Other schools use policy...

by Keith Clark

The attendance policy being proposed by a Council on Academic Affairs subcommittee is very similar to attendance policies used at other Illinois schools.

If the proposal is passed by Eastern administrators, instructors who wish to use attendance as a factor in determining students' final grades would first have to gain departmental approval and then announce this intention on the first day of class.

Sue Eberhardt, assistant director of admissions at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, said faculty members may base grades partially on attendance, although she does not necessarily favor that policy.

"I feel something is wrong if a student doesn't attend a class," Eberhardt said. "I think the student probably is bored and not getting anything out of a class if he doesn't attend."

She added, "If students aren't getting anything out of a class, why should they bother going?"

Margaret Barr, vice president of student services at Northern Illinois University, said Northern also leaves attendance policies up to individual faculty members.

"I think it should be up to individual faculty members to decide how important they think attendance is in the teaching of their courses," Barr said.

"The attendance policy should be based on the course and the lecture presented," she added.

Robert Jefferson, acting associate provost and academic vice president at Western Illinois University, said Western students are expected to be in classes unless they have a valid excuse, such as illness.

"It is the student's responsibility to be in classes and if a student misses several classes, the vice president is notified," Jefferson said.

He added that an instructor is free to use attendance as a factor in determining grades as long as he states his intention on the class syllabus.

"For example," Jefferson said, "a teacher can state that a student gets three absences, and for every one after that he automatically loses a letter grade."

Lary Quane, assistant dean for undergraduate students at Illinois State University, said Illinois State's attendance policy is "very permissive."

"Most attendance problems are left for the instructors and students to solve among themselves," Quane said.

...while CAA plans for vote

by Audrey Dumentat

The Council on Academic Affairs will vote on the proposed revision of Eastern's attendance policy at its regular meeting Thursday.

The proposed attendance policy includes a clause which would require instructors who plan to use attendance as part of the final grade to gain written approval from their department.

The proposal also would require that on the first day of class the instructor indicate in writing the intention and reason for using attendance in grading, CAA Chairman David Buchanan said.

The CAA also will review a proposal to permit general education courses, Arts and Sciences 3103, "Humanities;" Arts and Sciences 3203, "Social Studies;" and Arts and Sciences 3303, "Mathematics-Science" to be taught off-campus.

These courses need to be taught off-campus so students enrolled in Eastern's off-campus degree programs can complete their general requirements.

An agreement between Illinois universities and junior colleges prohibits a university from offering 1000- or 2000-level classes off-campus in any area which is serviced by a community college.

This restriction prevents universities from competing with smaller community colleges.

The CAA will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Tuscola Room.

Blood drive efforts reach 1,378 pints

by Sheila Billerbeck

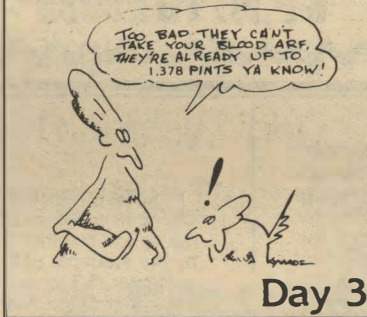

Although the third-day total of Eastern's fall blood drive drew a low 418 pints compared to Monday and Tuesday's results, a record of 1,378 pints was set for the three-day blood collection, drive chairman May Pionek said.

On Monday, 433 pints were collected, and 527 pints were drawn Tuesday.

Last spring's drive collected 431 pints on the third day, but the overall amount on that day was just 1,351 pints. Only 387 pints were collected the third day of last fall's drive, and the three-day total then was 1,240 pints.

Pionek said 472 donors tried to give blood, but 54 were unable to donate due to low iron count or high temperature.

"I was pleased with the results. They (donors) really started coming in at the end," Pionek said.

Some students said Wednesday was not the first time they had given blood.

"This is my second time," freshman Neal Cox said while taking advantage of the free food offered after donating. "I was just cashing a check and they pulled me in here!"

Maureen Dougherty, a fifth-time donor, said, "I think this is a worthy cause. All the nurses and workers here are really nice."

Pionek said she is certain the blood drive goal of 1,735 pints can be reached.

"We can top our goal if people will keep coming in. We won't turn you away."

Thursday is the last day of the blood drive. Donors will be able to walk in to give blood between 9 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. in the Union Ballroom, Pionek said.

Thompson changes tax policy

CHICAGO—Gov. James R. Thompson, who built his 1978 re-election campaign around a promise to seek legal limits on state taxes and spending, said Wednesday he has abandoned the notion in favor of more traditional ways of holding down the cost of government.

And he said he would not try next year to revive the tax limits he proposed in his 1978 Thompson Proposition, an advisory ballot question in which voters overwhelmingly supported legal lids on government taxes and spending.

Illinois teachers continue strikes

Talks broke off without agreement between striking teachers and school boards of Bremen Township near Chicago and Paris in central Illinois.

Classes remained closed there Wednesday and also at Hamilton County Unit District in Southern Illinois.

But tentative agreement was reached Tuesday in Lake Zurich School District 95 northwest of Chicago after about 170 teachers walked out Thursday, canceling classes for about 3,100 students.

Terms were withheld until ratification of the new pact.

The three districts remaining strikebound in the state involve 9,200 students and 497 students.

German president faces rivals

BONN—Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's Social Democrats are waging a vigorous campaign against his opponents despite the likelihood that they will vote him out of office Friday and block his demand for national elections now.

"Never in the history of the Federal Republic of Germany has the formation of a government been attempted so much over the heads of the citizens," former Chancellor Willy Brandt, chairman of Schmidt's Social Democratic Party, said, in a statement.

Elections give choice on policies

RICHMOND—President Reagan blamed Democrats for the nation's economic woes Wednesday and said the Nov. 2 elections pose a choice between recovery and "another economic binge like the one that left us with today's pounding national hangover."

"This devastating recessionary virus—one that many economists believe started and has continued since 1979—has begun to show signs of finally running its course," Reagan said.

In a speech at a rally for Republican candidates, the president tried to absolve his administration of responsibility for the recession and the highest unemployment in more than 40 years.

U.S. Marines return to Lebanon in new peacekeeping operation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—About 800 U.S. Marines returned to Beirut by ship and helicopter Wednesday and took control of the airport from departing Israeli forces in a new peacekeeping operation slated to last until all foreign armies are out of Lebanon.

The Marines, marching in formation, wore camouflage uniforms and flak jackets and carried M-16 automatic rifles, mortars and anti-tank weapons. The rifles were unloaded, but the Marines carried ammunition clips and were under orders to load and fire in self-defense.

Lebanese children waved and smiled at the Marines. Many of the leathernecks had their names written on their helmets in Arabic, the work of Lebanese army soldiers who patrolled the port with the Marines when the Americans spent 16 days in Beirut this summer.

"A lot of us are calling this Beirut Part II," said Cpl. Mark Kearny of Jefferson City, Tenn., who said some of the Arabic lettering on his helmet spelled out his nickname—"Cowboy."

It was the second time in a month the Marines landed. The first operation ended Sept. 10 after the evacuation of PLO guerrillas from the city ringed by Israel since June. Syrian troops are camped in eastern Lebanon, and President Reagan says the Marines will stay until all Israelis and Syrians leave.

