Texts: An Introduction to Literature, Barnet, Berman Burto, Cain, 11th ed.
Writing Essays about Literature, Griffith, 5th ed.

Nature of the Course:
Students will read short stories, poetry, plays and criticism. Papers of a critical and analytical nature will be written about these works and will include research papers with documented sources.

Department Policy on Plagiarism:
“Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—‘The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work’ (Random House Dictionary of the English Language) has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including a grade of F for the assigned essay and a grade of NC for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.”

Attendance: A student who misses class loses points. Much of the work done in class, in-class writing, class participation and short quizzes, earns points that cannot be made up. Tests, such as the mid-term, may be made up only if the student has proof of illness. If you have a problem, please see me or call to discuss it.

Office of Disability: If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583).

Late Papers: A paper that is late ONE day loses points. Papers OVER one day late are still required as part of the course work. The paper will be read and evaluated, but for no credit. Exceptions may be made in certain situations; see me if an emergency arises. A paper that is one day late must be turned in to CH308, initialed by the secretary, then placed in my mailbox before 4:30 when the office closes. Since I am not in my office on Monday, Wednesday or Friday, this is the only way I have of knowing the paper was turned in by the deadline.

Grading: 90 points – three short paper assignments
300 points – three essays over five pages
150 points – estimate of participation, questions and quiz points
200 points – mid-term and final exams
Selected readings: Students are responsible for works listed as well as the biographical information about the authors. Look up all words that are new or that may be used in a way that appears nonstandard or unusual in some way.

Questions: From time to time questions will be handed out on the readings. The answers are due on the day of the discussion of the work, and are meant to help with class discussion. They may not be turned in later in the event of absence.

Quizzes: Short, usually five point, quizzes are given often and may not be made up. Longer tests over poetry, stories and the plays may be made up if you have an excused absence. Please see me.

Reading Assignments: This is a general guide and we may get ahead or behind of the dates given. Additional readings will be announced.
