New, faster computer to save students time

by Audrey B. Dumentat
Daily Eastern News Correspondent

CHICAGO—Eastern students' computer programming may take less time in the future due to the approval of a new computer system.

The $798,000 purchase of a Waterloo Interactive Data Job Entry Terminal system was approved Thursday by the Board of Governors, Eastern's controlling board, at its monthly meeting.

The WIDJET system, which should be available for use at Eastern next fall, provides the operator with results of his program immediately, George Miller, Eastern vice president for administration and finance, said.

The WIDJET also performs an editing function which notifies the operator of errors in his program, Miller said.

The WIDJET will insure that an Eastern student in a computer course will be "prepared on current equipment," Miller said.

Because computer technology is rapidly expanding, Eastern's current punch-card programming system is already out-of-date, Miller said.

With the addition of the WIDJET system, Eastern's punch-card system will be gradually eliminated over the next four years, Miller said.

Under the present system, a program is punched out on computer cards, which are then run through a computer for testing.

Miller also said the WIDJET will be less expensive in the long run, because the cost of punch cards can be eliminated and additional personnel need not be hired to help with program processing.

In other business, BOG members postponed approval of a proposed charter flight to transport Eastern's football team to a game in Akron, Ohio next fall.

In support of the proposal, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin said although the flight is expensive, it would prevent additional hotel and food expenses because it would eliminate the need for the team to remain in Akron overnight.

However, BOG members said they felt alternative transportation, such as chartered buses, should be investigated before a decision could be reached on the proposal.

Also at the meeting, BOG members approved a request to award historian Arthur S. Link with an honorary degree at Eastern's spring commencement ceremonies.

Marvin said the proposal to present Link with the Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters "has my wholehearted and enthusiastic support."

Link has authored about 20 books on American history and has twice received the Bancroft prize for historical writing. In addition, Link is one of the most well-known authorities on President Woodrow Wilson, Marvin said.

In other action, the BOG approved Marvin's $817,000 request to reroof the University Apartments north building, Andrews Hall and the north wing of Carman Hall.

The BOG trustees also approved requested funds for the purchase of two new university automobiles and for the lease of building space for the Peace Meal Senior Nutrition Program.

Commission debates issues

by Gene O'Shea

Questions of retail store size and whether package liquor should be sold cold or warm were discussed at a recent Charleston Liquor Control Advisory Commission meeting.

Eastern Student Senate representatives, store officials and residents discussed both sides of the issues.

Charleston City Planner Larry Stoever recommended that only warm liquor be sold in retail stores in a fact-finding report developed from the results of a recent package liquor sales survey.

Richard Rounds, district manager of Osco Inc., called the recommendation "prejudicial." He said if the restriction applied to drug and/or grocery stores, it should also apply to other retail outlets, specifically liquor stores.

He said if warm liquor sales had been a question, it should have been included in the survey concerning retail package liquor sales which was recently circulated among Charleston residents.

Student Body President Terry Teele agreed with Rounds.

"I feel it would be a greater service to students if liquor was served cold," Teele said. "The students would prefer it cold."

Another question raised at the meeting dealt with the sizes of retail stores which could be allowed to sell liquor.

Stoever said a retail store should have 15,000 square feet before being granted a liquor license. Ten percent of the store size then could be devoted to liquor sales, he said.

Larry Quinlan, owner of Family Pharmacy, which has 7,200 square feet, expressed opposition to Stoever's store size proposal.

"I find the placing of size responsibilities restrictive," Quinlan said.

"This obviously would not allow any free-standing drug store the opportunity of having a liquor license," Quinlan added.

Joe Ethries, Wilb Walker manager, said, "It seems to me to be a real injustice in the appropriation of space. Osco could have a liquor department the whole size of Family Pharmacy."

In addition to the warm-cold and store-size questions, individuals also voiced their opinions on the possibility of more stores selling liquor.

Wesley United Methodist Church Rev. John McFarland said he is concerned that underage drinking will increase if retail stores are allowed to sell package liquor.

"I'm not a prohibitionist," McFarland said, "but liquor use spills over to abuse rather easily. Greater availability of liquor will not help the problem."

"If it's determined that the presence of new licenses work against the quality of life in Charleston, what's the backout procedure?" McFarland asked.

However, Tony Parascandola, student body executive vice president, said, "We're not here to argue the moral issues, but the issue of the sale of a product at a lower price."