Soviet jetliner crashes, kills 53

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—A Soviet jetliner carrying 77 people veered off the runway, plunged into a patch of trees and exploded in flames just after touching down at Luxembourg airport Wednesday night, killing 53 people and injuring 24, officials said.

Luxembourg police said the survivors, some of them burned severely, were taken to five hospitals in the city and to a burn center in Metz, France, about 37 miles to the south.

The airport officials said the aircraft, an Ilyushin 62 of the Soviet airline Aeroflot, landed at 3:23 p.m. CDT in good weather, and appeared to have made a proper landing until it suddenly turned to the right and skidded about 1,000 yards.

It shot over a small pond and plunged into some woods, knocking down trees for about 100 yards before it came to a halt at the end of a small valley, according to television reports. Several explosions followed and the plane caught fire.

It was the first major air disaster in Luxembourg history.

About 40 people, including six crew members, apparently got out of the burning plane on their own and sought refuge in a farmhouse not far from where the plane came to rest, television reports said.

Increased benefits fail in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats failed Wednesday in a bid to increase jobless benefits for recession victims as Congress rushed to complete legislation needed to keep the federal government running after midnight Thursday.

The first of two Democratic anti-recession proposals, a plan to liberalize unemployment benefits in more than two-dozen states, was rejected 51-47. Officials said it would have cost between $478 million and $3 billion and helped 600,000 unemployed workers or more, depending on the level of joblessness over the next 12 months.

Defeated at that turn, Democrats readied a second plan calling for a temporary program of 200,000 public service jobs at an estimated cost of about $1 billion. That proposal already has passed the Democratic-controlled House, but is scorned by Republicans as a new version of large public service programs they say failed in the past.

The debate on the two Democratic proposals came as Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee expressed frustration over the Senate's slow pace. Baker said it appeared impossible for Congress to meet its deadline for enacting the bill if several dozen remaining amendments were debated.

Foreign students not exempt COMPUCON '82 introduces kids to computer field

by Audrey Dumentat

Many foreign students interviewed Monday said they are displeased with a change in the U.S. Constitution requirement for foreign students passed by the Council on Academic Affairs last week.

Because it violated Illinois' school code, the CAA reversed its 1963 decision to exempt all foreign students from fulfilling the requirement. The code states all students graduating from a state school must fulfill the requirement.

Eastern students are required to successfully complete either one or a combination of several specified history courses or an exam on the U.S. and Illinois Constitutions.

The Constitution requirement is now mandatory for all foreign students who apply for graduation in fall semester 1983 or thereafter.

Foreign Student Advisor Brigitte Chen said, "I can feel for the foreign students. Some of them have indicated that they are afraid to take the exam because they feel they are in a disadvantaged position as compared to American students."

Some foreign students said they felt they did not need to know the Illinois and U.S. Constitutions because most foreign students will return to their homes.

Junior Aldo Esposito said, "If you are a foreign student, why should you have to take the Constitution of the United States? You should know about your own first."

Graduate student Chyong-Chen Su said, "I don't think it's necessary to take the Constitution, because they (foreign students) will just go back to their country."

"For the foreign student who wants to stay in the United States, they should have some knowledge of American laws," Su added.

"In my country, not every student has to study our constitution," graduate student Chain Yueh from Taiwan said. "I think it (the Constitution requirement) is pretty unnecessary."

Junior Tope Adeyemi-Bello said, "I don't see what is the big deal about the Constitution exam anyway. We are from another country, and we don't really need it anyway."

"I don't really feel it should be compulsory. I think they are forcing the American Constitution on foreign students, and I don't feel that is right," sophomore Boluwaji Alajo said.

Sophomore Hideyo Yasuda from Japan said, "I think it's nice to know the Constitution, but if you impose it on us, we feel like we have to. I don't really know my own country's constitution."

One foreign student said she felt the foreign students already were required to take too many entrance and graduation exams.

"There are so many exams that the foreign students have to take (to gain admission) that requiring them to take the Constitution will be too much," graduate student Elena Paguio said.

Other foreign students said they felt the Constitution requirement could be justified under certain circumstances.

Junior foreign student Damien Kelly said, "I don't think foreign students should be required to take it unless they are going to stay here."

Sophomore Graham Whitehead said, "As long as it didn't take extra time, it wouldn't be too bad."

Senior Lawrence McAnulty said, "If it entailed a lot of work and could possibly hinder my other work, I would be against it. It depends upon the individual situation."

COMPUCON '82—a conference featuring a variety of events related to the computer industry—will make its debut at Eastern Friday.

Activities scheduled during the day include a computer programming contest for children, a variety of lectures, tours and other events. Both Union ballrooms and several third floor lecture rooms will be used.

The all-day conference is sponsored by Eastern's computer services, the mathematics department and other departments in conjunction with Creative Programming.

Henry Taitt, director of Creative Programming, will kick off COMPUCON '82 with an opening address to be followed by the computer programming contest.

An estimated 120 to 150 children in grades kindergarten through high school from Illinois and surrounding states are expected to participate in the contest.

Participants will be judged on computer logic and graphic design and are required to provide their own computers.

Lectures will be presented at various times during the conference on topics such as physics and computers, gifted children and computers and setting up microcomputer labs.

COMPUCON Coordinator Hal Anderson said, "We have speakers coming from all over the country." About 25 speakers, including several Eastern professors will present lectures throughout the day.

Anderson added that tours will be conducted of Eastern's computer center and the physics and chemistry labs. In addition, there also will be tours of the Creative Programming research and development lab in Charleston.

Marilyn Buxton, a COMPUCON coordinator, said, "We're probably planning on about 300 people to take part in COMPUCON."

She added those attending the conference will be out-of-state as well as local residents.

"I think it is going to be a good program and I would personally like to invite EIU students to attend, particularly those in computer science and education," she said.

General admission to COMPUCON '82, which begins at 8:30 a.m. Friday, is $7, while the student rate is $3. Registration and tour reservations begin at 8 a.m. at the Union Alumni Lounge.

For more information contact Hal Anderson at 581-3217 or Max Gerling at 581-5328.

Campus hours change over break

by James Talley

While many students will be making road trips over fall break weekend to get away from the "grind," those who remain in Charleston will find changes in business hours for a few university services.

Union shops and services will be open at the following times:

Friday
Union building	7 a.m.—10 p.m.
Hardee's on Campus	9 a.m.—2 p.m.
Lobby shop	9 a.m.—2 p.m.
Saturday
Union building	7.30 a.m.—10 p.m.
Sunday
Union building	10 a.m.—11 p.m.
Hardee's on Campus	4—8 p.m.
Lobby shop	4—9 p.m.
Rathskeller	4—8 p.m.
Cargo Shoppe	4—8 p.m.

Junction recreation	4—10.30 p.m.
Sweet Ticket	4—9 p.m.

All Union business operation will be closed on Saturday.

Mary Blackford, head nurse at Health Services, said although services will continue as usual Friday, no night nurse will be on duty Friday, Saturday or Sunday evening. Regular hours will resume Monday.

