Diplomat from Britain fooled by Syrian spy

LONDON (AP)— A newspaper reported Sunday that a undercover Syrian agent worked as a clerk for 20 years in the British Embassy in Damascus and tricked a diplomat there into signing a visa for Nezar Hindawi.

Hindawi was convicted Friday of planting a bomb in luggage his girlfriend tried to bring aboard an Israeli airliner April 17. Britain accused Syria's government of aiding him and broke diplomatic relations.

The Sunday Times said Syrian intelligence placed a Palestinian man in the British Embassy's visa section, and that he persuaded embassy second secretary Anthony Arnold to sign Hindawi's visa "as a matter of routine."

It said the man's role was revealed by a Foreign Office investigative team that went to the British Embassy in Damascus after Hindawi's arrest. The report did not identify its sources.

In Tel Aviv, meanwhile, an Israeli expert on Syria said Hindawi was under orders from Syrian air force intelligence chief Gen. Mohammed El-Khouli to blow up the Israeli El Al plane. El-Khouli reports to Syrian President Hafez Assad.

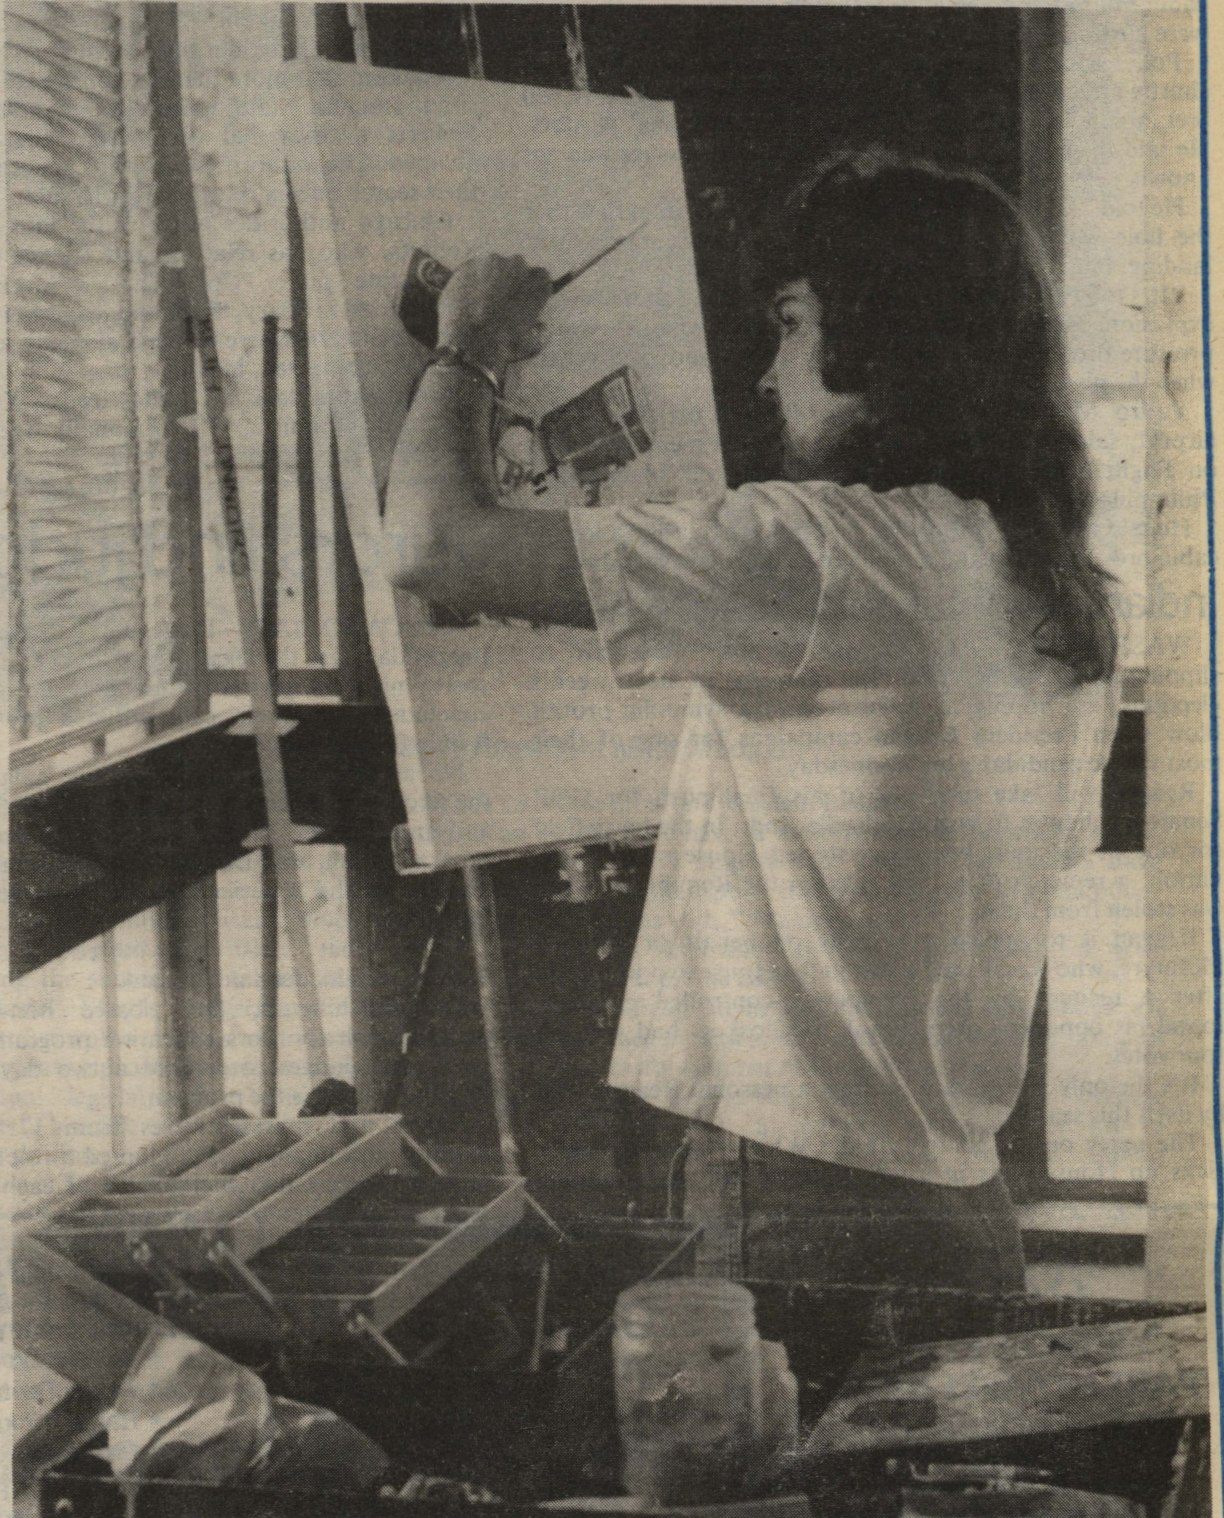

The Israeli expert, Yossi Olmert, spoke on Israel radio and said his information came from evidence supplied to Britain and Hindawi's own testimony. He did not elaborate.