Student Senator Phil Montgomery said the availability of liquor will not increase underage drinking if the 21-year-old drinking age law is enforced. He added that the retail sale of package liquor is an economic issue.

Primary results please students

by H.E. Meeker

Eastern students from Chicago interviewed recently said they were pleased that Harold Washington won last Tuesday's Chicago Democratic primary and also think he has an excellent chance of becoming the city's first black mayor.

Two students said they believe the split of votes between incumbent Jane Byrne and Cook County State's Attorney Richard M. Daley contributed to the surprise victory.

Tinki Delaney, sophomore criminal justice and Afro American studies major and Black Student Union secretary, said Washington won because support was split between Daley and Byrne and also because "people were tired of Jane Byrne."

Delaney accused Byrne of waiting until the last minute of the campaign to gain blacks' votes. She said blacks were hired to serve on city boards just "to show Byrne was doing something for the black community."

Ronald Holt, senior speech communications major, said Washington's candidacy was another factor in bringing forth massive support from the blacks of Chicago.

"The fact that a man like Harold Washington was running for mayor prompted many people to

Spaniards protest U.S. bases

ZARAGOZA, Spain—Thousands of people shouting anti-American slogans marched through the streets of this northeastern city Sunday, demanding that the United States dismantle its nearby air base.

"Bases no! Yankees out!" the crowd chanted during the 90-minute demonstration organized by a group called For Peace and Disarmament.

Organizers said about 25,000 people jammed the streets, but municipal police said about 20,000 attended. No violence or arrests were reported.

Lower deficit voted by governors

WASHINGTON—A resolution urging President Reagan and Congress to consider tax increases and defense cuts to reduce deficits won preliminary approval Sunday from the nation's governors, but not without some partisan misgivings.

The executive committee of the National Governors' Association approved the resolution by a vote of 7-1.

It contained a six-part program designed to cut the projected 1988 budget deficit from $267 billion to $90 billion.

Junta tightens control of schools

MANAGUA, Nicaragua—The leftist government says it will tighten controls over Nicaraguan schools to promote "values and principles of the revolution."

Sergie Ramirez Mercado, a member of the ruling junta, announced the government's decision Saturday. He said the new educational approach would be politically oriented, emphasizing "anti-imperialist and popular values."

Ramirez Mercado said all schools, about a dozen of them Roman Catholic, would be covered by the government program.

OPEC members fear 'price war'

KUWAIT (AP)—A top member of Parliament said Sunday that OPEC's official $34-a-barrel base price for oil is unsound and could plunge to $20 a barrel, the newspaper Al-Watan reported.

"The belief that the present benchmark can be defended is mistaken and unsound," Jassem al-Khorafi, head of Parliament's Economic and Financial Affairs Committee, was quoted as saying.

He sharply criticized the Arab states on the Persian Gulf for their "leniency toward OPEC outlaws who have been trying to further the interests of their countries violations of OPEC's prices and production quotas."

He attributed OPEC member states' inability to defend current prices to a substantial drop in demand for oil by industrialized countries, and the success of consumer nations in developing alternatives and energy conservation measures.

"If we are now hesitating to slash our prices by $3 to $4 a barrel, I am afraid a day which is not too far will come when we will be obliged to cut prices to as low as $20 per barrel," he said.

He said the gulf Arab states, expected to meet in Geneva or Vienna next week with other members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, "will make their own moves and would not be defeated in a price war that is imposed on us."

The oil minister of the United Arab Emirates, Mana Saeed Oteiba, has warned that an all-out price war could erupt "within a week," unless OPEC agrees to cut the base price to at least $30 to remain competitive with Nigeria and North Sea producers who slashed their prices less than two weeks ago.

Oteiba met in Abu Dhabi on Sunday with Venezuelan Oil Minister Humberte Calderon Berti, who later left for Paris for a new round of meetings with other OPEC members. Bahrain's minister of industry, Yousef al-Shirawi, flew to Riyadh, meanwhile, for talks with Saudi Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani.

Fans say goodbye to M*A*S*H

In taverns and armories, fraternity houses and blood banks, Americans coast to coast are dressing up in Army fatigues to bid a last farewell to Hawkeye, Hot Lips and the whole beloved gang of TV's M*A*S*H.

"Hawkeye martinis" will be poured from a still at the Nugget Casino in Nevada during Monday night's broadcast of the final show from the environs of the 4077th Mobile Army Surgical Hospital.