Booth Library will be open the entire weekend during its regular business hours, a library official said.

Dee McNutt, secretary to the dean of library services, said library hours will remain the same to serve those students who stay in town over the weekend.

David Dutler, director of intramural sports and campus recreation, said McAfee and Buzzard facilities will be closed Friday and Saturday, but no changes have been made in the Lantz Building hours. Friday's swimming hours for Buzzard pool have been canceled.

Union parking taking toll on patrons' patience

The University Union's new pay parking lot is taking its toll on the patience of Eastern's students, faculty and staff.

The lot switched from permit parking to toll parking this fall in an attempt to allow Union patrons easy access to Union services.

If the ticket dispenser is not out of tickets, the entrance gate arm is broken or the lot is closed to public use.

Recently, drivers were allowed to park in the lot free because replacement tickets for the dispenser were not re-ordered in time.

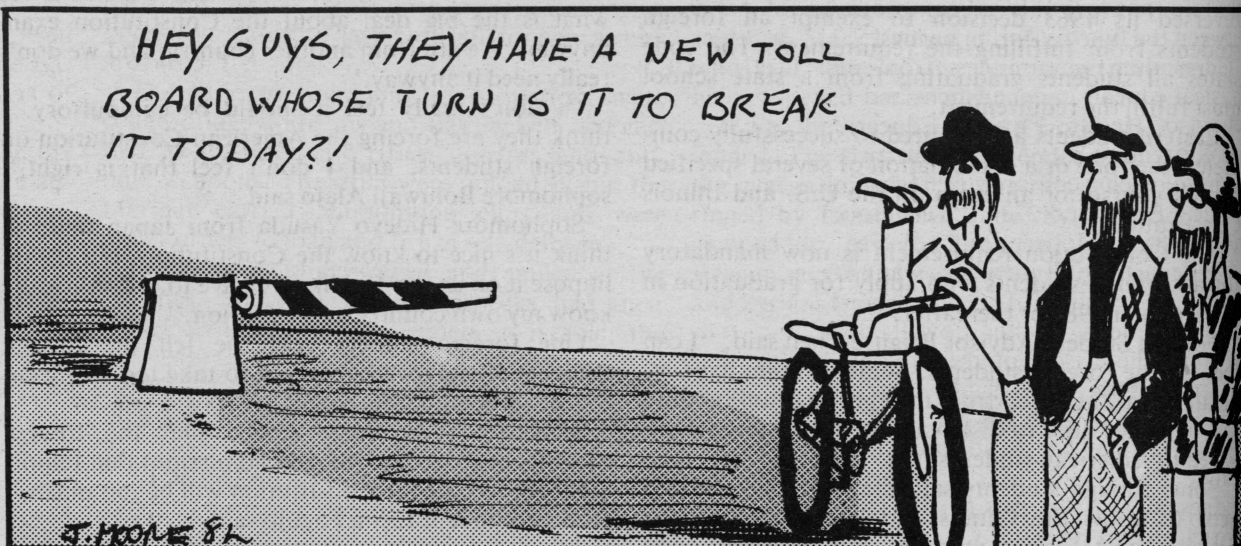

In addition, the lot has often been closed when it was supposed to have been open for free parking—and no one seems to know why.

Although any new program is expected to meet with a few barriers on the road to success, the parking operation is repeatedly crashing into a wall—in much the same way as careless people are crashing into the front gate.

"Gate crasher" has taken on a new meaning at the Union. In the first 10 days of operation, the front gate arm, which is made of a soft wood, was broken six times.

While using a soft-wood arm was a good idea for safety reasons, Union officials should consider purchasing arms made of stronger materials so the gate does not have to be repaired so often.

Although the arm can be broken at least twice before it has to be replaced and replacement arms only cost about $3, the cost of paying repairmen to fix the gate could add up quickly and turn minor crash mishaps into expensive accidents.

In addition to problems with the arm, the lot has been kept open irregularly which confuses and inconveniences patrons.

Toll parking is supposed to be in effect until 7 p.m. weekdays. The lot is supposed to be open for free parking on the weekends. However, until now, the lot has not kept those hours.

A Union official said Wednesday the lot will be open those hours from now on and that the arms will be removed on the weekends to avoid breakage. Enforcement of the hours is a step in the right direction, but the program needs to be redefined and planned thoroughly to avoid mix-ups in the future.

Last spring, The Daily Eastern News supported the change-over from permit parking to toll parking in the lot. At the time, plans indicated that implementation of the program would be smooth. However, experience shows that the program has been run haphazardly.

Union management should work now to make sure the program runs smoothly in the future so patrons receive the quality service the Union is attempting to provide.

Your turn

Disagrees with change

Editor:

A recent proposal to change Eastern's academic probation policy has stirred up much controversy during the past few weeks. As student body president, it is my responsibility to let the students know what my opinions are and why.

Under the new proposal, a student with 15 hours or less would have to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 1.70, while a student with 16 to 30 hours completed would have to maintain a 1.85 GPA. Students with 31 hours or more completed would be required to maintain a 2.00 GPA.

I do not agree with this proposal for two reasons.

First, I disagree that a student with a 1.70 or 1.85 is in "good academic standing" with the university. This new measure of defining a student's progress hardly meets the academic standards we contend to uphold. Students who have met Eastern's admissions standards should be capable of maintaining a 2.00 grade point average.

The second reason I disagree with this new proposal is because it states that a student would be dismissed for low scholarship after one semester on academic probation. Currently, a student is given two semesters on probation before dismissal.

I cannot agree that allowing a student on probation for only one semester would upgrade Eastern's standards. Any student can have a bad semester for a number of reasons. Under the present policy, the university provides an opportunity for the students to redeem themselves. It also provides the student time to renew his or her interest in studies and to accept the real reason why they are here to begin with—to study.

In conclusion, I could not favor a university-wide policy denying every student, for whatever reason, a second chance to evaluate his reasons for being here and which direction he wishes to take his future.

Thanks' for clean pond

Editor:

A hearty "thank you" is extended to the Douglas Hall Council and the idea man, Matt Jessie, for cleaning out the pond south of Lantz and adding to the aesthetic beauty of the campus. You are to be complimented for completing the job on a cold and rainy Saturday.

When the water is covered with plant growth, the area is referred to as the pond. When the water surface is clear, the area is affectionately referred to as the T.C. Lake.

Curriculum committees disagree on requirement

by Mary Holland

A meeting to resolve a conflict about a controversial modern dance class requirement for physical education majors did not produce a compromise between the two dissenting parties.

Curriculum committees from the physical education department and the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation met Monday in an attempt to reach a compromise regarding Physical Education 2230, "Techniques and Theory of Modern Dance."

PE departmental members want the class to be required of all PE majors, while their dean, Walter Lowell, does not think the class should be required for students seeking teacher certification in grades six through 12.

Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives said he was informed Wednesday that the two parties failed to reach an agreement.

Rives said he does not know how the situation will be resolved, but the decision by the Council on Teacher Education could still be implemented.

In a meeting two weeks ago, the council voted that all PE majors seeking teacher certification in grades six through 12 should be required to take the modern dance class.

Pat Flaucher, a PE faculty member representing the department, said the meeting was not amicable.