The Sunday Times did not identify the Palestinian clerk who allegedly worked for Syria, but said he was senior assistant in the visa section. It said he was about 50 and had gone to Syria as a child.

After Hindawi was arrested in April, the Palestinian disappeared from his job and many now be in the United States, the newspaper said. When he disappeared, so did the embassy's records of Hindawi's visa applications and those of several Syrians who were given British visas, the paper said.

The British Foreign Office confirmed that the senior assistant and a receptionist quit their jobs at the embassy after Hindawi's arrest, but refused to comment on the circumstances.

British foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe said Friday that Hindawi's visa was obtained under a false name and that his visa applications twice were backed by notes from the Syrian Foreign Ministry.

Computers add to students' lifestyle

CHAMPAIGN (AP)— Male students generally use personal computers more often and for more varied purposes than female students, says a study which also indicates that students' lives are enhanced by the electronic gadgets.

However, male students use computers more for game-playing, and when subtracting such time, women were found to use personal computers more often and for greater lengths of time, the University of Illinois study concluded.

The year-long study, sponsored in part by IBM Corp., also found that students used computers most for writing class papers, with personal correspondence ranking second.

Overall, game-playing accounted for about 8 percent of computer time, although for male students the figure was 16 percent compared to 1 percent for females.

IBM installed $700,000 worth of equipment, including 100 personal computers, color monitors and printers.

Senate plans vote security system to stop fraud in November election

By DOUGLAS BACKSTROM
Government editor

A new security system to prevent students from voting twice will be used in the Nov. 12 student government election.

Eastern's Student Senate has decided to purchase punchers that will put holes in the student IDs of those who have voted.

To avoid any possibility of students voting more than once with several IDs, the senate plans to obtain a list of those students who have received more than one validated IDs for the fall semester. The list will be used to keep track of those who have voted, said Tim Taylor, Elections Committee chairman.

Taylor said that students' names will be crossed off of a list once they have voted. At the end of the day, senators will compare the lists from the four polling locations.

If a student is found guilty of voting in more than one location, the issue will go before the Judicial Board and the student will face a possible fine, Senate Speaker Joe O'Mera said.

In addition, the Student Senate has revised its election process. Revisions include:

- Elections will be held on the second Wednesday in November and the third Wednesday in April.
- Election polls will be open from 7:50 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

- All students who have validated IDs can vote at any one of the following places: Coleman Hall, Lantz Gym, Buzzard Building or the Union.

In other business, the Senate plans to send a recommendation to the Library Advisory Board requesting an additional change machine be installed.

According to the bill, there is one change machine in Booth and it is frequently used.

In addition, the bill states, "the change machine frequently breaks down or runs out of change at night when no one in the library can fix it or make change."

But Patty Butler, who works in purchasing and accounting at Booth, said the library does not have the money to purchase a new change machine.

"They cost about $1,200 and up," she said. Butler added that the Senate is "more than welcome" to purchase a machine from its own funds.

Hole in cabin hurts 63 air travelers

TOKYO—A Thai Airways jetliner lost cabin pressure and began swaying violently after passengers heard a loud bang, and police said a hole three feet in diameter was found in the cabin floor after an emergency landing. They said 63 people were hurt, nine seriously.

Police spokesman Kunio Otsuka said the bang sounded shortly after 8 p.m. as the A-300 Airbus was flying at 33,000 feet, about 145 miles west of Osaka International Airport. He said the cause of the noise and drop in pressure was not known.

He told The Associated Press in a telephone interview that the hole was found in the rear of the cabin floor after landing, but refused to elaborate.

"It's too early to tell," he said when asked if there was an explosion. He said some people were hurt when the cabin pressure dropped and they were tossed around, and others when the plane braked sharply in landing.

Yujiro Miyoshi, a Transport Ministry official at the airport, said 247 people, including 14 crew members, were on Flight 620 from Bangkok to Osaka via Manila, the Philippines.

He said the plane radioed at 8:19 p.m. that it had a loss in cabin pressure and wanted to make an emergency landing.

Indiana hopeful gets Reagan help

WASHINGTON—House Republicans, resigned to slipping even further into the minority in next week's elections, are hoping to strike at least a symbolic protest blow when President Reagan campaigns for one of their most visible candidates on Wednesday.

Reagan will take time out of his final push for GOP Senate candidates to visit Evansville, Ind., in the battlefield for one of the most bitterly contested House races in the nation, a rematch of a 1984 election the Republican's say was stolen from them.

Reagan is to appear at a rally on behalf of Richard McIntyre, who was denied a seat in the House two years ago after a recount by the Democratic-controlled chamber found his opponent, Rep. Frank McCloskey, had won by four votes.

It's the only House race to draw a personal Reagan visit by itself this season.

The party out of control of the White House generally picks up House seats in a year with no national election.

Police search for escaped killer

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP)—Police acknowledged Sunday that the trial of an escaped prison inmate was growing cold, and said they were expanding their search to Chicago and surrounding states for the three-time convicted murderer.

"We haven't got a thing," said State Police Sgt. George Yoakum. "We get an occasional report of a sighting, but there are no real leads."

Yoakum said more than 48 hours had elapsed since Indiana State Prison inmate David J. Roberts overpowered two prison guards and escaped. The authorities were not concentrating their search on any specific area, he said.

Chicago authorities were on the lookout for Roberts, who has relatives and friends in that city, state police Cpl. Charles Merz said. Authorities in Gary, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, and Cincinnati, where Roberts also has relatives also were contacted, he said.

Despite the lack of solid leads, Yoakum remained optimistic. "I personally feel he'll surface before too long," he said.

Roberts, who was serving six life sentences for murder and kidnapping, pulled a handgun on two guards Friday while being returned to the prison at Michigan City after a lung examination at an Indianapolis hospital.

He handcuffed the guards and took their weapons in LaPorte County. The guards Dale C. Frazier and Mario P. Rodriguez, escaped on foot in Hammond while Roberts made a call from a pay telephone, officials said.