A Providence, R.I., radio station will be serving vodka in intravenous bottles to about 300 winners of a "M*A*S*H" trivia contest.

And Hawkeye, Klinger and Hot Lips 'look-alike contests and waitresses in surgical masks are on tap at dozens of saloons where the 2 1/2-hour season finale on CBS is expected to play full houses.

At Fordham University in New York City, students are throwing a farewell bash in dormitory Suite E-6—the room occupied by Alan Alda, "M*A*S*H's" Hawkeye, when he was a student there 27 years ago.

RHA delays designation

by Scott Apland

The Residence Hall Association Thursday delayed action on a plan to designate the ninth floor in Stevenson Tower a study floor for students who maintain a high grade point average.

The proposal recommends that a 24-hour study floor housing 48 students who carry at least a 3.5 GPA be established in Stevenson. But, if not enough applicants meet the 3.5 GPA requirement, the requirement could be lowered to 3.3.

All 24 hours each day would be "courtesy hours" on the floor with noise to be kept to a minimum. One "noisy hour" will be set aside from 23 "quiet hours."

Director of Housing Lou Hencken said a similar program was implemented in Andrews and Ford halls about five years ago.

The program failed after four years because not enough students were interested to fill the 60-student maximum capacity on Andrews' ninth floor and the 40-student capacity on Ford's second floor, he added.

Stevenson resident Alan Scherer, who made the proposal, said the program would be primarily aimed at honor students who are dissatisfied with the study atmosphere in residence halls.

"The program would benefit good students who are having trouble, but desire studying in the dorm," Scherer said.

"The students who would be most interested in this program would be very conscious of the importance of a good GPA and would like to improve theirs," he added.

Hencken said this program should not be confused with the current honors program which houses students in Ford Hall.

Ford Hall residents who are enrolled in Eastern's honors program can live on a floor with rules similar to those in Scherer's proposal.

Students reprimanded for TAC damage

by Douglas Backstrom

Eastern's Judicial Board is seeking restitution from two students who drove over a Tarble Arts Center direction sign Feb. 19.

Keith Kohanzo, university judicial hearing officer, said the students appeared before the judicial board Thursday and were reprimanded for the demolition of the sign, which was located at the corner of Seventh Street and Hayes Avenue.

Kohanzo would not release the students' names.

The amount of restitution will be decided at a future judicial board hearing which has not yet been scheduled, he said.

"The students were given a university reprimand. If they do this or something else again, this incident will come up to the board and from there the board will take an appropriate sanction," he said.

The board also ordered the students to attend an alcohol forum to be sponsored by the Counseling Center, he added.

However, Sgt. Jack Chambers of campus security said, "I don't think the students were under the influence of alcohol."

Several other incidents concerning damage to TAC property have occurred since September.

Art instructor Cary Knoop said he found his sculpture on the TAC lawn turned over on its side two weeks ago, "and it will require extensive repair—possibly a few thousand dollars' worth."

"I'm extremely upset about the whole matter. It's not really easy on a person's ego to see something like this done to your artwork, but I don't take it personally," Knoop added.

Art instructor James Johnson said his sculpture on the lawn had also been vandalized.

"It has been turned over on its side several times. It really upsets me," Johnson said.

Congratulations to blood donors

Eastern's spring blood drive drew 1,862 pints of blood—112 pints over the set quota. To those who gave, or tried to give, congratulations.

To those students who could have given blood but did not—there is no excuse.

Out of the approximately 10,000 students who attend Eastern, about 2,000 took the time, took the initiative and took themselves over to the Union in order to have blood taken out of their arms.

The remaining 80 percent of the student population ignored pleas to give their time and blood.

Why? Was there too much snow on the ground? Or maybe the rain we had all week kept people indoors. Or maybe it was just too nice a day to take an hour out to give blood.

The simple fact is that the entire campus knew there was a blood drive last week. The information was printed in newspapers; it was on the radio; it was posted in the Union, yet the drive was not as successful as it could have been.

Maybe students don't realize how many thousands of pints of blood are given to desperately needy people in hospitals all over the country every day.

Maybe the thought of a close friend, relative or even yourself needing blood is hard to imagine in the midst of classes, playing frisbee and going to the bars.

Or maybe the people who chose not to give blood just didn't care enough.

