes the credit-no credit proposal is a good policy. "If a student goes into a class not sure what he is getting into, then this policy will make him work for a better grade."

Junior Gary Krupa said he believes the proposal is a "good idea."

"I think it's a better idea" than the pass-fail option. "It's not fair for people to get three credit hours for a D," Krupa said. "If you are in college you shouldn't get D's."

Junior Lori Lovett said "it should be expected that college students get at least C's out of their classes."

"There should be some standards set for college students to at least get C's in their classes," Lovett added.

However, sophomore John Campbell said the proposal may not "always be fair," but added that a student should put in an accountable amount of time for any class.

"If you fail, you fail. A student should put in enough amount of time for a class" if he wants to pass, Campbell said.

Freshman Jessica Lewis also said she believes the pass-fail option is "a better idea" than the proposed credit-no credit.

"If you attempted work, it should show some kind of credit," she said.

Freshman Tom Nidebelin said he prefers the pass-fail option over the proposed credit-no credit plan.

"The credit-no credit proposal would take the purpose out of attempt-

Democrats unveil own road plan

SPRINGFIELD—House Democrats, worried because Gov. Jim Thompson's proposed road program has bogged down in the Senate, Tuesday unveiled a highway plan nearly identical to the Republican governor's.

Like Thompson's, the Democratic proposal would raise about $250 million through higher road-related taxes and fees in the fiscal year starting July 1, and nearly $400 million the following year.

State moves to appeal release

CHICAGO—The Illinois Attorney General's office took emergency action late Tuesday to block the release of convicted murderer William Heirens, who begged police more than 35 years ago to "catch me before I kill more."

The appeal, filed in the U.S. Court of Appeals, seeks to overturn a decision by U.S. Magistrate Gerald B. Cohn of East St. Louis to release Heirens, who was sentenced to three consecutive life sentences for the 1946 murder and dismemberment of a girl and two women.

Heirens was convicted of killing Suzanne Degnan, 6; Frances Brown, 33 and Josephine Ross, 43. He was captured after scrawling in lipstick on Miss Brown's apartment wall: "For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more. I can't control myself."

Officials to blockade city

TIMES BEACH, Mo.—Times beach officials moved Tuesday to blockade the doomed St. Louis suburb where most of the residents have been driven out by flooding or dioxin contamination and the government wants the rest to get out.

The Times Beach Board of Alderman gave a second reading to an ordinance Tuesday which would seal off the town with tightly guarded concrete barricades and put strict curfews into effect from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. A final vote will be taken Saturday.

$58 million of heroin seized

LOS ANGELES—Two Thai nationals were arrested and 80 pounds of nearly pure heroin were seized in one of the largest heroin busts in United States history, federal investigators said Tuesday.

The surveillance operation went awry, however, when the two men discovered they were being followed, tipping the hand of federal agents who had hoped to trace the drugs further.

Military aid to El Salvador cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan's request for $60 million in military aid to El Salvador was cut in half by a house panel on Tuesday as he readied a special plea to Congress and the nation to rally behind his Central America policy.

The 7-5 decision by the Appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations to slash the Salvador aid to $30 million followed a tie vote, 6-6, that would have barred any decision at all for 90 days. The compromise was engineered by Chairman Clarence D. Long, D-Md., who just returned from El Salvador.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee already had settled on an identical cut.

Long said he was satisfied with promised steps toward opening of Salvadoran prisons to inspection by the International Red Cross, freeing political prisoners and undertaking a review of evidence in the 1980 killings of four U.S. churchwomen in EL Salvador.

Meanwhile Tuesday, the full Senate talked behind closed doors about whether the administration is waging a covert campaign against Nicaragua. And Reagan promised to name a special envoy for Central America, whose duties will include assisting "the Salvadorans in their efforts to find a basis for dialogue with their opponents."

Speculation centered on former Democratic Sen. Richard Stone of Florida as the choice for that post.

Shultz gains support in Mideast

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Secretary of State George P. Shultz received Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak's full support Tuesday for what is expected to be a grueling effort to get an agreement for the withdrawal of Israeli and other foreign troops from Lebanon.

The effort begins in earnest Wednesday when Shultz goes to Israel for a meeting with Prime Minister Menachem Begin, who has set conditions for a troop withdrawal that Lebanon is unwilling to meet.

After a 3 1/2-hour meeting with Mubarak, Shultz gave reporters the clear impression that he and Mubarak agreed that Israel's terms were excessive. Israel has been insisting on leaving behind a small contingent of security forces to protect its northern border and on a key security role for the Israeli-backed militia leader Maj. Saad Haddad.

Mubarak said there must be a complete withdrawal of all foreign forces from Lebanon.

With Mubarak at his side, the secretary said they discussed the need for a withdrawal agreement that "honors the necessity of a sovereign Lebanon able to rule itself."