Authorities did not know where Roberts, 42, managed to conceal the small handgun used in the escape, said Cloyd L. Shuler, a deputy commissioner for the Indiana Department of Correction. Because Roberts was strip-searched leaving the prison Friday morning say they believe he obtained the gun at the hospital, Shuler said.

"We definitely believe the escaped was planned," Shuler said. The two guards were suspended without pay pending the outcome of an investigation into the escape, said Shuler, adding that department guidelines require the suspension.

Jurors find judges poorly trained

CHICAGO (AP)—Inadequate training of judges damages the legal system and can lead to costly mistakes, jurists from across the country concluded Sunday in calling for a pre-bench training for all judges.

No adequate program to prepare judges for the rigors of the bench exists in the United States, and most states have no pre-service training program at all, said Douglas Lanford, executive director of the American Academy of Judicial Education.

Those that exist—in "three or four states"—are inadequate, he said.

The Washington, D.C. based non-profit group, which sponsors education programs for state court judges, organized a two day conference to address the problem.

Judges and representatives from 17 states attended and unanimously adopted a resolution Sunday urging "the chief justice of each state court to implement pre-bench education and training for all judges as part of a comprehensive judicial education program."

Lay judges, who handle cases like traffic violations, outnumber higher court judges yet most have no legal training at all, Lanford said in a telephone interview from the conference at the O'Hare Hilton.

And even higher court judges who have worked as lawyers are unprepared for hearing cases when they first serve, he said.

"It's like having general practitioners perform open-heart surgery," said Ted Cook, a marketing consultant for the academy.

Retired Chief Justice Al Barney of Vermont, who attended the conference, said he received no training when he was first elected to the bench as a municipal court judge.

"I was a very, very, young lawyer with only about three years of practice," he said.

Jeans-clad Madigan views himself ordinary

Members consider president hard-working and pensive student

Editor's note: This is the first article in a five-part series profiling the executive officers of Eastern's student government.

BY GLAS BACKSTROM
Student editor

Student Body President Michael P. Madigan views himself to be an ordinary guy. On the outside, Madigan, usually clad in jeans and a plaid shirt, seems like the typical "Joe College" student. However, peers and other students who know him might describe him as a pensive, hard-working student government member. Madigan claims "there isn't anything I do that is extraordinary."

In an effort to convey an attitude of persistence," he adds that it is the only way for him to get things accomplished.

Even at a party or other social function, Madigan, a member of Eastern's Delta Tau Delta Chapter, said he does not introduce himself as student body president.

"The office doesn't change my attitude toward anything," he said.

Madigan appreciates students that recognize him and campus taking the time to say "hi."

"I get my name in the paper a lot," he said jokingly. "Someone might see my picture in the paper and I don't know them but they know me."

Madigan, however, said he does regret not knowing or remembering students' names. "It's important to remember who you meet."

Others recognize Madigan because he shares a connection with an official of the Illinois House of Representatives—Michael J. Madigan, D-Chicago.

Though not related to the house official, Madigan has a distant cousin who is a representative in Congress—Ed Madigan, R-Washington.

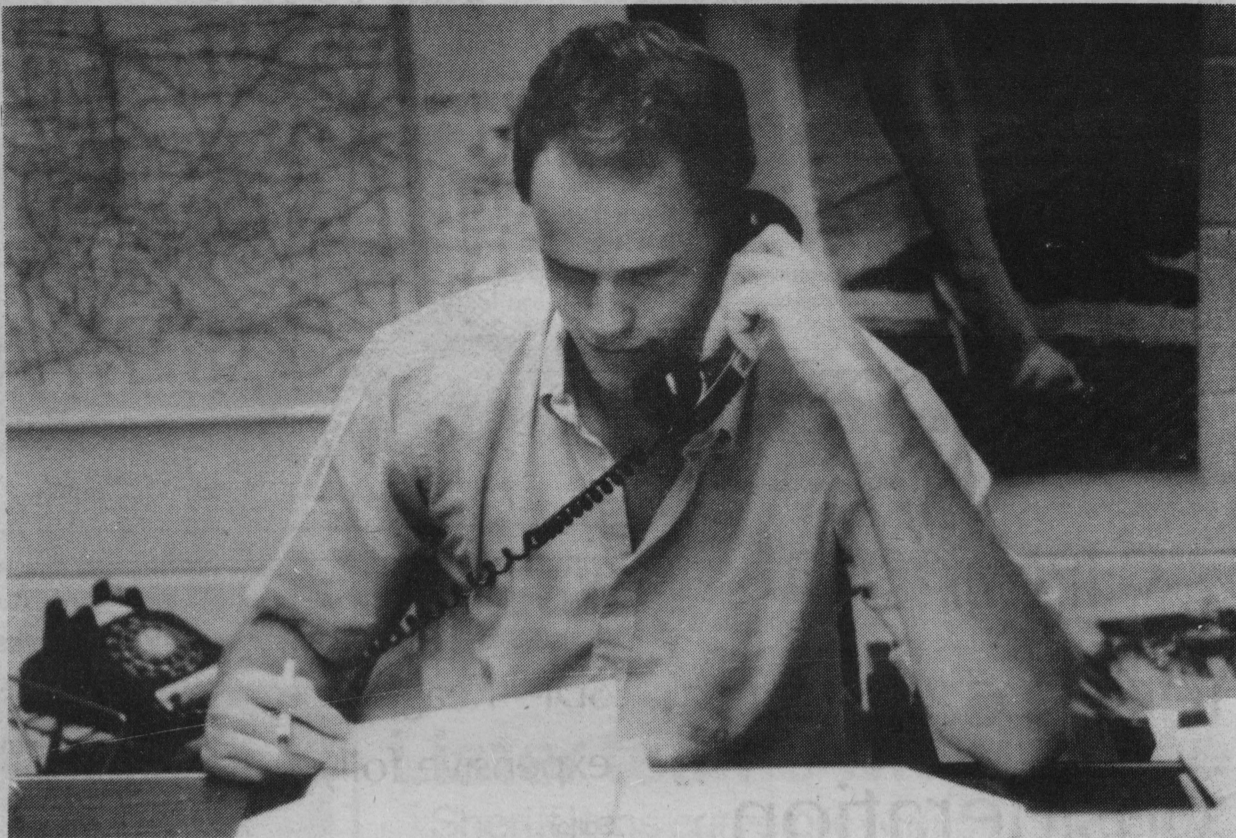

Madigan's political name has brought him attention and his name has been the butt of many jokes.

Madigan would admit that the jokes are all in fun. The jokes are some people's way of getting to know him better and being friendly with him.

Madigan's friendly atmosphere is one reason why Madigan chose Eastern. "From Coleman to Old North, you'll see someone you know," he said.