Last week, for whatever reason, about 2,000 people cared enough about themselves and others to give blood and about 8,000 decided giving blood was a worthless occupation—a waste of time.

To some people, the slogan "give the gift of life" may sound corny, even stupid.

Yet, those people who either attempted to or actually did give blood know it's not stupid. And the people who didn't give blood may some day find their lives depending on those intelligent and selfless individuals who donated their time and blood.

Your turn

Homosexuality is sinful

Editor:

Isn't it time that gays realize that homosexuality is not an illness or a disease or something you are born with but is an actual sin brought on by your own free will?

As Christians we base all things on the word of the living God. We are not writing this letter to ridicule or to harass, but because we feel the truth must be stated concerning this matter.

So we turn to God and listen to what He says. In I Corinthians 6:9-10, He says, "Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor male prostitutes, nor homosexual offenders, nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God."

God clearly states in His word that homosexuality is sin and must be forbidden. He hates and despises the act of homosexuality.

In the book of Genesis, the Bible says that God created Adam and then He created Eve, to be Adam's partner. This is God's perfect plan: that a man be united with a woman, not a man united with a man.

He also says in Leviticus 20:13, "If a man lies with a man as one lies with a woman, both of them have done what is detestable. They must be put to death; their blood will be on their own heads."

God has shown in His word that homosexuality is sin and must be forbidden, but He has also given a solution to the problem. God loves the person, but hates the act, so much so that He sent His son to die on the cross for all people.

And it is through Jesus Christ that one can become a new person and inherit eternal life. The decision is yours—accept Jesus or reject him.

Pray for homosexuals

Editor:

I do not consider myself a bigot, but I would like to set something straight on the controversy of gays.

The Word of God, the Bible states, "Homosexuality is absolutely forbidden, for it is an enormous sin." Leviticus 18:22. I am not talking about religion or church, just clearly stating God's words.

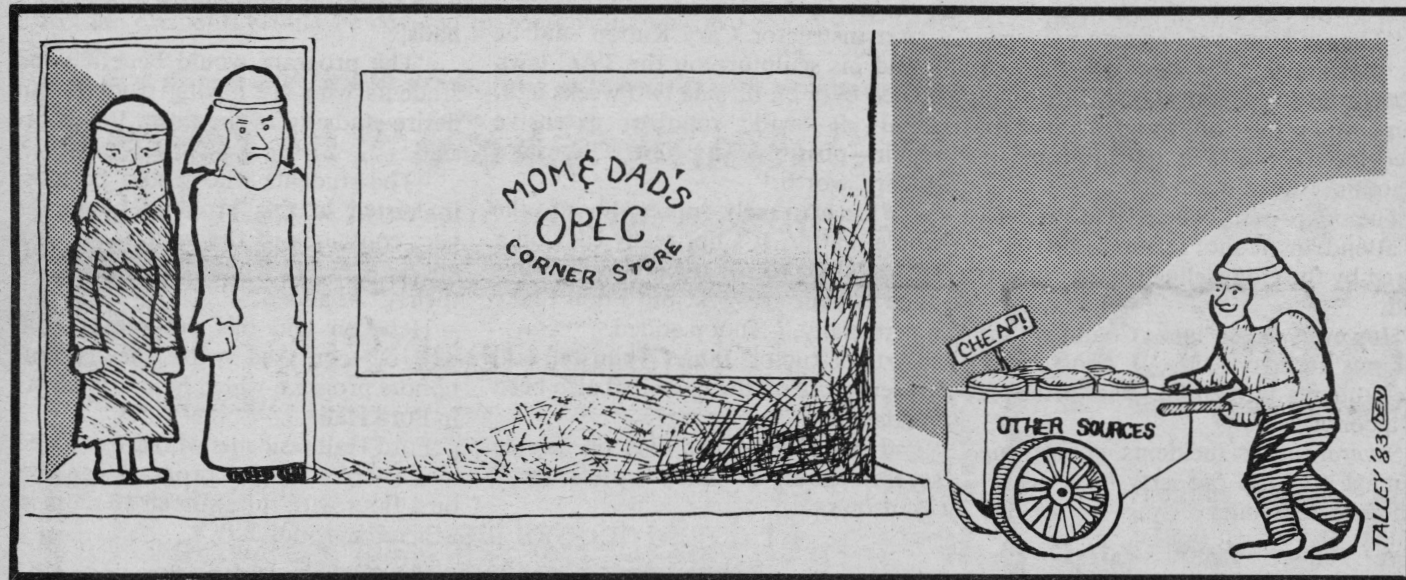

There are arguments among psychologists on the subject of homosexuality which is only theory. When taking this as clearly as God has put it, there is no argument.