Mubarak also said Egypt considers Reagan's faltering Middle East peace initiative a "golden opportunity" for peace. He urged the Palestinians to meet its terms by "declaring a linkage with Jordan" that will make possible peace negotiations with Israel.

FBI narrows expanded authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pressured by members of congress and a federal judge, the FBI ordered its agents to interpret narrowly the bureau's expanded authority to investigate domestic political groups.

Last month, Attorney General William French Smith issued looser guidelines for FBI domestic security investigations. They replaced those set during the Ford administration by Attorney General Edward Levi to prevent a recurrence of abuses uncovered by Congress.

The congressional probes found that in the 1960's and 1970's the bureau spied on and harassed citizens legally dissenting from government policy on Vietnam and civil rights.

FBI director William H. Webster said the new guidelines were aimed at new terrorist groups and were designed to improve the bureau's ability "to detect violence before it occurs."

Last week, U.S. District Judge Susan Getzen-danner permanently barred the FBI from conducting investigations in Chicago based on public statements advocating crimes.

Officials favor class size idea

Linda Wagner

Some Eastern deans and department chairmen said they favor a policy to stabilize class sizes which will go into effect fall 1983.

The policy requires that a minimum number of students be enrolled in a course or section before the class is offered.

Under the policy, 1000 to 2999 level courses must have a minimum of 20 students. Also, 3000 to 4749 level classes must have 12 students per class.

Courses between 4750 and 4999 levels will need an average of eight students per class. Also, 5000 class levels and above will need six students per class.

However, independent study, internship, thesis and honor classes are not included in the policy. Other classes exempt under the policy include fine arts studio classes and laboratory courses.

Sociology Department Chairman Robert Whittenbarger said he favors the class size policy.

"Given the fact there are exceptions and exemptions to the policy, it is a responsible policy," Whittenbarger said. "We have been assured these exemptions will be reasonably applied."

Whittenbarger added the policy is "necessary" from an administrative standpoint because available teaching resources will be fully utilized.

Donald Lauda, dean of the School of Technology, said the class size policy "will have no impact on our classes."

"Our class sizes are adequate to meet the guidelines," Lauda said. "The classes fall in the range of what the guidelines accommodate."

Dean of the School of Business Ted Ivarie said although he believes the policy will not affect business classes, he agrees with the policy.

"It was a reasonable thing to do," Ivarie said.

"One place we could operate more efficiently is to make sure classes are larger and reduce operating costs."

"This policy doesn't affect the business department," Ivarie said. "Our classes are at the other end of the spectrum so minimums will not hurt us."

Ivarie added business classes are larger than most and that students are on a waiting lists for most of the offered courses.

David Ebdon, chemistry department chairman, said the chemistry department's lower division courses "will not be affected" but speculated course levels 3000 to 4750 will need to have exemptions placed on them.

"I don't foresee any real differences at this point," Ebdon said. "Special nature courses with limited capability can't meet these limitations."

Physical education Department Chairman William McCabe also said he favors the policy to stabilize class sizes.

"I'm in favor of the policy. This policy is something that is necessary at this point," McCabe said.

MCCabe said he favors the policy because it is "not an arbitrary thing." If classes need to be defended, exceptions will be allowed, he added.

Ahmad Murad, economics department chairman, said he believes the policy will not have any effect on the economics department.

"From my point of view, this policy will not affect us," Murad said. "Most of the classes go higher in the number of students than the minimum number set."

Murad added the policy will have not have any significant impact on the economics department with the exception of graduate level courses.

Committee cites ex-EPA official for contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Energy and Commerce Committee voted unanimously Tuesday to cite former Environmental Protection Agency official Rita M. Lavelle for contempt of Congress for defying subpoenas to testify before the panel about alleged EPA mismanagement.

The vote sends the contempt citation to the House floor. A vote there to cite Ms. Lavelle could result in criminal action against her in U.S. District Court. Contempt is a misdemeanor punishable by a $1,000 fine and up to one year in jail.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., the committee's chairman, said he would be willing to drop the action if Ms. Lavelle appears and cooperates with congressional investigators. But he urged her to "move promptly," saying the House would vote on the resolution "in the very near future."

Ms. Lavelle's attorney, James J. Bierbower, said after the committee vote that his client wants to cooperate, but has been hampered because she has been in California job-hunting.

Bierbower wrote a letter to the committee Monday urging the panel to "reconsider" the planned vote, but Dingell said there had been no real effort to make Ms. Lavelle available.

The committee vote came after the former EPA assistant administrator twice defied subpoenas to appear before the panel's investigations subcommittee.

Ms. Lavelle was in charge of the $1.6 billion "superfund" toxic waste cleanup program. She was fired by President Reagan on Feb. 7 after she refused a request by then-EPA Administrator Anne McGill Burford that she resign.

Her firing sparked much of the congressional investigation into alleged mismanagement and political manipulation of the fund, a probe that ultimately involved five House subcommittees and one Senate committee.