Madigan, a junior political science major, also likes Eastern's compact size and the classes the political science department offers.

"The political science program here demands well-roundedness," he said.

Student Body President Mike Madigan

Politics has always interested Madigan. While in college, Madigan wants to do "something that is an experience-builder" for later in his career.

Madigan intends to learn all he can about the United States' political system. Much of Madigan's activities revolve around politics.

During the summer, Madigan was involved with the Model Illinois Government. Here, college students from all over the state are able to act out the state legislative process, Madigan explained.

"Actual legislation is considered by college students," he said.

In addition, students meet with prominent politicians. Through this organization Madigan sees "how (the) system works or doesn't work," he said. The model government is an "excellent experience."

Even while in high school, Madigan participated on the student council. "We just planned activities," he said.

Although he does not agree with everything the country's top executive does, Madigan models himself after President Reagan.

Reagan has "a very systematic approach to his policies. I respect that because he doesn't have several philosophies that he can justify different policy decisions with," Madigan said.

"It's important to have a good base for your reasoning," he added.

Madigan hopes that his student government experience in high school and college will help him be a successful member of the political system.

After graduation, Madigan wants to become involved with a national campaign or go to Washington D.C. and intern for an Illinois congressman.

And, like most college students, Madigan wants to be financially successful.

Madigan also plans to interview with lobbying firms and possibly state agencies.

POW/MIA bracelet plans modified

BY GLAS BACKSTROM
Student editor

Students purchasing POW/MIA bracelets from the Senate members may not meet the criteria for a MIA victim if he is found alive.

Because the POW/MIA victim might either need medicalization or receive therapy, Student Senator Leahy said Wednesday she believes it would be appropriate for the student to meet the victim in person, as the idea was previously planned.

"It would be very emotional for some of these men, it's been 10 to 20 years (of lack of contact with families) for these men," she said.

Leahy said she will now look into the prospect of obtaining the address of the victim where the student with the bracelet can write him.

Students can purchase two different types of bracelets. Students can purchase an aluminum bracelet for $4 or a metal bracelet for $5.

If the POW/MIA victim is not found alive, the bracelet will be given to the family and the student will receive another one, Leahy said.

In addition, the Student Senate is distributing free POW/MIA buttons and key chains. These items were purchased with the funds raised at Student Government Day.

The Senate raised more than $200 selling hamburgers, chips and pop.

S. Mint unveils coin amid embarrassment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Mint, caught off guard last week by the public clamor for its new American Eagle gold coin, expects to suffer an embarrassment of riches Monday when dealers begin to receive the limited supply.

The first general-circulation U.S. gold coin in more than a half-century has proven to be a definite draw with the public. Government officials hope to capitalize on that interest by unveiling a sister silver coin on Wednesday.

The Mint is not selling the coins directly to the public, but is instead distributing the coins to 25 primary dealers worldwide who then resell the coins to a network of precious metal dealers, coin shops, brokerage firms and banks.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in the Tuesday's edition of The Daily Eastern News that fewer than 100 people attended the performance of the North Carolina Dance Theater. According to the box office, there were 186 student tickets sold, 114 general public tickets sold and 11 complimentary tickets.

Fee proposal needs cautious consideration

The Student Senate last week passed a bill which could be a blessing or a curse, depending on how it is applied.

The bill, which is now being considered by the administration, would eliminate certain student fees for students doing field work, student teaching or internships.

Editorial Senator Tim Taylor, who sponsored the bill, said the rationale for the proposal is that these individuals are not around to take advantage of the services student fees provide, and so shouldn't have to pay for them.

The student fees that would be eliminated per semester include the $74 textbook rental fee, the $67 Union Bond revenue fee and several smaller fees.

To make up the difference for these reductions, student fees would be increased by at least $1.35 overall.

Because next year's budget has already been set, the proposal could not go into effect for at least two years.

Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, said he is not sure whether he will back the plan. He said his major concern is that student fees would have to be increased under the proposal, and he has asked Taylor for more data on the number of students who would benefit from the plan.

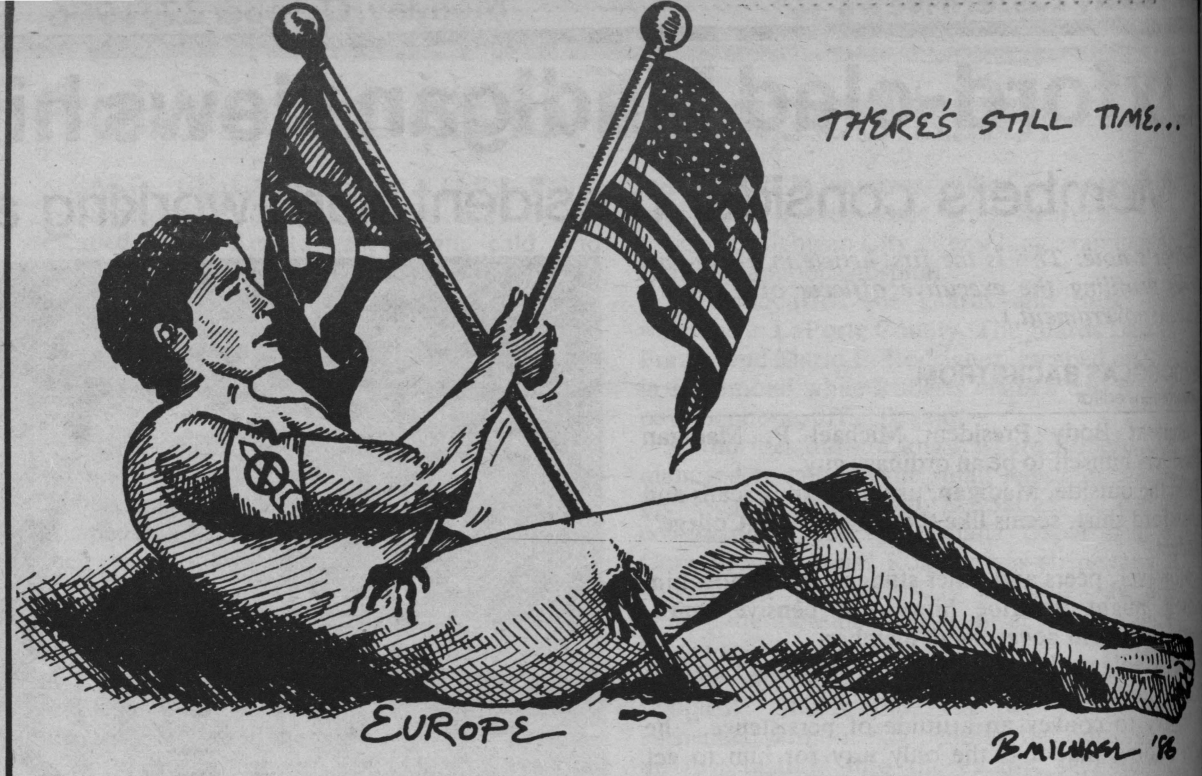

The administration is approaching this plan cautiously, and with good reason.