I have seen homosexuals who gave their lives to the Lord and are now living heterosexual lives. The Lord has healed them.

Could it be that the reason many students hate the gays is because of the deep-rooted knowledge that being gay is against God and his will?

Homosexuality should be hated and not the individual. Instead of poking fun and threatening gays, we should be praying for them.

Monty and Debbie Stubblefield

Don't throw stones for misspelled words

When will people realize that The Daily Eastern News is not the Chicago Tribune, and therefore should not be judged by the same standards?

I hear you snickering. But it's true; practically everyone on campus seizes any opportunity to condemn or ridicule the News without considering that it is produced by a bunch of students who aren't working for a commercial newspaper like the Tribune.

Take, for instance, the letter which appeared in the Feb. 24 paper which took us to task for what is seen as the lack of proofreading here at the News.

First, put yourself in our shoes. Most of the reporters here carry a full load of classes and are either freshmen or sophomores, not full-time, paid, professional journalists who have already earned a degree.

Have you ever heard of a laboratory training tool? That is what the News is—a means to prepare future journalists. We are not immune from error; we are learning as we go along. Gee, isn't that what attending college is all about?

However, that is not to say that just because we are young greenhorns we should be excused for our mistakes. We shouldn't.

It hurts when a mistake—either in fact, construction or whatever—appears in the final printed version of the paper.

But if people considered that we print, on the average, about 10,000 words per issue—that's five times a week—as well as performing whatever other collegiate duties we are expected to perform, they might be a little more empathetic when there are five or six errors in the entire finished product.

Another factor to consider is the time frame involved in the production of the paper each day. It would be enlightening if every person who has ever criticized the News followed one day's production and saw the enormous amount of work involved in putting out a daily paper.

News notes:

Marc Pacatte

Eastern, by the way, is one of only two public universities of its size in the nation that prints a daily paper.

And, the News has received the honor rating of All-American from the Associated Collegiate Press every semester since spring semester 1978. Last year, we were regional finalists in competition for the ACP's national Pacemaker Award—which is presented to only five papers each year.

So, if people are so concerned about spelling and grammatical errors appearing in the News, they can consider this an open invitation to come into the newsroom any night—Sunday through Thursday—and participate in a thing we call "copy desk," which is open to all students, and catch errors that were missed when stories were edited.

At this time I would like to point out that the author of the 87-word letter titled "No fooling on spelling" misspelled the closing "Your's truely" (probably on purpose) and used "punction" in the original letter.

We looked up "punction" in the dictionary and found that it is not even a word. So we decided that he meant "punctuation"—a logical choice in a letter concerned with proofreading. The News corrected his version before printing the letter.

It is interesting to note that in the editorial which ran along side that letter, none of the 390 words were misspelled.

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

UB budget nears approval

by Gary Bray

The Apportionment Board continued its deliberations Thursday concerning the fiscal year 1984 University Board budget, which was brought nearer to finalization.

The AB plans to continue studying the summer programming portion of the UB budget to determine how much money should be spent on UB summer activities, Financial Vice President John Cole said.

Cole instructed UB Chairman Steve Jones to increase the amount of money to be spent and number of activities to be offered in the UB's proposed summer programming budget.

Cole said the AB will vote on passage of the entire UB budget after the summer programming budget is finalized.

The Apportionment Board also discussed the human potential portion of the UB budget, which the AB tabled at its last meeting.

Cole said the Human Potential budget was tabled due to a need to study the possible incorporation of Human Potential with other UB committees.

Union Area Head Bill Clark presented a study completed in 1979 showing the need for a Human Potential committee on the UB. The study concluded that the Human Potential committee should be kept and other committees should add minority programs to their existing ones, Clark said.

In other business, Cole said he will be sending a memo to all AB-funded boards requesting them to submit travel reports to the AB after any trips taken to conferences.

Cole said his request was prompted by AB faculty member Paul Melcon, who asked the board to enforce a bylaw which states that all boards the AB governs must submit a travel report on any trips taken.

Melcon also suggested that any board whose members have taken a trip and did not submit a report be asked to do so.

Cole said the reports would help the Apportionment Board determine whether each trip was necessary and how much each board is helped by attending conferences.