Since her firing, she has appeared voluntarily before the Senate Environment Committee and the House Public Works and Transportation investigations subcommittee. But she has twice failed to appear before the Energy and Commerce panel.

Begin fulfilling campaign promises immediately

Successful candidates for student government offices have ended their weeks of hard-fought campaigning and must now face the real battle of fulfilling their campaign promises.

Promises, for all of us, are easier made than kept. Yet, the promises an elected official makes during his campaign are more important than most because they effect the lives of hundreds of people; this type of promise must be kept.

For instance, Student Body President elect John Cole said he intends to continue the work done on several campus programs such as student discount cards, campus security and the Off-Campus Student Housing Association.

Continuing and improving these worthwhile programs is very important because students have come to depend on what each program offers.

Although the student discount card program is a good idea, it has had problems in the past. Students need all the financial breaks they can get and it is up to Cole to see that a better system for the cards is found and implemented as soon as possible.

Finding a dependable campus security system, whether it be an escort service or another type of system, should be one of Cole's first priorities. Eastern students must be able to walk on campus without fear of attack.

Meg Hart, executive vice president elect, said she will implement an attendance policy for student and faculty board members.

Such a policy would have to be amended into each board's bylaws. Amending each board's bylaws will take a good deal of time and Hart should begin the process immediately.

Apathy on the boards makes them less productive and Hart should stand by her promise of replacing members that fail to attend board meetings.

Board of Governors representative elect Phil Montgomery said he intends to fight for one vote for the five student BOG representatives. The legislature is, at this time, reviewing a bill supporting the one-vote policy. Therefore, Montgomery needs to begin his lobbying efforts on the bill immediately.

Gail Redeker, financial vice president elect, has promised she will send out financial statements to all student fee-funded organizations to keep them informed of their current financial status.

Groups need financial status updates to make wise allocation decisions. This type of accounting system is badly needed and will take time to set up. Redeker needs to plan the system out in advance.

All of the newly elected officers, during their campaigns, claimed they will keep lines of communication open with the student body. Communication with the students is needed for better representation of their opinions. Therefore, the newly elected officials should begin forming good working relationships with student and faculty leaders on campus immediately.

Many of the newly elected officers have said the proposed tuition increase is unfair and added they will fight to keep it down. Many students elected these candidates because they promised Eastern would have an active voice in Springfield on tuition matters. Increased tuition is perhaps the most important issue in higher education today and promises to fight to keep it down must be kept.

Last Wednesday students elected new executive officers, and by so doing, placed themselves and their scholastic careers in the hands of a few individuals. It is imperative those individuals live up to the faith the student body has placed in them by fulfilling all their campaign promises.

Hot dog! Trivia, complaints and comments

Because the end of the year is slowly closing in on us, I have decided to write a column detailing all the odd facts, pet peeves and questions that, while important in their own right, did not (in my editor's opinion) deserve an entire column of space. For instance:

—Did you know that last year the average American consumed almost 132 cans of beer or that 181.9 million gallons of beer were sold, 97.1 percent of which were made in the United States?

—Besides beer, Mr. and Mrs. average American also consume hotdogs at the rate of about 80 per year. More adults than children eat them and most of those adults are women. Five billion of those little buggers (hotdogs, not women) are sold between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

—The best hotdog selling location in the world you ask? Where else but Chicago's O'Hare International Airport. The restaurant and snack bar operators sell more than 2 million weiners per year.

—Four out of five Americans drink an average of three and one-half cups of coffee a day.

—To go along with all that coffee, the average American cigarette smoker inhaled 11,633 cigarettes in 1980. If one can assume seven puffs to each butt, that's a little bit more than 81,000 carcinogenic assaults on the lungs per year.

—Despite what they say in the light beer commercials, tastes great is better than less filling.

—I'm sick and tired of ET this and ET that. Enough is enough—give him his phone bill and send him home.

—Speaking of being tired of things. Does anyone know Ed Sotor, the author of that infamous fat women on campus letter? If so, do you know if he's had a date lately?

Urinal Update

Much to the relief of the men of fourth south Thomas Hall, as of 11:48 a.m. April 14, the urinals were officially taken off the disabled list. Will we ever know the real reason for the long delay?

—I bet you're wondering what's the most active pay phone in America? It's the one located in the Greyhound bus station in the city of big mouths, Chicago. This phone averages 270 calls a day, Ma Bell is sure making out like a bandit on that one.

More Quiche

Did you know that undefeated world middleweight karate champion Chuck Norris eats quiche, and likes it? Now is probably the time to tell you that there are exceptions to the Real Men Don't Eat Quiche rules and, incidentally, Chuck just happens to be one of those exceptions.

—According to a Best of Carson rerun, a person laughs around 15 times a day, except when he/she is watching those damn reruns.

Quick Thoughts on Local Issues

Not having any specials at local bars can be compared to eating a bad hot dog—it too shall pass. In other words, by the time we come back to school in the fall everything will be back to normal.