It is true that students who go away for field work, internships and student teaching should not have to pay fees for textbooks, the health service, the Union and other activities they will not be around to take advantage of.

However, not all students go very far for these things. Some are still in this area, sometimes still living on campus, and have available to them all the advantages that student fees provide.

This is the problem that Taylor's proposal, in its current form, seems to overlook—instead of having students paying and not benefitting, we would have students benefitting without paying.

We suggest that the administration consider an altered version of Taylor's plan—give students a system by which they can appeal their student fees on a case-by-case basis, with the final decision based on whether the student will be around to enjoy the activities funded by the fees.

Your turn

SDI—Reagan's expensive folly

Editor:

One must wonder if Reagan's trip to Reykjavik was only political posturing with fall elections coming up. If not, it is hard to imagine how the administration could have more poorly anticipated Gorbachev's position against Star Wars (also S.D.I., Strategic Defense Initiative), already well-advertised in advance.

What is, frankly, a shame is that intelligent dialogue was and will continue to be held up by the president's intransigence on a complex defense system which, as stated at the University of Illinois two weeks ago by Dr. Hans Bethe, Nobel Prize nuclear physicist, and many times by others, is a dangerous waste of scientific talent and resources with practically no chance of success, even 30 years and more from now. He and the majority of other living laureates have signed a petition against Star Wars (somehow this just doesn't get through to the public) strongly criticizing as simply unrealistic any scenario of meaningful deployment, its destabilizing influence on any chance for peace in the world, and deploring its impact on our strained national budget and scientific talent. At a cost eventually surely of more than a trillion dollars, its drain on the national treasury has not been even remotely approached by any previous weapons system.

Gorbachev's strong opposition to doing more than carrying forth research on Star Wars possibilities, which would continue in any case, is born much less of his fear that it will pose a threat to the Soviets in our time, than because for a country with as bleak an economy and consumer productivity as theirs, it means that they will have to match our efforts (no matter how foolish) step by step and dollar for dollar that also they must come up with more offensive weapons and decoys to leak through and foul up the so-called "peace shield."

Defense Secretary Weinberger's pointing to military scientists directly working on S.D.I. who will say we should continue with it reminds one, in terms of credibility, of scientists on tobacco company payrolls who will dismiss as unproven any claim of cancer risk to potential cigarette smokers. This administration from its outset has shown no willingness to stem the voracious appetites of military ordnance manufacturers for more money (and profit) for any weapons systems they may come up with. In the case of "Star Wars", quite the opposite of questioning the cost and wisdom of proceeding, the administration even holds up support for S.D.I. expenditures on this fall's campaign trail as a litmus test for toughness against Communists anywhere.

New views on alcohol are in fashion

Last week Eastern students were asked to "Get Absurd."

Although this is the type of command that usually calls for publicizing parties and rolling out kegs, it was ironically used as the theme for Eastern's observance of Alcohol Awareness Week.

Being in the middle of my third year as an Eastern student, I've seen many changes occur in the attitudes regarding the consumption of alcohol by minors.

I've seen peer pressure that was strong enough to cause a non-drinker to guzzle beers from a beer bong change to an acceptance of asking for a Coke instead of a Bud Light at Marty's.

What once used to be an abnormal act of wimpiness is now often considered respectable by members of today's college society.

I used to be ashamed to admit that I'm not a part of the "guzzling generation," but now I feel that I can be respected for my views and not rejected for them.

It's not the actual drinking that I even oppose so much—it's the "drink to get drunk" attitude that gives us statistics like the 400 alcohol-related deaths that occur each week in the United States.

Now, that's absurd!

It amazes me how so much emphasis can be put on getting "trashed or wasted." Being a non-drinker myself, I'm very relieved to see some of that type of ideology becoming extinct.

Attendance at the Subway, Eastern's non-alcoholic pub, has soared from about 40 participants to more than 100 at each event. It's statistics like these that prove to me there is a change in attitude

Julie

Alcohol Awareness Week's theme "Get Absurd" stood for Get A Better Student Understanding of Responsible Drinking. There's that term again, responsible drinking. It keeps creeping into society as if it were almost part of the norm!

Responsible drinking doesn't cause incidents such as innocent victims getting killed by drunk drivers or nude women getting handcuffed to stairwells. I'm elated to think that some students are tired of the "drink to get drunk" attitude.

College students are often the objects of criticism in today's society. We are stereotyped as loud, obnoxious, and who could forget intoxicated, druggies.

Incidents, such as the recent one at Eastern involving fraternity and sorority members merely add to the growing attitudes toward members of the college scene. I for one am glad to see students get offended when something like this occurs.