"The issue is not dance per se," Flaucher said. "The whole issue boils down to the fact that Dean Lowell does not want men taking modern dance."

Lowell could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

Flaucher said the department suggested that the COTE's decision be implemented and then reviewed in four years.

However, the school's curriculum committee rejected this suggestion, Flaucher said. She said Lowell accused the department of not considering students' preferences regarding curriculum matters.

"He is looking for every conceivable avenue to block this," Flaucher said.

Flaucher said the school's curriculum committee suggested that students be allowed an option of taking the modern dance class or other dance classes, such as folk or square dance.

However, department members opposed that suggestion. "Our department did not back that because we thought that was mixing apples and oranges," Flaucher said.

Senate delays vote on bylaws

by Michael Kuo

Eastern's Student Senate voted Wednesday to delay taking action on proposed Off-Campus Student Housing Association bylaws for one week.

Last Wednesday, Student Body President Terry Teele proposed OCSHA bylaws which define specific roles and responsibilities of the organization and its officers. The senate tabled the bylaws for one week for review.

Senator Tom Flynn pointed out Wednesday what he said were "discrepancies in the bylaws which need to be worked out."

Flynn said the proposed bylaws should specify how many unexcused absences an OCSHA executive officer can have before losing his position.

Also, Flynn said the proposed bylaws should include provisions for a "non-student adviser who is associated with the university."

After the meeting, Teele said, "I've said before if anybody in student government had any problems with the bylaws, amendments need to be made."

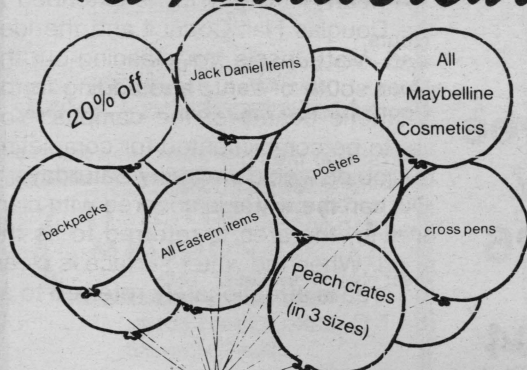

Teele added the "discrepancies" discussed by Flynn at the senate meeting included a list of possible amendments to the proposed bylaws which Teele had compiled.

Sawtelle begins observations of office

by Nancy Yamin

Eastern's new personnel director, Edward Sawtelle, said he will use his first few weeks at Eastern as an observation period to see how the personnel office is currently functioning.

Sawtelle, who replaced former director James Pfeiffer who resigned last spring, began his new duties at Eastern Monday.

"This is a period of exposure right now," he said. Sawtelle said he wants to observe operations and talk with people so he can see the strengths and weaknesses of the personnel office.

"It is too early to make recommendations. First I have to become familiar with the system here," he added.

Sawtelle said he first wants to determine the office's state of affairs and then he can determine what improvements could be made to make it run more efficiently.

He will then set goals, evaluate those goals to determine if they can be met and then meet the goals he has set.

Edward Sawtelle

Sawtelle said he sees the personnel office as serving more than just an employment and testing function. "We are an in-house consultant to operating units in terms of the employees and anything that has to do with the working environment."

"Our office should always be available to provide advisory service. We should be a right-hand adviser to managers," he added.

The personnel director's duties include being in charge of non-faculty contract negotiations, employee scheduling, recruitment of new personnel and representing Eastern in collective bargaining contracts.

Although Sawtelle has not been on campus long, he said he thinks Eastern is a "good institution with an excellent record."

"The caliber of students attracted to a university is important. Eastern has a good record of it. This is a friendly place," he added.

Before assuming his position at Eastern, Sawtelle was the director of personnel administration at Indiana State University, where he said his biggest accomplishment was having his office acknowledged as an internal consulting unit or "advice department."

Sawtelle received a bachelor's degree at Gannon University in Erie, Pa., where he studied political science and psychology.

Women of week acknowledged

by Andrea Nykiel

A new program initiated recently by the Women's Studies Council, "The Woman of the Week," is designed to celebrate women's contributions to society.

A photograph and a brief biography of an outstanding woman will be posted each week on the door of The Women's Resource Center located across from the Union check cashing window.

The poster will pay tribute to a local, state, national or international woman who has made significant contributions to society, Camille Compo, creator of the program, said.

Compo said she hopes the program will "provide a forum for the variety of accomplishments of women."

Jean Coyle, council member, said the program should inspire younger women to pursue their goals.

Any student, faculty or staff member is eligible to submit suggestions for "The Woman of the Week."

Nuclear waste discussed

by Gene O'Shea

Brian Quirke, a public information officer for the U.S. Department of Energy, revealed some major problems and possible alternatives concerning nuclear waste Tuesday.

Quirke spoke to a political science class as the first of a four-part series of student and public energy talks sponsored by the political science department.

Calling the nuclear issue "highly emotional," Quirke said a "top level official of the DOE," which he declined to identify, recently told him, "We don't need a spent fuel storage facility for the next 60 years, except for people's emotional psyches."

Spent fuel is the nuclear waste created by nuclear reactors, Quirke said.

He said spent fuel is "highly dangerous" but "when handled properly, it causes no risk. The packaging and handling of it will eliminate risk."

"The DOE's goal is that no radioactive waste will reach man for 10,000 years," he said. "We haven't reached that yet, but we will."

A portion of the DOE's budget is spent on a Strategic Petroleum Reserve, Quirke said. "We want it (the reserve) to be four times bigger. A billion barrels is our goal."

Quirke said the present reserve would only last 60 days in a national emergency. "If we get clobbered by another shortage like the one in '73 and '74, where will the solution come from? The strategic reserve is only a short answer."

"What I think is going to be the answer is solar photovoltaics," Quirke said. Solar photovoltaics is a process in which direct solar energy is converted into electricity.

Heuman to examine coverage

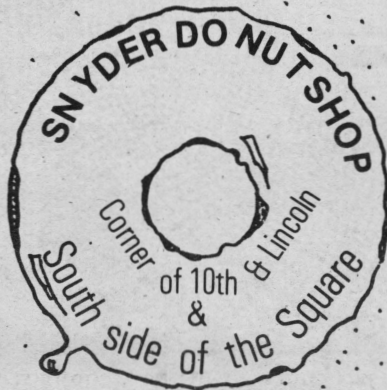

Credibility of the Mideast's media coverage will be examined by speech-communications instructor Joe Heuman at a brown bag seminar Thursday.

"I will discuss mostly whether we can rely on the TV network to give a balanced report of the Mideast," Heuman said.

Heuman was chosen to present the seminar because he has conducted research on media coverage of the Mideast. Heuman also has prepared several papers which criticized the television media's coverage.

The seminar is a three-part series, coordinator Dick Goodrick said. Each seminar is designed to address a different aspect of the Mideast.

The seminar, "Do We Have a Balanced View of the Mideast," will be presented at noon Thursday in the Bookstore lounge.

Lower price band tickets to go on sale

by Terry Moore

The Kind, a Chicago-based rock band, will perform at Eastern Oct. 20 and students may purchase tickets in advance at a reduced price.