—Why is it every time I'm in the food service milk line the dispenser runs out when it's my turn?

Last Thoughts

If you don't think America is the land of opportunity, you're wrong. In this great country we have a president who made movies with monkeys, a Chicago mayor elect who makes a habit of not paying his utility and tax bills, and a Charleston mayor who once was a milk man. Maybe the three of them, and all of us, would be better off if they had continued to be actors, average tax evaders and milkmen.

Don't wait, protest now

Editor:

Higher education is a topic that needs to be dealt with now and not in the future. For education, tomorrow may be too late.

On April 28, a demonstration for higher education will take place on the library quad at 3:30 p.m. Here students will have the opportunity to express their views toward the proposed $500 dollar tuition increase and the tax increase.

I urge all students to take an active part in this protest movement, not only for today, but for tomorrow—for our future. For April 28 is a day of rebirth, a day to erase the typical apathetic stereotype placed on college students.

This can only be done by writing our state representatives and urging them to support the tax increase, and by urging our parents to do the same. Let's make it known to our public officials that students really do care. Let's join together to support a cause, a cause that affects us all.

Eastern's fitness program aids faculty and residents

by Beth Lander

Eastern is offering an Adult Fitness Program to help ensure good health for instructors and area residents.

Program director and conductor, Thomas Woodall, said the program was designed last fall for adults interested in physical fitness.

The program's exercise specialist, Mitchell Whaley, said the program, which began in October, is "basically for people who don't know about an adequate fitness level and want to be in a supervised group of people exercising."

Woodall said group members walk, swim and jog while under supervision.

Whaley said the activities are beneficial because they "enhance the cardiorespiratory system and reduce risk factors such as excessive smoking, hypertension, minimal exercise and body fat."

Woodall said the individuals' fitness progression is a "gradual process and is geared to their age and occupation."

Whaley said the program's two main objectives are establishing a developmental phase and a maintenance phase.

The developmental phase deals with the individuals' level of cardiorespiratory fitness. This period extends over a three to six month period, Woodall said.

The maintenance phase deals with regulating participants' fitness levels during the thirty-minute sessions, he said.

Several participants expressed satisfaction with the program.

Gene Wingler, of Eastern's Audio-Visual Center, has been involved in the program since early October. He said the program is helping him to eliminate his heart-rhythm problem.

"It's (the program) worthwhile and it is doctor's orders," he said.

Wingler added that he is now "doing very well."

Esther Kulze, 64, also joined the program in October.

She said she was aware that doctors emphasized walking for fitness and decided to enroll in the program "to get exercise."

Doyle Johnson, a 59-year-old businessman and program participant program, said he believed his "fitness was slipping away" before he resumed exercising sixteen years ago.

Whaley said the approval of a physician and additional medical screening are required of program participants. A $100 fee is charged for the medical screening.

The program is offered at 6:30 p.m. and noon every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at Lantz Gym.

Group approval discussed

Approval of two new campus organizations will be discussed by the Student Senate Wednesday.

Senate Speaker Glenn Good said the Judo Club and Tri Lambda, an organization for homosexuals and lesbians, will be discussed for possible approval by the senate.

In other business, the senate will discuss the rally scheduled for Thursday in the library quad which is being sponsored by the Young Democrats.

Good said the rally will be a campus-wide protest against tuition hikes and higher education cutbacks.

Final senate committee reports also will be submitted by all committee chairmen, he added.

In other action, Good said, the senate will select the Senator of the Semester and Honorary Senator. The awards will be announced at the student government banquet Friday night, he added.

The Student Senate will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola Room.

BOG to host legislators

by Debbie Coventry

Eastern's proposed fiscal year 1984 budget will be one of the topics discussed Wednesday by State Rep. Harry "Babe" Woodyard, R-Charleston and State Sen. Max Coffey, R-Charleston at the Board of Governors Legislative Breakfast.

BOG Executive Director Donald Walters said the future of higher education will be discussed by BOG members, Woodyard, Coffey and Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin.

"Those attending the breakfast will have the chance to talk with state senators and representatives about proposals for budget increases for higher education and alternatives proposed by the legislators," Walters said.

The BOG Legislative Breakfast will begin at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at Maldaner's Restaurant in Springfield.

Greeks choose new king, queen

by Terri Sternau

Junior John Pratt of the Sigma Chi fraternity and junior Lisa Foehr of the Sigma Kappa sorority were crowned as greek king and queen Monday night.

Pratt and Foehr were announced as king and queen at a coronation ceremony at E.L. Krackers, 1405 Fourth St.

Fraternity members voted for the queen, while sorority members voted for the king on Monday.

All greek fraternities and sororities were represented in the contest.

As greek king and queen, Pratt and Foehr, will be representing the entire greek system and will be overseeing all activities during greek week including the presentation of awards, Shari Sullivan, greek week co-chairman, said.