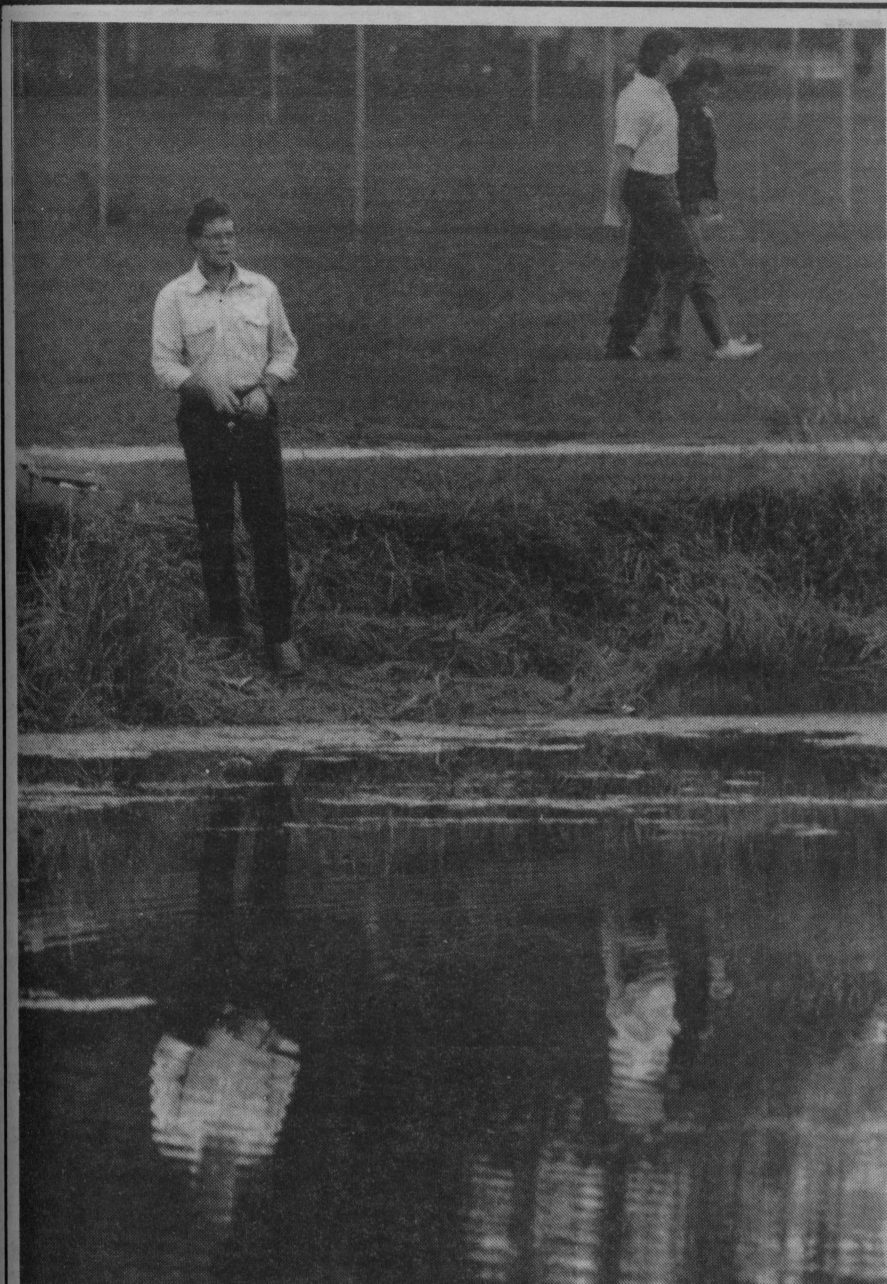

I think it's high time we take responsibility for being responsible, like we say we are. It's not a matter of becoming prohibitionists. The key is responsibility!

The Alcohol Awareness Week Committee put a lot of time and effort into stressing the need for responsible drinkers. I think it's time for Eastern students to initiate more action on their attitudes toward alcohol.

In her lecture on alcohol influence, media analyst Jean Kilbourne said drinking has changed from a way of celebration to the point of celebration.

Let's change the norm and celebrate our ability to conduct ourselves as the responsible adults we say we are. What better way is there to support the idea of Alcohol Awareness Week than by becoming responsible drinkers all year long?

Workshop on assertiveness set

By DONELLE PARDEE
Assistant activities editor

Students wishing to be more assertive may want to attend the first of a three part Counseling Center workshop from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday in the Union Ballroom.

Bud Sanders, director of the Counseling Center, said the workshop series will cover different aspects of assertiveness using lectures, discussion, some role playing and homework.

The remaining two sessions will be from 4 to 6 p.m. Nov. 3 and 10 in the Union Ballroom.

The workshop is designed to teach people to stand up for their rights and to be fair to themselves, Sanders said.

The lectures will tell the participants about "saying no when it comes to something you really don't want to do, asking for things you would like and giving strokes to yourself when you've done something good," Sanders said.

Another topic of discussion will be taking care of yourself, Sanders added. He said participants will learn to treat themselves equal to everyone else and to stand up for themselves when appropriate.

The role playing is to practice what has been learned during the workshop and to discuss it, Sanders said.

He said the homework is for the participants in the workshop to go out and practice during the week what they have learned and then discuss it at the next session.

Pope's truce seen as utopia by unbelievers

PERUGIA, Italy, (AP)—Pope John Paul II, greeted Sunday by thousands of people singing "We Shall Overcome," said his call for a worldwide truce Monday may seem utopian to some people, but not to those who believe in God.

The pope condemned what he called the "culture of contempt" which regards other cultures as primitive, insignificant and unworthy. Such an attitude, he said, leads to a "culture of death, a culture of violence and a culture of evil."

The pope had called on warring factions everywhere to lay down their arms for 24 hours Monday.

He was scheduled to spend Monday in Assisi, 15 miles from this central Italian city, to pray and fast for nine hours along with leaders of 11 other religions.

In Perugia, a historic city adorned with medieval buildings and churches, thousands of people lined the streets Sunday to hear the pontiff.

In the central Piazza IV Novembre, the pope was greeted by about 8,000 people waving handkerchiefs in various colours. A group of American students led the crowd in singing "We Shall Overcome" in English.

"No one can hide the great difficulties of our time. . .holding entire humanity in bondage of great fear," said the pope, standing under a canopy on the steps of the Cathedral of San Lorenzo overlooking the square.

"The prayer gathering in Assisi is for dialouge, peace and hope. It may seem as utopian to some, but it is not so for all those who believe, for those who take God and his words seriously," he said.

Coles County Sheriff Charles "Chuck" Lister added another notch to his belt or rather another invitation to his list of things to do.

Lister, a Democrat, has been invited to join the People to People Criminal and Juvenile Justice Delegation to visit Japan, China and Hong Kong in March.

The organization, which is headed by honorary chairman President Reagan, is a citizen ambassador program which is designed to promote communication and friendly relations among countries.

The group attending is comprised of 30 criminal justice officers chosen on a national scale to participate in the trip.

The officers will spend three weeks overseas learning about criminal justice systems of other countries.

The international exchanges include organized meetings and briefings, Round Table discussions, seminars and symposia for presentation of papers, inspection visits to major facilities and institutions and informal meetings with other professionals.

The program was started in 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The citizen ambassador program, which is not only designed to benefit criminal justice professionals, also coordinates trips for professionals in the fields of law, medicine, agriculture, building science, administrative and financial management, energy and resource development, industrial technology and the basic sciences.

Stevenson says ads benefit Thompson

By the Associated Press

Gubernatorial challenger Adlai Stevenson said Sunday that incumbent Gov. James Thompson is benefitting from Illinois State Lottery television advertisements, but the director of the lottery said the ads have nothing to do with the campaign.

"This commercial is nothing more than a gift to Governor Thompson's campaign from taxpayers," Stevenson said about the advertisement assuring viewers that lottery profits all go to schools. Stevenson said the ad campaign costs $288,000.

Rebecca Paul, lottery director, said in a telephone interview that the ad, which was just finishing an initial three-week run, is part of an image campaign for which the General Assembly, controlled by Democrats, appropriated $1.5 million.

Paul, former state GOP chairwoman, said the timing of the ad had "absolutely" nothing to do with Thompson's re-election campaign. "He (Thompson) did not know I was even doing it," she said.