Bruce Quillen, University Board Mainstage committee coordinator, announced at Tuesday's UB meeting that advance tickets for the concert will go on sale Oct. 18 in the Union Ticket Office.

Advanced ticket prices are $2 for Eastern students and $4.50 for the general public. Tickets at the door will be $2.50 for students and $5 for the public.

UB members also heard an evaluation by movies committee coordinator John Brom of that committee's latest showings.

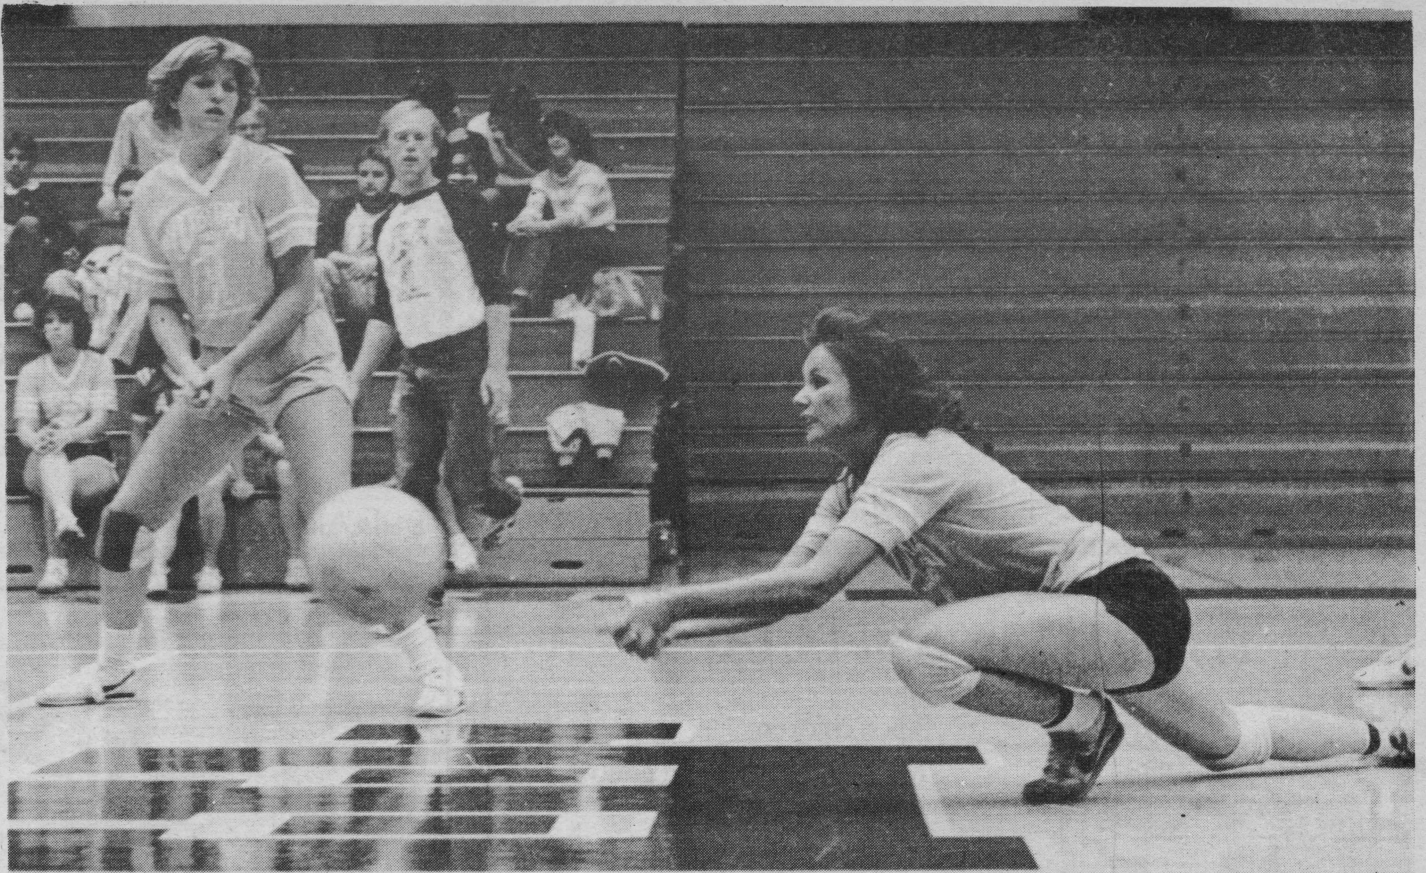

Brom said attendance at last Friday's film "Richard Pryor Live on Sunset Strip" was "disappointing" and that a showing of "Ultra Flesh" Monday also did not generate as much money as was expected.

Brom also announced a change in the showing of two upcoming movies. "Aristocats" will be shown at 6:30 and 9 p.m. Oct. 8 in the Union Ballroom rather than in the Grand Ballroom as was previously announced.

Ticket prices for "Continental Divide," to be shown Oct. 8, have been lowered from $1.25 to $1. Advanced tickets for that film will go on sale Friday in the Union Ticket Office.

In other business, Dave Fike, video tape committee coordinator, said the start of regular programming of feature films and concerts in the Union Video Lounge has been delayed because the monitor still needs to be mounted on the wall.

Fike said the committee must wait for Physical Plant workers to mount the monitor.

Administration course approved

by Mary Holland

The Council on Teacher Education Tuesday approved a new course in educational administration in the school service personnel department.

The council approved Educational Administration 5960, "Data Management in Educational Administration."

David Bartz, who will be teaching the class, said the course will enable administrators to use data management functions to provide services and make administrative decisions.

Bartz said Eastern graduates who went through the educational administration program were surveyed regarding the classes that should be included in the program.

"A course of this type was highly recommended by those who had been in our program in the last five years," Bartz said.

The course will be required for students enrolled in the master's degree in education and specialist in educational programs in educational administration, Bartz said.

After approving the course, the council went into executive session to discuss applicants for the new dean of the School of Education.

Opera performs music, comedy

The National Opera Company is scheduled to present Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" (The Revenge of the Bat) at 8 p.m. Sunday in Dvorak Concert Hall in the Fine Arts Building.

The performance, which is being sponsored by the University Board's performing arts committee, combines music and comedy and will be presented in English, committee coordinator Diane Capranica said.

Tickets are $2 for Eastern students and $5 for the general public.

GOING TO COLLEGE? SAVE YOUR TIME AND YOUR MONEY . . .

because if you don't, you won't be there long!! For the first time, students and graduates, and even dropouts have collaborated on a project aimed directly at making your college career a successful one.

WHAT DO YOU NEED?

You need to know how to read. You also need to know how to take advantage of others' experience. More importantly, you need enough money and time to achieve your goal. Before you can succeed in your chosen career you must succeed in college. If you are not in college to become successful, you don't need to read any further.

50% OF STUDENTS WILL FAIL . . .

to graduate from the college that they entered. That's right!! Fully half of all entering students do not graduate. That is a national average. Why? Some of you don't belong in college. However, most of these dropouts simply either can't afford to continue or they can't organize their time. If your time isn't organized, your college life will be miserable!

If someone had given me this information in school I would not have had to quit . . . I was broke and discouraged. This book could have saved me in college.