Bryan Dillard, fondly known around campus as "Dr. Dill", modeled a Russell Athletic sweatsuit from Dale Bayles on Campus. Bryan is a business major from Chicago Heights, IL & is a member of E.I.U.'s Baseball Team — Bryan says "Sweats are great all year round. They are warm in the winter & cool in the summer."

Weather aids Celebration '83 turnout, profits

by Vicki Vass

Although pleasant weather seemed to draw a large crowd to Celebration '83, the festival's monetary success will be uncertain until figures have been tallied, the concessions chairman for Celebration '83 said Monday.

Joe Martin said the estimated figures for Celebration's attendance and profits were "better than last year."

Martin said the food booths did 35 percent better than last year. "This success is due to the better weather."

In addition he said, "There was more offered. If a person came Friday and ate until they were full, maybe they came back Saturday to eat a couple of other things," Martin said.

Celebration '83 Public Relations Chairman Don Carmichael said the steering committee will meet next week to tabulate and evaluate the figures.

"Celebration looked as big as last year. There were a lot of people. It looked large," Carmichael said.

Along with the visitors to festival events on the Library Quad, Carmichael said Celebration drew attendance to other campus features.

Carmichael said he heard many positive comments from people who attended Celebration. "I heard that the food was excellent, the music was good and that the crafts were of an excellent quality," he said.

Carmichael also attributed the success of Celebration '83 to a high school contest Saturday.

"There were ten area high school band here. This made up for hundreds of students who ate a lot," he said.

COTE explores task force proposal

by Nancy Bridges

The Council on Teacher Education discussed a task force recommendation which would allow only 15 semester hours of student teaching and internship credit to count toward graduation.

The task force on cooperative education and internships recommended that a maximum of 15 semester hours of any combination of student teaching and internships be counted in the 120 hours needed for graduation.

Task Force Chairman Sharon Bartling said the recommendation was made to allow students to take more than 15 semester hours of internship or student teaching although only 15 would be included as part of the 120-hour graduation requirement.

However, Bartling said the recommendation would not include health education.

Currently, health education majors must have a combination of 20 hours of student teaching and internship, eight semester hours of an internship and 12 hours of student teaching, Bartling said.

The COTE tabled the task force recommendation until its next meeting.

In other business, the COTE approved four new courses music courses.

The council approved MUS 1581, MUS 3581, MUS 3582, titled "History and Literature of Music I, II and III," respectively.

COTE also approved MUS 3221, "Piano Pedagogy" and MUS 3222 "Piano Pedagogy II."

In addition, Larry Williams, dean of graduate school and continuing education, presented extension class fees.

Economics instructor Lawrence Bates said he does not favor the current pass-fail option over the proposed credit-no credit.

"If a student takes the pass-fail option, graduate schools might interpret the P as a D when it could be an A," Bates said.

Bates added, "With the credit-no credit option, other schools (graduate) could interpret the grade as a C when it could be higher."

Home economics instructor Judith Chapman said students should invest all the time they can to receive a "good" grade for a class.

"Pass-fail is a cop-out. Students don't get much out of a class because they don't put much in the class," Chapman said.

English instructor Tim Shonk said the credit-no credit option is a good idea.

"When I taught at the University of Tennessee, students were graded A, B, C and no credit. We (teachers) were assured that students learned something," Shonk said.

English instructor Bob White also said he favors the credit-no credit option.

"The credit-no credit option is favorable. D grades do not transfer to grad school. The credit grades will," White said.

ting a (difficult) class," Nidebelin said.

Freshman Laura Paver said she does not favor the CAA's proposed credit-no credit plan.

"I had pass-fail in high school. People that have a harder time in a class should be able to stay with the pass-fail option," she said.

Karen Crowley, freshman, said she believes a "60-70 grade average is passing."

Crowley said students should receive credit for a D "because it might be harder for some students" to get good grades in difficult classes.

Freshman Tyler McGasson said "we should get credit for a D. And we should stay with the pass-fail option."

"STUDENTS PROGRAMMING FOR STUDENTS"

IT'S TIME TO....

GET

by Leslie Talley
Taurus. This year you'll focus on getting in shape (usually Taurus' idea of sports is the sidelines) and being too indulgent over last year, you'll have good control over yourself.

"Astrology is based on the theory that anything done at a unique particular time, such as birth has the qualities of that unique time," according to Marcella Ruble, astrologist and palmist. Marcella will be revealing what the stars have to say about anyone from Aries to Virgos in the Union Walkway Lounge on Monday, May 2 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. as a part of Crazy Daze.

Astrology has been popular among people around the world since the beinning of time. Some people refuse to begin a day without them, while others say it's nonsense. "People love to hear about themselves," says Marcella and whether you're a skeptic or an avid believer, Marcella's 80 percent prediction accuracy is sure to amaze you. Using a book of planetary positions, Marcella makes predictions by examining the exact unique order of planets present at the time of a person's birth and comparing those planetary influences to those of the present day.