Black History Month ends today

Unity Day, which marks the end of Black History Month, will be celebrated Monday by many students and faculty.

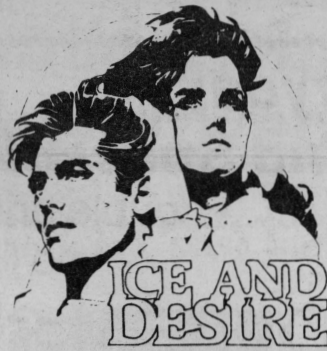

Black Student Union President Mosea Harris said Unity Day will be marked by a short tribute to black heritage at an informal gathering.

The gathering will be from 11:45 a.m. to 12:55 p.m. Monday on the Library Quad. Harris said people participating in the event will be singing songs and reflecting on the past month. Eastern's observance of Black History Month will end Monday night with a presentation by members of the BSU.

Poems, readings of black literature and skits about black heritage depicting black figures of the past will be performed. The tribute will begin at 7 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom.

Harris said everyone is welcome to attend the events.

TAC receives doll collection

A doll collection including the likenesses of several black historical figures currently is on display at the Tarble Arts Center.

Historical figures represented in the collection include George Washington Carver, Fredrick Douglas, Harriet Tubman and Crispus Attacks.

TAC director Don Carmichael said he assumes the dolls are part of a limited collection.

"The authenticity and likeness of character resemblance (in the dolls) adds to the validity of the collection," he said.

After the exhibit, Carmichael said, the collection will become a part of TAC's permanent art collection.

The dolls will be displayed Feb. 27 through March 10.

New student publications editors in chief approved

by Debbie Coventry

The Publications Board selected next year's Student Publications editors in chief and approved an equipment acquisition Wednesday.

The board selected senior Erin Donohue as The Summer Eastern News editor in chief and junior Steve Binder as editor in chief of The Daily Eastern News. Binder will assume editor-in-chief duties April 3.

The board also named three co-editors in chief for the Warbler. Warbler co-editors are junior Matt Krasnowski, junior Hart Gately, and freshman David McKinney.

Krasnowski will be in charge of the editorial content of the yearbook, Gately will handle detailed projects and McKinney will oversee production.

Also, the board approved a equipment acquisition request made by Student Publications Advisor David Reed for an electric forklift with a roll clamp.

Reed said a new forklift is needed for safety reasons. Currently, the News uses a gas-operated forklift which produces exhaust in the press room.

Board members also discussed but did not approve funding for several other equipment requests.

The board heard recommendations for the purchase of a phototypesetter and an air conditioner for the student publications composing room.

Reed said each piece of equipment would cost approximately $10,000. He noted air conditioning for the composing room would reduce equipment malfunctions.

The board also discussed purchasing two additional video display terminals at a cost of approximately $8,000 each, and a small business computer. The computer would be used by the Student Publications business department for payroll and advertising billing.

In other business, the board heard reports from Warbler editor in chief Becky Corzilius and News editor in chief Lola Burnham.

Corzilius said 6,750 copies of the Warbler have been ordered, and that more than 4,000 Eastern students reserved a copy.

to register and vote for him," Holt explained.

Holt said Washington has "a pretty good chance to win either way it goes," in the April election.

However, Gerald Narvarro, sophomore computer management major, said many Chicagoans, Democratic or not, will not vote for Washington because he is black.

"I'm concerned that Chicago may go Republican. I'm not racist, but I was shocked by it (Washington's victory). There are a lot of people out there who don't want to see a black mayor in Chicago," Narvarro said.

Bob Vuko, sophomore general education major, said he did not think the race issue will make a difference in April. He said that during the 1979 mayoral campaign, many people thought Jayne Byrne would lose votes simply because of her sex.

"It's not going to make much difference whether he's a black man or not. Washington is a Democrat and he will be supported," Vuko concluded.

Holt said it will be important for Washington to take care of all groups in Chicago.

ARE YOU SMART ENOUGH TO SAVE YOUR PARENTS THE COST OF COLLEGE?

Are You Smart Enough...

You might be, if you're a freshman and decide to try for an Army ROTC 3 year scholarship. You don't even have to be in ROTC. The scholarships will pay for tuition, academic fees, books, supplies, and provide you with $1000 a year. Many of these scholarships have been "reserved" for students in scientific or technical disciplines. Besides your grades, we'll consider your extra-curricular, leadership, and athletic activities. When you graduate, we'll make you an Army Officer.