R.K.R.

SCHOLARSHIPS & FINANCIAL AID . . .

are getting harder and harder to obtain. The Original College Survival Guide, tells you how and where to look. There is still aid available if you know how to go about getting it.

WHAT'S TO LOSE?

Absolutely nothing. That's right, not one thing. If for any reason, you return your book within ten days undamaged, your money will be fully refunded. No questions, no strings, you will get your money back. It's that simple.

WHAT'S TO GAIN?

The Original College Survival Guide, tells you how to save your time and your money. You can save 20% or more on your current food costs with just a little effort and know-how. It does more than that. Your book tells you how to deal effectively with the administration. You will learn what to beware of in leases and how to get out of them if you have to. It even tells you how to make money at college!

$100 CASH IN ONE DAY!!

Several methods described in this book can net you this much and more!! No tricks and no gimmicks. These methods have been tried and proven by other students. You have the motivation and intelligence or you wouldn't be in college. The Original College Survival Guide, gives you the secrets. You supply the effort.

FREE ROOM AND BOARD!!

That's right, free. Many students pay no money for their room and board. No, they don't live at home. You could do it too, if you knew how. Remember, if you are not satisfied with The Original College Survival Guide, for any reason, you get your money back. What do you have to lose?

ROTTEN ROOMMATES & BAD PROF'S.

You should avoid both. You can if you know how. You will learn how to find out who the bad teachers and lousy roommates are before you get them, not after. Moreover, you will learn what it takes to be a good roommate.

APARTMENT OR HOUSE?

Or should you live in the dorm or perhaps at home? Your book gives you the trade-offs to consider.

IN EIGHT WEEKS . . .

You can be two months poorer or many years wiser. The decision is yours. The years of experience contained in The Original College Survival Guide, have never been presented in such a complete and easy to read fashion before.

I could have saved a small fortune in college with this book. I sure as - - - am now.
A. D. Law Student
Ventura, California

YOU PAID MORE . . .

just to apply to college. They didn't give you a money back guarantee either. Shouldn't you be willing to pay less to find out how to get through college than you did to get in?

I wouldn't be successful today if I hadn't succeeded in college. This book would have made it a lot easier on my wallet and my mind. The information in this book is worth hundreds of dollars to any student.

Tour of homes scheduled

by Matthew Krasnowski

Students not leaving town this weekend for fall break may be interested in learning some history about Charleston and its residents in an event scheduled Sunday.

A tour of four historic Charleston homes will be sponsored by the Association for the Preservation of Historical Coles County, Leyla Waddell, an APHCC member said.

Waddell said the four houses on tour are the Kelly house, 820 Sixth St., the Allen house, 840 Seventh St., the Porter house, 203 Harrison Ave. and the Nordtvedt house, 1115 Monroe Ave.

The tour will be from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday beginning at the Coles County Courthouse on the Charleston square, Waddell said.

"There will be brochures containing information about the houses available and refreshments served there," she added.

"APHCC members and the owners will be at the houses to answer questions and to talk about the houses,"

Waddell said. "Each house has its own different point of interest, whether it be age, style or the people who lived there."

"The tour is being held to raise money for the association," she said. "We publish tour maps of Coles County and brochures. So we do need some funds."

The group also needs funds to reroof the old barn by Lake Charleston, she added. "We have gotten bids from contractors from between $2,000 and $9,000. But hopefully we have convinced the city council to help us."

The APHCC is an organization to help preserve and appreciate historic house in Coles County, Waddell said. "We first organized in 1978 to try and save the old jail and sheriff's office. We failed, but the people who tried to save it stayed together and we are still around today."

Tickets for the tour are $3 and will be available Sunday at the courthouse, Waddell said. The tickets are tax deductible contributions.

Students can share in activities of annual Harvest Frolic festival

by Mike Pramshafer

Students will have the opportunity to participate in apple cider pressing, butter churning, candle making, quilting and a corn harvest at the ninth annual Harvest Frolic festival this weekend.

The Harvest Frolic is an old-time gathering of friends who participate in the activities of the harvest season.

Activities such as making candles for winter nights, drying and storing food for the winter season and harvesting corn will be featured Saturday and Sunday at the Lincoln Log Cabin State Historic Site.

"The Harvest Frolic usually goes over well because these people like to get together and have a good time," Tom Vance, festival organizer, said. "But at the same time, they like to get a lot of work done."

Activities, scheduled from noon to 5 p.m. both days, include pioneer cooking, apple butter making, food drying, spinning, corn husk crafts, period music, black powder demonstrations, broom making, chair caning, folk toys and dulcimer making.

Hay rides and a square dance are the main events for Saturday evening, Vance said.

The square dance will take place in the new log barn with live music by the Indian Creek Delta Boys.

"The Indian Creek Delta Boys can play early traditional music, which is just right for this occasion," he said.

Saturday's hay rides will begin at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the square dance at 7:30 p.m.

"There will also be a fiddler on hand during most of the two days," Vance said.

All activities are free. The Lincoln Log Cabin State Historic Site is located eight miles south of Charleston in Lerna.

Official Notices are paid for through the Office of University Relations. Questions concerning notices should be directed to that Office.

Teaching Certificates

All students completing a teacher preparation program this summer, and wishing to obtain an Illinois Teaching Certificate, must apply for that certificate. Students may pick up the necessary application forms in room 210 of the Buzzard Education Building. Please note that the deadline for applying is November 15. Individuals completing programs in Administration and Supervision, Guidance and Counseling, School Psychology or Speech Pathology should submit applications through their respective departments. These departments will verify eligibility and forward the applications to my office.

This announcement does NOT apply to students obtaining their certificate through "transcript evaluation". Such individuals should apply through the Superintendent of their Educational Service Region. Anyone needing further information or assistance may contact Dr. Schlinsog in Room 210 of the Buzzard Education Building.

Application forms are being mailed to student teachers scheduled to graduate this term. These should be returned as soon as possible. Any student teacher graduating this term who does not receive an application by September 30 should write or phone Dr. Schlinsog immediately. Phone (217) 581-2517.

Campus clips

Public Administration Association and Political Science Department will sponsor a brown bag seminar Thursday, Sept. 30 at noon in the Union Bookstore Lounge. Joe Hueman of the speech department will present the second in a three-part series: "Do We Have a Balanced View of Middle East?" The public is urged to attend.

IVCF will meet Thursday, Sept. 30 at 7:00 p.m. in the Phone Lobby (under Union Walkway). Activities will be announced at the meeting.

Newman Community will hold Mass Saturday, Oct. 2 at 6:30 p.m. in the Newman Center and Sunday, Oct. 3 at 11:00 a.m. in Buzzard Auditorium.

Campus Clips are published daily, free of charge, as a public service to the campus. Clips should be submitted to The Daily Eastern News office two business days before date to be published (or date of event). Information should include event, name of sponsoring organization (spelled out — no Greek letter abbreviations), date, time and place of event, plus any other pertinent information. Name and phone number of submitter must be included. Clips containing conflicting or confusing information will not be run if submitter cannot be contacted. Clips will be edited for space available. Clips submitted after 9:00 a.m. of deadline day cannot be guaranteed publication. Clips will be run one day only for any event. No clips will be taken by phone.