Marcella Ruble has visited many Universities and Conventions, always receiving great acclaim for her presentations. Sue Wesley, porgram director from University of Wisconsin, said she was "... One of the few individuals I've heard who dissolve the veil of mystery surrounding the psychic abilities and make them appear as natural as the five other senses." "She is a charming and special lady and everone enjoyed her tremendously," said Bonnie Schafrath, manager of Sheridan Inn-Walden.

Something celestial is happening in the Union Walkway Lounge on May 2 that you won't want to miss!

CRAZY DAZE Kickoff

TIMOTHY P. AND THE RURAL ROUTE THREE is currently one of the hottest groups on the performance trail. They have spent the past years playing the best country music to ever hit the highway. Featured in the Clint Eastwood movie "Every Which Way But Loose" this group will also be featured as a part of this year's Crazy Daze kickoff.

Also, there will be a kickoff cookout accompanying the concert. For your enjoyment you can munch out on brats ($2.00), corn on the cob (.65), baked beans (.55), and of course, Things Go Better with Coke (.45). The cookout will be from 4-6 p.m. on the Library Quad.

So, be sure to set time aside to much and rock out with the best: TIMOTHY P. & THE RURAL ROUTE THREE and University Board.

No, this week hasn't gotten to us yet. We aren't going crazy but we do know that you will take a double take when on Tuesday, May 5, you are admitted to a total night of movie madness from 7-10 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom for only 25¢ (and this is not a typing error).

In honor of this year's Crazy Daze you can enjoy such quick classics as "Habeus Corpus", "Bedtime Worries", "Tit for Tat", and "We Want Our Mummy". And that is just a sample of the side splitting fun flicks that will be shown.

So, don't hesitate! Where else can you get a whole night of fun for only a quarter. Also, be sure to look for details on the upcoming events being sponsored for your enjoyment by University Board like: RIVERCITY PHOTOGRAPHY, Wednesday, May 4, in the Union Walkway. For only $2.00 go on a journey into the past. Have your portrait taken and see yourself as you would have looked 100 years ago. . . (more details next week).

Eastern signs sports broadcast contract with WLBH

John Humenik

Eastern's athletic department ended a two-month delay in signing a 1983-84 sports broadcast package when a one-year agreement with WLBH Radio of Mattoon was inked Tuesday.

Eastern, which did not renew its past contract with Charleston radio station WEIC in March, opted for the 50,000-watt Mattoon station in connection with funding from Eisner Food Stores, Athletic Director R.C. Johnson said.

"We are extremely excited about WLBH becoming our anchor station, signing Eisner as our No. 1 sponsor and Wooddell agreeing to serve as our Voice of the Panthers," Johnson said.

"Eisner has given strong financial support to our program and without their help we would have been hard pressed to make this go," Johnson continued.

Eastern abandoned its negotiations with WEIC in April when the Charleston station announced a possible disbandment of its Eastern sports broadcasts because of financial problems.

In addition, Johnson said the fact that WEIC did not rehire veteran sportscaster Ray Smith when his contract expired March 7 was another reason for looking at WLBH.

WLBH-FM, 97 on the dial, will offer to Eastern a listening audience of a million and a half people in the east central Illinois area.

"We're very much satisfied. This is our network," Johnson said. "WLBH has an excellent reputation in our area. It's a total information station."

WLBH-FM will cover all 11 Eastern football games in addition to 28 Panther basketball contests next year with Wooddell doing the football play-by-play.

Johnson said the play-by-play broadcaster for Eastern's basketball games has yet to be determined.

"One of the reasons we wanted WLBH to carry the games was to also attempt to entice Ken (Wooddell) to provide the play-by-play," Johnson said.

"He's well respected as a person and broadcaster and will definitely add a professional quality to our broadcasts," he added.

Wooddell brings to Eastern's sports broadcasts 34 years of high school and college play-by-play since joining WLBH in 1949.

Christensen chosen by Bengals in NFL draft

by John Humenik

NEW YORK—Jeff Christensen, one of the nation's top-10 college quarterbacks, became Eastern's second highest National Football League draftee Tuesday.

Christensen, who holds 12 Eastern and eight conference passing records, was the Cincinnati Bengals' fifth-round selection during the 1983 NFL college draft at the New York Sheraton Hotel.

In addition, the Panther standout and 1983 Sporting News honorable mention All-American was selected seventh among the nation's top quarterbacks.

"I sat this morning watching the television and I can unambiguously say that the quarterbacks that went ahead of me weren't that much better," Christensen said.

"I was told Cincinnati thought I was one of the four best quarterbacks in the country," he continued. "They told me they wanted me in Cincinnati."

Christensen, who is expected to sign with the Bengals late Sunday or early Monday, follows former Eastern center Ted Petersen as Eastern's top professional recruits.

Petersen was selected in the fourth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers during the 1977 NFL draft. Christensen joins Petersen, Jeff Gossett (Kansas City) and Kevin Gray (New Orleans) in the NFL.