Why not see if you can win one? Seven Eastern students have already. The application period is from now until April 4th.

For more information about how to avoid becoming a financial burden during your college years, stop by the ROTC office at Room 310, Applied Arts, or call CPT John Napier at 581-5944.

Edinger, tracksters post top weekend...

by Mike Lynch
Eastern distance runner Perry Edinger had failed to run what his coach Neil Moore termed "a great indoor race" this season. However, Saturday the senior did exactly that.

Edinger's first-place finish in the three-mile run at the prestigious Illini Classic capped what Moore said was a top weekend for his squad.

"Looking at the performances, I feel much better this weekend than I have in the past few weekends," Moore said.

In addition to Edinger's championship, the Panthers had two other place efforts at Saturday's classic.

The distant medley relay team of Rex Armstrong, Mike Erney, Merrill Kaney and Tim Warneke posted a time of 10:24.96 to finish third.

In addition, the two-mile relay team of Paul West, Drew Geisler, Gary Hudson, and Dave Houston took fourth place with a time of 7:40.67.

The Panther mentor cited efforts from Saturday's Illini Classic and Friday's Eastern Open Invitational.

"Friday night's meet was more of a developmental meet and I think some of the people we were curious about showed development," Moore noted.

"I think the meet was important because we are going to need people developing if we're going to have a team with depth," he added.

Dan Matas led the Panthers Friday night, using a throw of 50-foot 11-inches to win the shot-put competition.

Moore noted the second-place finishes of Cornell Wilson, Nick Whiteside and the two-mile relay team as being impressive.

Wilson finished second in what was technically an all-Eastern final in the 60-meter high hurdles.

Whiteside, who was running in his first meet of the season following a dislocated shoulder, used a time of 14.36 to capture second in the three-mile run.

...as women place fourth in conference

by Mike Lynch
Eastern's womens' track team concluded its indoor season Saturday by placing fourth in the 10-team Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference Championships at Lantz Fieldhouse.

Illinois State captured the overall title with 104 points, while Wichita State (101) and Western Illinois (75½) followed in second and third places. Eastern finished with 64 points.

The Panthers were led by Margaret Smith, who posted the only Eastern first-place finish. Smith's time of 2:26.38 in the 1,000-yard run earned her the conference title and marked a new school record.

In addition, Eastern received second-place efforts from Gail Stephens, Sonya Brown, and Gina Sperry.

Stephens finished second in both the 440-yard dash (56.43) and the 300-yard dash (35.61). Her time of 56.43 in the 440 yards set another Eastern mark.

Brown placed second in the 60-yard dash with a time of 7.13. Earlier in the meet, she set an Eastern record by posting a 7.03 time in the 60-yard trials.

Sperry captured second in the three-mile run with a time of 16.25. The Panther senior also took fourth in the two-mile run with a time of 10:43.21.

Barbro Hines and Renee Johnson closed out the individual scoring for the Panthers. Hines took third place in the high jump with a leap of 5-7¼, while Johnson's time of 1:25.8 in the 600-yard run earned her fourth place.

Eastern senior Ricki Rousey notched two school records—one in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:02 and another in the 200-yard backstroke with a time of 2:09.6. Rousey's effort placed her second in the 200-yard backstroke.

Sophomore Jamie Pistorio set a new Eastern mark in the 400-yard individual medley with a time of 4:54.2.

The Eastern 800-yard freestyle medley team of Rousey, Pistorio, junior Tammy Baker and sophomore Debbie Kroenig combined to set the final Panther record in 8:09.4.

In addition, Eastern sophomore Karen Atkinson finished second in the one-meter diving event and third in the three-meter diving competition.

"We had a lot of people who had their best swims ever," Eastern head coach Ray Padovan said. "It gave us a chance to see where we stack up against everyone else."

Lanter nets 24 points as women cagers down Dayton

by Kathy Leahy

DAYTON, Ohio—Kathy Lanter pumped in 24 points Saturday to lead Eastern's women cagers to a 72-65 decision over nationally ranked University of Dayton.

"Kathy had another remarkable game," Eastern head coach Bobbie Hilke said. "She always comes through for us in key situations."

Lanter and her teammates now turn their attention to Monday's Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference clash with Indiana State at 5:15 p.m. at Lantz Gym.