Snake: AN ATHLETE AND A SCHOLAR

Snake's Coach Man or Myth

Kegar the Beerbarian

You know what really burns me up?

Nuclear Firestorms.

Actually, I was thinking more along the lines of dorm food, but now that he mentions it...

DOONESBURY

Mr. Harris, I've been looking over your academic transcript, and I've been trying to find the right word to describe your career here...

"Checkered" comes to mind, of course. "Disastrous" also suggests itself, as does "catastrophic."

How about "colorful" or perhaps "remarkable"?

Yes, those are applicable. "Colorful" certainly reflects the spirit of your record, and who could argue with "remarkable"?

Who indeed?

And yet, "catastrophic" stays with me...

You're fixating. Put it aside for awhile.

Panthers fall in MCC rankings; Nixon leads with three top ranks

by John Humenik

Eastern's 10-10 Mid-Continent Conference tie with Northern Iowa and Southwest Missouri's 51-3 thrashing of Lincoln University Saturday had big effects on the MCC's weekly football rankings released Wednesday.

Eastern's deadlock affected the Panthers' showing in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's weekly Division I-AA rankings as the Panthers' individual rankings fell from five to three.

"I'm happy that we're undefeated (3-0-1), but we haven't really jelled as a team, I feel," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "When we do jell, the statistics will definitely improve."

Among MCC teams, the Panthers continued to rank the best offensively despite dropping from 376.3 to 345 yards per game. Southwest Missouri climbed from third to second place by boosting its average from 252 yards to 328 yards per game.

Western Illinois slipped to third position following the Leatherneck's 27-10 loss to Northeast Missouri. Western is averaging 275.6 yards per game after notching 304 yards per game last week.

Defensively there were no changes this week, but some surprises as the Panthers, in third place, allowed 26.5 fewer points per game. Southwest Missouri leads the conference with a 234.8 yard average.

Eastern remained the MCC's best scoring team, despite dropping from last week's 24 average to 20.5 points per game. Southwest Missouri leaped from fourth place to second by improving the Bears' 4.3 average to 16 points per game.

In addition, the Bears went from second in team scoring defense to the MCC's top spot. Southwest Missouri improved its average from 11.3 points per game to 9.3 points. Consequently, the Panthers fell to second place with a 10.2 average.

Eastern, which had ranked 20th among NCAA I-AA teams in rushing offense, fell out of the NCAA's survey after dropping from 204.7 yards per game to 174.5. The Panthers also slipped from first to second in the MCC.

Eastern showed improvement in team rushing defense by dropping its average from 96.7 yards per game to 89.0 yards per game. The Panthers also moved three positions, from 17th to 14th, in the NCAA's rankings.

In team passing, the Panthers remained second in the MCC with a 170.5 average. Western Illinois leads the conference with a 186.3 average, although the Leathernecks' average had slipped from 193.5 yards per game last week.

Southwest Missouri again ranks the best in passing defense, while Eastern remained in the MCC's last spot with a 195.2 average per game. The Bears improved their average from 134 yards per game to 123.5.

Eastern halfback Kevin Staple continues to rank as the MCC's best running back, despite dropping his rushing average from 110.3 yards per game to 93.5. Staple fell from 13th to 17th in the NCAA's Division I-AA rankings this week.

Panther Wes Nixon follows Staple in third position among MCC running backs with a 61.3 average. In addition, Nixon leads the MCC in scoring (4.5 points a game), kickoff returns (24.5 yards a return) and in punt returns (12 yards a return).

"We had not planned on using Nixon in specialty teams, but his performance has spoken for itself," Mudra said. "And I think we'll leave him there."

Nixon owns the final NCAA ranking Eastern received this week in all-purpose running. The junior transfer from Illinois Valley Community College ranks 12th with a 146.7 yard average per game. Nixon had ranked 11th in kickoff returns, but fell out of the survey this week after dropping from 27.2 yards per return to 24.5.

Eastern quarterback Jeff Christensen, who ranked 21st in the NCAA survey for total offense also dropped from the rankings this week. However, among MCC players Christensen ranks second to Southwest Missouri's Greg Arterburn with a 169.5 average.

However, Christensen remained the conference's best quarterback, completing 52 of 107 tosses. Christensen also averaged 170.5 yards per game in passing.

Northern Iowa's Larry Miller is currently ranked second-best quarterback with a 162 average.

Consistent is best label for Warneke

by Rhea Nall

Consistency is a major element in any sport, but for Eastern senior cross country standout Tim Warneke, it's the only thing. And this season Warneke is just that—consistent.

Through four meets, Warneke's worst finish has been a third place effort in the Panther-Alumni warm-up meet Sept. 4. However, when it comes to accomplishments, Warneke is having one of his finest seasons ever.

Warneke has been an individual winner in two meets this season for Eastern, while placing second in another. The Park Forest South native defeated 260 runners last Saturday in Kenosha, Wis., to win the USA/TFA Midwest championship, while claiming a dual meet title against Southeast Missouri Sept. 10.

In addition, Warneke finished second to Purdue University's Bill Shuey. The Panthers also lost 25-32 but Warneke continued to lead his teammates.

"I've been working real hard but no harder than in the past," Warneke said. "I could have won the TFA meet last year but I just wasn't consistent enough like I have been this year."

Warneke said he thinks much of his success has stemmed from the coaching of former coach Tom Woodall and this season's cross country coaches Tom Akers and Neil Moore. In addition, Warneke said he relied on running with Eastern's past standout competitors.

"It has really helped that I have been able to run against some strong runners from Eastern," Warneke said. "The good program at Eastern has helped me become a better runner."

Moore said he believes Warneke could go a long way this year in nationals if he continues his performances in remaining consistent.

"I think that Tim has a good chance to go to nationals this year. If he continues running strong, I think he will qualify," Moore said.

"I am pleased with Tim's efforts," Moore added. "He is leading the team by example in meets and in practice."

However, Warneke is not looking too far down the road to nationals. Warneke said his major concern is concentrating on the upcoming Notre Dame Invitational and the Illinois Intercollegiate meet Friday and Oct. 16, respectively.

"Going to nationals would be great but I've been around long enough not to look forward too far down the road," Warneke said.

"Right now, the team is looking to do well in the Notre Dame meet and we are looking to do very well in the state meet," Warneke added.

Women striders face tough Salukis unit

by Kathy Leahy

Eastern's women's cross country team will be on the road Saturday to challenge a strong Southern Illinois-Carbondale squad on an equally tough course.

The 5,000-kilometer course is tough and very hilly, but Eastern coach John Craft said his squad is not making any big workout changes to prepare for Saturday's meet.

"We've run some hills, but other than that, practices have been the same as usual," Craft said.

The Panthers face the Salukis with course experience in senior-captain Gina Sperry, who has run the course before. In addition, juniors Nancy Kramer and Karie Mortell enter Saturday's meet knowing what to expect.

Sperry finished 18th out of 223 runners last weekend in the USA/TFA Midwest Championships in Kenosha, Wis., while Margaret Smith finished 30th, notching her best race of the season. Anne Ogle also finished strong in 79th place.