In addition, Bob Norris, a 1982 All-American and Christensen teammate, was selected by Tampa Bay in January during the United States Football League college draft.

Christensen, who rates as Eastern's finest quarterback, was ranked eighth among quarterbacks going into Tuesday's draft. The former Panther said he was told to expect a possible third or at least a fourth-round selection.

"They (Cincinnati) told me there was a good possibility that they would select me anywhere after the second round, so I just waited by the phone," Christensen said.

However, Christensen was passed up in both rounds because Cincinnati officials said they needed to add depth in other areas before landing the 22-year-old Gibson City native.

"When the fourth round ended, I wasn't really disappointed, but rather let down," Christensen said. "I decided to leave the house and head up town."

"When I came back home, my parents told me where I was selected," Christensen added. "My situation could be a lot better, but then again it could be much worse."

Christensen said he was contacted throughout the season and this week by the Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles Rams, Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the New York Jets in addition to the Bengals.

"Cincinnati expressed the most interest in me, but Green Bay as much as told me they were going with me if I was left," Christensen said. "The Jets even flew me out to New York."

The Panther quarterback led Eastern to an 11-1-1 record last season and guided the Panthers to their third post-season playoff tournament.

Christensen, who holds the Eastern career passing record with 6282 yards, was named the Mid-Continent Conference 'Player of the Week' three times and 'Offensive Player of the Year' last season.

The Panther also holds the record for most passing yards in a game with 409, most touchdown passes in a game, six, and most consecutive passes without an interception at 83.

"I've got no chip on my shoulder following my college career, even though some people didn't believe in me," Christensen said. "I was never really turned loose at Eastern."

"I'm very appreciative of my college honors, but college was just a step for me," he continued. "It's now just a question of time until I

Eastern's baseball team executed a perfect squeeze play in the eighth inning Tuesday to defeat the University of Illinois 3-2 at Monier Field.

With the score deadlocked 2-2, Eastern's Troy Harper and Jeff Yocum hit back-to-back singles to put runners first and third with one out. Enter Tim Torricelli.

Torricelli, the Panther catcher, stepped up to the plate and laid down a perfect squeeze bunt that scored Harper and gave Eastern the victory that boosts its record to 16-9.

"The difference between winning and losing is execution," Eastern head coach Tom McDevitt said. "We are capable of playing that type of ball even when we're hurting from injuries."

Panther pitcher Kevin Gordon, 2-2, posted the win for Eastern as he relieved starter Dave McWhorter in the seventh inning.

"We had excellent pitching all around," McDevitt said. "McWhorter pitched a super ballgame. I couldn't ask for a better effort. And Gordon came in and did a fine job."

The Panther victory avenges a loss to the Illini April 12 in Champaign. Illinois' hurler Tony Leonardi took the loss as the Illini fell to 19-18 on the season.

Illinois took the early 1-0 lead in the second frame when the Illini's Doug Jones singled to right, advanced to second on a ground out and eventually scored on Rob Pullen's double to right field.

However, the Panthers fought back in the fifth inning when Bob Schlechte reached first base on an error.

Kevin Smith moved Schlechte to second with a sacrifice and Steve Hall followed with a walk. Later, Brian Jones advanced both runners on a ground-out to short.

Kevin Seitzer, who leads Eastern at the plate with a .415 average entering Tuesday's game, followed with a two-out triple to left field scoring Schlechte

Eastern's Nancy Kassebaum successfully steals second base Tuesday during the Panthers' 8-1 victory over Illinois State University in the first game of a twinbill. However, the Panthers fell to the Redbirds 5-1 in the nightcap. (News photo by Mike Schroeder)

Softballers split with ISU

Kathy Leahy

Eastern's softball team split its double-header with Illinois State Tuesday at the women's softball field, but the Panthers were dealt a major setback when two Panther starting pitchers were injured.

All-American Kathy Richards and Sandy Muskopf both suffered injuries during Tuesday's twinbill, leaving Eastern with one starting pitcher.

"Losing two pitchers is a blow for us and it is possible that Donna (Ridgway) would be pitching Tuesday," Eastern head coach Dean D'Abbraccio said. "But chances are very good that at least Sandy will be back before then."

Richards, who started the first game, was pulled from the contest after aggravating an upper-arm injury she suffered during Sunday's contest against DePaul.

"Kathy aggravated the injury she had Sunday. She looked like she was in pain so I pulled her," D'Abbraccio said.

"As of now we are not sure how bad Kathy's arm is," D'Abbraccio added. "We will just have to wait and see."

Muskopf injured her throwing hand while batting in the nightcap. She had pitched three and two-thirds innings.

"Sandy has three swollen fingers on her pitching hand," D'Abbraccio said. "We will know tomorrow how serious it is, but I think she will be okay."

Despite the injuries, Eastern had no trouble handling the visiting Redbirds in the first game and notched an 8-1 victory, but the Panthers struggled in the nightcap and lost 5-1.