Following Monday's contest,

Eastern (20-6) will open tournament play Saturday against Wichita State in Wichita, Kan.

Eastern received the conference's fifth seed Sunday, while Illinois State and Drake University notched the top two seeds, respectively. Southern Illinois-Carbondale and Wichita State round out the top four teams.

Saturday's Panther win over Dayton marked guard Nancy Kassebaum's second game since she was sidelined Jan. 20 with a knee injury.

Kassebaum chipped in 16 points, had eight assists and pulled down seven rebounds against Dayton.

"Nancy is doing a great job now that she has returned to the lineup," Hilke said. "She is the only one who knows when to give the ball up and when to go with it."

Donna Burks, who poured in 17 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, led Dayton. Burks was averaging almost 23 points a game entering Saturday's contest.

"Burks is a good player. To score 17 points is quite an effort, but for us to be able to hold a player like her to only that is an accomplishment," Hilke said.

Hilke said she was a bit concerned with the size advantage Dayton, the 11th ranked team in NCAA Division II, had going into Saturday's game.

"Dayton is a big and very physical team inside," Hilke added.

Three Eastern wrestlers grab regional titles

by Rhea Nall

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa—Jeff Dillman, Mark Granowski and Derek Porter won regional championships Sunday and paced Eastern to a fourth-place finish in the NCAA Division I regionals at the University of Northern Iowa.

Eastern's three regional champions now advance to the national finals March 10-12 in Oklahoma City, while Eastern concludes its second Division I season.

Louisiana State captured the overall 16-team title, while the University of Northern Iowa and California State Poly University rounded out the regional's top three teams.

Consequently, Eastern has a chance to send Dennis McCormick, who placed fourth at 177 pounds, to the national meet if the Panther receive a wild-card bid. Wild-card bids are voted and awarded by the coaches.

In the regional finals, Derek Porter (126 pounds) was the first Panther to advance to the national finals by defeating Randy Majors of Northern Iowa 5-2.

Granowski (167 pounds) followed Porter by defeating Mike Jones of Illinois State 17-3 and Dillman (190 pounds) chipped in Eastern's final regional championship. Dillman trounced Northern Iowa's Mark Johnson 12-4.

"They were all really good matches," Eastern head wrestling coach Ron Clinton said. "They dominated their competition and never gave up."

"They really looked great in their finals matches," Clinton continued. "I had a lot of compliments on how aggressive our kids wrestled."

Eastern was the only team Sunday to advance three wrestlers to the final round of competition. Northern Iowa followed the Panthers in that category with two wrestlers in the finals. However, both Purple Panther wrestlers fell to Eastern wrestlers.

McCormick (177 pounds) and heavyweight Duanne Clark were Eastern's only other placers, finishing fourth and fifth respectively.

Dykstra, Western dump Panthers 86-73

by Kirby Flowers

MACOMB—Eastern's basketball team dropped its third straight game Saturday as All-American Joe Dykstra led Western Illinois to an 86-73 conference win over the Panthers.

Dykstra pumped in 37 points, including a 13-for-13 effort at the foul line, to pace the 20-10 Leathernecks to their seventh straight Association of Mid-Century Universities' win.

"Western really played well," Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said, "and Dykstra just played a super game."

"We did not play a disasterously bad game," Samuels continued. "We would have had to play our best game of the year to win."

Kevin Jones, who had a 31-point effort the first time the two clubs met, led Eastern with 18 points. In addition, Doug Crook chipped in 13 points in a losing effort."

The loss drops the 11-16 Panthers to 7-3 in league play and moves Western Illinois into the second spot at 9-3, while Southwest Missouri's win over Northern Iowa Saturday put the Bears in first place at 6-1.

"What it boils down to is that Western is finished (conference schedule)," Samuels said. "And since Southwest beat Northern Iowa, they can split their two remaining conference games and still win the title."

"The best we can do is tie Western and hope that Southwest loses its last two games," Samuels added. "Since we play them (Southwest Missouri) again, we hope to give them a loss."

The Panthers will try to bounce back Monday when Eastern hosts Illinois Institute of Technology at 7:30 p.m. at Lantz Gym.

The game has been dubbed "student appreciation night" and all students with a valid ID will be admitted free.

"They (IIT) have won eight of their last nine games, including a win over NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) ranked Chicago State," Samuels noted. "So they have been playing exceptional basketball as of late."