Eastern to host discussion for 14 school network

Eastern will host a Round Table discussion for public education administrators from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Mattoon Holiday Inn, East Illinois Route 16.

The Round Table, which is a network of schools within 14 county areas that Eastern serves, will provide services of updated skills in recent educational trends in area counties.

Eastern will provide training programs to the principals and superintendents of county schools including elementary, high schools and colleges.

Eastern instructor Larry Janes will coordinate the Round Table discussion.

Larry Werner and Carolyn Farrar from the Illinois State Board of Education will discuss learner objectives.

Norm Stenzil from the ISBE will discuss the testing requirements of local districts.

Yeargin Hogle from the ISBE will discuss the report card-mandated state's reporting card system.

"These people give us great participation," Janes said.

Jazz combos to fill Doudna Monday night

Graduate assistant Jon Schwabe will direct the Jazz Sextet and the Jazz Quintet during the performance.

The Contemporary Jazz Combo will also perform under the direction of faculty member Dan Goble.

The groups will feature work by Wayne Shorter, Theolonius Monk, Miles Davis, John Lennon and Paul McCartney and others.

Eckert lifts ruggers to 19-3 win over Purdue

Eastern's rugby club breezed past Purdue 19-3 in a home match Saturday.

The victory raised Eastern's record to 3-4 on the season. Purdue, ironically, slipped to 3-4.

Purdue opened the scoring with a first-half field goal off a penalty kick.

Eastern, however, bounced back to take the lead for good as team captain John Eckert put the ball in the tri zone. Kyle Vansickle added the conversion for a 6-3 Eastern lead.

The ruggers padded their lead to 12-

3 by halftime as Eckert scored his second tri and Vansickle added the conversion.

Eckert scored his third tri of the game by diving on a loose ball in the tri zone. This followed a penalty-kick field goal by Vansickle.

"Our pack played well today," Eckert said. "We held them on some crucial defensive stands."

Tim Miller added, "We never let them score a tri and that's a credit to the whole team."

Southern on Saturday.

"We did not get the confidence that we would have if we had won by the scores we should have won by," Ralston said. "In every game we had chances to lose."

After winning the opening game against Drake, the Panthers, leading 11-2, faltered and let the Bulldogs take a 14-12 lead. Eastern was able to battle back to a 16-16 tie behind sophomore Gianna Galanti's hitting before taking the win.

Eastern again let Drake back in the match in game three when the Panthers couldn't take game point with the score 14-10. The Bulldogs served to 14-13 before Eastern finally got the match-winner.

"That's just total mental lapses," Ralston said of blowing the leads. "It all stems from people making critical errors at crucial times."

Against Northern Iowa, it was all purple Panthers from the opening serve as they got the side out and jumped to 8-0 lead following junior Mary Bernhardt's seven straight service points. Bernhardt later aced for game point to give Northern Iowa the opening game win.

The momentum flowed into a 13-3 lead in game two for the purple Panthers. Eastern managed to grab four more points, but a rally was thwarted when junior Diane Eiserman hit a kill attempt into the net.

After taking a 2-0 lead in game three, Eastern's steam ran out as Northern Iowa outscored the Panthers 15-2 to take the win.

Ralston noticed something in Northern Iowa's play that isn't the case on Eastern's side of the court.

"They (UNI) did not make any dumb mistakes—and we do," Ralston said. "There's no challenge there (when 'dumb' mistakes are made), and that's just not being smart."

Eastern's statistics told the story as the Panthers had an embarrassing .026 hitting percentage, only nine total blocks and four blocking errors.

Eastern's soccer team, cursed by injuries and poor production up front, away from Chicago this weekend a win and a tie.

a steady downpour Sunday at Madison, the Panthers were frustrated 0-0 deadlock with Northwestern. Eastern outshooting the Wildcats 21-8. Meanwhile on Saturday, the Panthers outshot Illinois-Chicago 20-7, getting a 2-1 victory over their AMCU rival.

Eastern's record climbed to 6-5-2 overall and 1-1-1 in the conference. The games remain for Eastern this season, both at Lakeside Field.

The Panthers were without the services of freshman Garry Laidlaw for most of the second half of play against Northwestern. Laidlaw reinjured his knee against the Flames the day before, while scoring leader Curt Elchuk (six goals) was hampered by injured calves following Saturday's victory.

The Panthers face nationally ranked Southern Methodist and Big 10

de said. "That coupled with Northwestern's fine execution of the play in adverse (weather) conditions was a pretty big hole."

Yet, Eastern didn't hit the panic button. Instead, the Panthers put together a seven-play, 78-yard scoring drive capped by a seven-yard touchdown pass from Payton to Roy Banks.

"It was a read," Banks said of the touchdown. "The cornerback was trying to take me five yards outside. He was trying to fade, so I took the post." However, place-kicker Rich Ehmke

Wisconsin in their final games.

On Sunday, "we had no offense," said assistant coach Ken Newman. "Their (goal) keeper (Jeff Carlisle) made some good saves. It was just one of those games."

"We played not too bad together, we got it to the penalty box and didn't finish. Northwestern played good defense. We did just about everything but hit the ball in the net. You should see my shot chart," Newman said.

Carlisle saved nine shots for the Wildcats and Eastern's Mark Simpson had four saves.

Senior captain Matt Gamache led the Panther offensive shooting with eight shots on goal. "Matt had good solid shots on goal too—they weren't cheap," Newman added.

However, the closest scoring chance for either side came during the second overtime period when Laidlaw broke away toward the Wildcats' goal and fired point-blank at Carlisle, who came up with the save.

Saturday's contest should have been deemed as a barometer of things to come as Eastern outplayed the Flames, launching 20 shots on goal to eight but scoring only twice.

But it was the Flames who drew first blood on a "semi-breakaway" goal by senior forward Basil Alazhari at the 15-minute mark in the first half.

The Panthers answered with 27 minutes elapsed in the first half as freshman forward Dave Kompare scored on a rebound off sophomore Scott Taylor's shot.

The goal gave Kompare his second on the season along with three assists on the season. It was Taylor's first assist.

With 50 minutes elapsed from the game clock, Elchuk registered his second assist on the season with a crossing pass to Laidlaw. Laidlaw now has four goals on the season.

"That was a fairly easy goal," Newman said. "Curt made the pass and Garry kicked it in."

Flames' junior goalkeeper Pete De Robertis recorded five saves in the contest, while Simpson had three saves for the Panthers.

hooked the extra point wide left to leave the Southwest Missouri halftime lead at 13-6.