"We played our best games of the season defensively, especially in the first game," D'Abbraccio said. "I thought we played very well as a team."

"We just got behind in the second game and couldn't catch up," D'Abbraccio added. "I did think we put up a nice effort, but we just fell short."

In the first contest, Eastern opened the scoring when Nancy Kassebaum, who led off with a walk, scored on an infield hit by Mary Tiegs to give the Panthers a 1-0 lead after one inning of play.

The Panthers, 16-8, continued to hit well as Eastern increased its advantage to 5-0 in the third frame on three hits and two Redbird errors.

Sharon Cizek led off the inning for the Panthers with an infield hit and advanced to second on an error which put Lori Conine on first.

Kassebaum followed with a single to load the bases and Cizek and Conine eventually scored on an error by Illinois State catcher Kris Rau.

Kassebaum later stole second base and moved to third, while Tiegs reached first on a fielders choice. Kassebaum then scored and Tiegs went to third on a Kathy Trnka single.

Tiegs eventually scored on a passed ball to give Eastern a 5-0 advantage.

Illinois State, 12-13, scored its lone run in the fourth inning when Denise Sarna reached base on an error by Kassebaum and crossed the plate on a single by Kim Mecum.

Eastern added a pair of runs in the fifth frame and scored a lone run in the sixth inning to end the scoring in the first contest.

Ridgway earned the win to lift her record to 7-3 and lowered her ERA to 1.13. Freshman Diane Broadwater took the loss for the Redbirds.

Eastern's Muskopf, 1-2, took the loss for the Panthers in the nightcap, while Illinois State's Lynn Thompson, 5-6, notched the victory.

"Donna did a great job coming into both games to pitch in relief," D'Abbraccio said.

In the second contest, Illinois State scored all of its runs in the fourth inning on five hits and one error.

Eastern appeared to be threatening in the fifth inning when Fran Stalter and Conine reached base on consecutive singles. But Ridgway flew out to left field and Stalter was caught off second base to end the inning with a double-play.

Padres defeat Cubs, 10-8

CHICAGO (AP)—Terry Kennedy, Steve Garvey and Tim Flannery hit three runs, pacing a 17-hit attack that powered the San Diego Padres to a 10-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

Kennedy and Garvey tagged consecutive seventh-inning shots, and John Montefusco, 2-1, won it as Luis Leon earned his second save. reliever Craig Lefferts, 0-1, took the loss.

Both teams scored in the first inning. San Diego on consecutive doubles by Gene Richards and Juan Bonilla and the Cubs on Gary Woods' second home run of the season.

Sixto Lezcano's RBI-single in the third and Flannery's first major-league home run in the fourth gave the Padres a 3-1 lead.

get the breaks.”

Christensen said he believes former Eastern offensive coordinator Chuck Dickerson, who is now at the University of Minnesota, helped him the most in landing Tuesday’s NFL selection.

“Dickerson helped me out a lot, but he couldn’t do it by himself,” Christensen said.

Christensen said he will leave Charleston Thursday to meet with Cincinnati officials Friday. He said practices with the team will be conducted through Sunday.

and Hall to give the Panthers a 2-1 edge.

Seitzer was injured on the play as he pulled a hamstring muscle when he rounded second base. McDevitt said, “The injury to Seitzer really hurts us.”

Illinois answered with a lone tally in the sixth frame to knot the score at 2-2 when the Illini’s Brian White led off with a double and eventually scored on a Joe Olker single to center field.

Neither squad was able to get anything going offensively until the eighth inning when Illinois loaded the bases with two out, but a fine play by third baseman Harper, filling in for the injured Sietzer, ended the Illini threat.

“Harper was a third baseman in high school,” McDevitt said. “And he did a good job there for us today. If Sietzer can’t play tomorrow he will play third for us.”

The Panthers will battle SIU-Carbondale in a double-header 1 p.m. at Monier Field.

McDevitt said the Salukis do not have as much talent this year as it has enjoyed in the past, but added the Carbondale coach, Richard “Izzy” Jones, would field an excellent team.

Elway rejects Colts, may play baseball

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Colts, unable to strike the right deal for the No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft, gambled and apparently lost when they picked Stanford quarterback John Elway. Just as they they turned down trades, Elway turned down the Colts.

Elway, a pure dropback passer who was called the biggest quarterback prize since Joe Namath, said he would forgo football for a baseball career with the New York Yankees unless the Colts trade him to a West Coast team in the next few days.

“As I stand here now, it’s going to be baseball,” the 6-foot-2 All-American told a news conferece in San Jose, Calif. “I haven’t ruled out football yet, but I’m a lot closer to baseball than I was before.”

The Colts, however, insisted they did not draft Elway just to trade him elsewhere.

Elway told the Colts before the draft he didn’t want to play for them and he left no doubt Tuesday in talking with Baltimore Coach Frank Kush that he would not change his mind.