Craft was pleased with the team's performance last weekend, but said the harriers were capable of turning in a much better performance.

"We need to work on establishing ourselves earlier in the race," Craft said.

Strider Notes... Following Eastern's meeting with SIU-C Saturday, the Panthers compete at the Indiana Invitational Oct. 9. For Eastern, it will be a good chance to look over the course also designated for the National Collegiate Athletic Conference championships

Golfers confront SIU-E; await Springfield course

by Scott Mountford

Eastern's golf team will be on the road this Saturday to participate in the Southern Illinois-Edwardsville tournament at Springfield, the site of this summer's Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

"I'm really anxious for our team to play this course," Eastern coach Kevin Anglin said. "It's one of the best in the state."

Leading the way for the Panthers will be senior-captain Kevin Strothmann, along with senior Mike Wendlandt.

"Wendlandt plays a better game than I do on the road," Strothmann said. "However, when we're at home, I seem to have the edge."

Strothmann will need to be ready Monday when the Panthers take on the always-tough University of Illinois in Mattoon.

"I think we have a very good chance of beating them," Strothmann said. "It just depends on who they send down."

Golf Notes... The clash with the Fighting Illini Monday also marks the conclusion of the fall season for the Panthers. Eastern will resume the second half of its season April 2 against Southern Illinois-Carbondale.

Penguins better than early record indicates

by Paul Black

Football teams too often are measured by their win-loss records. Records do measure the amount of success, but they can be deceiving at times.

Such is the case as Eastern prepares for Saturday's 6:30 p.m. clash with Ohio Valley Conference member Youngstown State with the competition factor clearly in mind.

The Penguins, currently 1-3, have been hit by a tough schedule early in the season and are looking to improve this weekend at the expense of Eastern. However, the Panthers, 3-0-1, realize that a loss to the Penguins would not help their situation.

"It's easy to say a team is stronger than its record, but we shouldn't be fooled by this (1-3)," Eastern head coach Darrell Mudra said. "They won five of the last six last season, but have had some injuries this year which have a factor. Plus, they play a difficult schedule."

That tough schedule included losing to arch-rival Akron 37-14, perennial Division I-AA power Eastern Kentucky 31-17 and a 57-3 romp by Cincinnati.

Eastern Kentucky finished runner-up in last year's Division I-AA playoffs and have made an appearance in the title game the past three years.

The Penguins are led by All-American Paris Wicks, who is averaging 107 yards per game and is ranked 10th in Division I-AA. Wicks provides half of the Penguins' offense which is averaging 300 yards per game.

Wicks was held to just 51 yards last week by Cincinnati and will be meeting an Eastern defense that has yielded a mere 89 yards rushing per game.

"Our defense has done a superb job particularly

against the run and we've only given up one touchdown in the second half," Mudra added. "I'm really pleased with our progress."

In addition, the Penguins have a potential trump card with junior place kicker Paul McFadden. McFadden, who is sixth in Division I-AA with seven field goals in 10 attempts, booted a 53-yard field goal against Cincinnati.

Consequently, McFadden has consistently scored from the 30- to 40-yard range this season which makes him a player to be reckoned with.

Defensively, the Penguins are led by sophomore Dave Peters who has already picked off four passes this year which places him 11th on the Division I-AA list. The senior defensive back also has notched 29 tackles, with 22 solos stops and seven assists.

Youngstown's leading tackler is linebacker Mark Derthick with 46 tackles. The 6-foot-5 sophomore also has registered 25 solo hits, two quarterback sacks and five tackles for losses.

Eastern will counter with the tandem rushing game of halfbacks Kevin Staple and Wes Nixon. Staple has caught 50 passes in his 2½-year career and needs only three more to tie Rod Slaughter for most career receptions by an Eastern running back.

Eastern quarterback Jeff Christensen will be out to break Steve Turk's career passing record of 36 touchdown passes in Saturday's game. Christensen's touchdown aerial to Nixon at Northern Iowa last week tied Turk's record.

Panther Notes... Youngstown leads the series 7-2 winning last year's contest 48-16. Tight end Dirk Androff has moved into the number two quarterback spot. Androff was a prep quarterback who was moved to tight end last fall. However, with the new formation, the Panthers have gone to Darryon White more as a running back-tight end. Offensive coordinator Chuck Dickerson said Androff would still be used at tight end, but is concentrating more as the reserve signal caller.

Spikers top squad in Hawkeye tourney

by Susan McCann

Eastern's volleyball squad will be riding a seven-game winning streak when the spikers open play at the Hawkeye Invitational at Iowa City, Iowa this weekend.

"Eastern Illinois is probably the team to beat," Panther coach Carol Gruber said. "I think we'll be just as strong as any of the other teams."

The Panthers will face the host Hawkeyes at 7:15 p.m. Friday and meet the other members of the five-team field Saturday.

Eastern opens the event's second day with a 9 a.m. match against Western Illinois, followed by an 11:30 a.m. contest with DePaul.

The spikers conclude round-robin play with a 3:15 p.m. match against the University of Wisconsin-Parkside. All matches will be decided by best-of-five games.

The Panther spikers probably boast the best record, 15-5, entering the tournament, although Wisconsin-Parkside carried a 7-1 mark into the Ferris State College Tournament last weekend.

Parkside's current record was not available Wednesday.

Gruber said Wisconsin-Parkside, which "in the past has had a fairly solid program, could be a surprise" contender for the tournament title.

Eastern's first opponent, Iowa, owned a 2-9 record entering Wednesday night's match with Iowa State. The Hawkeyes have not won since Sept. 10, when they downed South Dakota State and Oklahoma City to even their record at 2-2.

Injuries have plagued the Hawkeyes this season, including a severe ankle sprain that will keep 5-foot-7 sophomore Cathy Arsenault out of action for another two weeks.

But a pair of Iowa players—5-foot-10 junior Joanie Boesen and 5-foot-10 sophomore Tina Steffen—recently returned to the court after injuries prevented them from playing.

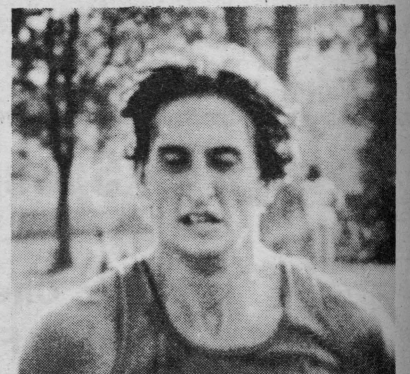

One of Iowa's defeats was to the University of Northern Iowa, which trounced the Hawkeyes Sept. 15 by 15-1, 15-6 and 15-6 scores. Eastern upended UNI Sept. 4 in two games at the EIU Quadrangular.

The Lady Panthers' first opponent Saturday, Western Illinois, defeated Iowa Sept. 22 by 15-8, 15-11, 11-15 and 15-6 scores.

Western fell to Eastern Sept. 11, 15-13, 15-13, 13-15 and 15-9.

Another blemish on Western's 3-7 record was a 15-12, 15-10, 15-11 loss to Northern Illinois, a squad Eastern downed in three games at the EIU Quadrangular.