Following halftime adjustments, the Panthers rebounded to tie the score as Banks hauled in a 10-yard touchdown pass with 2:04 left in the third quarter. The TD reception also enabled Banks to move past Willie White as Eastern's all-time receptions leader with 165 career catches.

Southwest Missouri, however, proved it could overcome some adversity also. The Bears regained the lead at 20-13 as Johnson raced 64 yards on an option keeper.

Eastern's offense, however, proved it could come back quicker than a standup comedian. The Panthers tied the game a minute later as Pierce shedded a Bear defender to score on a 14-yard pass from Payton.

Things were only beginning for the Payton-to-Pierce combination. The duo hooked up on a 74-yard touchdown play with 11:40 left in the game to put Eastern on top for good at 27-20.

Marshall's fumble return leads Bears past Lions 13-7

CHICAGO (AP)—Linebacker Wilber Marshall said he didn't think things like that happened and Eric Hipple likened it to being hit by a car.

Marshall blitzed, sacked Hipple, forced a fumble, recovered it and ran 12 yards for a touchdown Sunday to lead the Chicago Bears to a 13-7 victory over the Detroit Lions.

"I never thought something like that would happen," said Marshall. "Dave Duerson and I were blitzing and the back picked up Dave, that left me free."

"It was a tough hit but I kept my eyes open, I saw the ball," said Marshall. "That's the first time that has happened, I don't get to blitz that much."

"I saw the ball pop free and I kept pressing after it," said Marshall. "I thought I'd get tackled and I did, but not until I got to the 1-yard line."

Hipple sat on the field stunned after the play and needed several moments to recover.

"I got hit by a car when I was a kid," said Hipple, "and that's what it felt like."

Bear Coach Mike Ditka called Marshall's play "outstanding." He felt he had to do something extra with Mike (Singletary) out of there."

Singletary was kept out of the game because of a groin injury suffered in last week's 23-7 loss at Minnesota.

"Me and Otis (Wilson) talked about it," said Marshall. "We decided with Mike out of there we had to pick up the pace and fire up the defense."

Quarterback Jim McMahon, sidelined last week, started for the Bears and made it 22 straight Bear wins in games he has started.

"McMahon is some kind of gutsy guy," said Ditka. "He put his butt out on the line."

McMahon, who remained in the trainer's room after the game getting shoulder, elbow, back and ankle injuries attended to, completed 17 of 24 passes for 141 yards although he was sacked three times and had two passes intercepted.

"I don't care about the interceptions," said Ditka. "He was great and so was our defense. It was a tough game but give Detroit credit. I hope all our games are that tough. It will make us a better team in the end."

Kevin Butler kicked two field goals for the Bears including one for 27 yards with 18 seconds to play.

Eastern outside hitter Diane Eiserman and her Panther teammates had their hands full Saturday in Lantz Gym with Gateway Conference power Northern Iowa. Eastern, which beat Drake Friday, was soundly defeated by UNI.

Spikers continue Gateway troubles

By JOHN STROUD
Associate sports editor

Eastern's volleyball team brought its troubles home to Lantz Gym for the weekend and settled for a split in two key Gateway Conference matchups.

The Panthers hung on to defeat the conference cellar dweller, Drake, in three straight by scores of 15-11, 18-16, 15-13 on Friday in what Eastern coach Betty Ralston thought was unimpressive fashion.

She had hoped a dominating win would give Eastern more confidence going into Saturday's match with Northern Iowa, which was knocked out of the Gateway lead in a four-game loss at Southern Illinois on Friday.

It was the purple Panthers of Northern Iowa who proved to be the top cats over Eastern's Panthers in a totally dominating rebound victory. Northern Iowa swept the afternoon confrontation at Lantz Gym in front of less than 35 spectators 15-1, 15-7, 15-4.

The crowd size contrasted what Northern Iowa saw at Southern, where about 600 fans were a big factor in Southern battling from a 12-4 deficit in game four to win the match and take the conference lead.

"The gym couldn't have been any quieter in the first two games" against Northern Iowa, Ralston said. Referring to Southern's crowd Friday, Ralston added, "That tells you what effect the crowd has on the game."

Northern Iowa moves to 20-2 on the season and 2-1 in the Gateway. Eastern goes to 13-15, 1-3 in the conference, while Drake dropped to 3-17 and 0-3 in league play after Friday's loss and a defeat at (See SPIKERS, page 10)

Panthers drop SWMO 34-20; grab 1st place

By DAN VERDUN
Sports editor

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—Eastern overcame a major character test and a potent wishbone attack Saturday to outlast pesky Southwest Missouri 34-20 in Gateway Conference action.

The win, Eastern's seventh straight, boosted the Panthers' overall record to 7-1.

Eastern, 4-1 in conference play, also took over sole possession of first place in the Gateway because Illinois State (3-2) lost 20-3 to Southern Illinois (3-2).

Consequently, the Panthers could clinch the Gateway title and an automatic bid to the I-AA playoffs with a Nov. 8 win at Indiana State.

Southwest Missouri, yet to win at home this season, slipped to 2-6 overall and 1-4 in the league.

"Our strength in unity was really tested today," Eastern coach Al Molde said after Saturday's game. "We had some tremendous adversity in the first half."

Eastern quarterback Sean Payton helped to overcome some of that adversity. The senior threw for 379 yards and five touchdowns in the victory to move within 365 yards of the coveted 10,000-yard plateau.

Slotback Calvin Pierce hauled in nine receptions for a school-record 238 yards and three touchdowns.

"Great players make great plays, and today in the second half our great players made great plays," Molde said.

Things didn't start that way for Eastern as Southwest Missouri took advantage of Panther mistakes to take a 13-0 lead late into the second quarter.

Leading 3-0 early in the second quarter, the Bears caught a tremendous break when Eastern punter Steve Tillotson bobbled a snap and was forced to cover the ball on the Panther 47-yard line.

Southwest Missouri took full advantage of the Panther mistake on its very first play from scrimmage. Bears' freshman quarterback David Johnson hit a wide-open Ray Ratcliff for a 47-yard touchdown bomb off a play-action fake. The score marked the first Southwest Missouri passing touchdown of the season.

The Bears—playing in front of a Homecoming crowd of 6,000—built their lead to 13-0 on a 27-yard field goal by Chris Potthast with 5:53 remaining before half.

"We made some mistakes offensively that put our defense in a bad spot for most of the first half," (See PANTHERS, page 11)

Series rained out

NEW YORK (AP)—Game 7 of the World Series between the Boston Red Sox and New York Mets was postponed Sunday due to rain and was rescheduled Monday at 7:10 p.m. CST, the office of the commissioner said.

Boston still plans to send right-hander Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd to the mound. New York will counter with left-hander Bob Ojeda.
