COMPOSITION AND LITERATURE (Writing-Centered Course)
ENGLISH 1002G-018
Spring 2015

Catalogue Description:

(3-0-3) Graded (A, B, C, N/C) A writing course designed to improve skills in critical thinking and analytical expression based on the reading of literary texts. WC

Prerequisites & Notes:

ENG 1001G. C1 901R Note: A grade of 'C' or better in ENG 1001G, ENG 1002G, and CMN 1310G or in accepted substitutions is a requirement for the Bachelor's degree at Eastern as well as a General Education requirement.

Credits: 3

Objectives:

- to promote careful, coherent, substantive writing;
- to encourage active, thoughtful reading of world-class drama, fiction, and poetry;
- to increase understanding of views and cultures represented in literature;
- to sharpen critical thinking -- the analysis of ideas and evidence;
- to provide experience using primary and secondary evidence.

Scope: During the term you will read a range of drama, fiction, and poetry. You will complete three typed essays of four to five pages (at least 1,200 words) of argument, plus a "Works Cited." You will write two essays in class (500-600 words each). To help you write the in-class essays, you can bring outlines but not complete drafts. As a capstone experience, you will interpret a range of stories and poems during a final in-class exam. The final exam will require you to write two short interpretations (about 250-300 words each) and one essay (about 500-600 words). In addition, a portion of your grade will be based on pop quizzes. Here's a breakdown of the components that will determine your final grade for the course:

- three out-of-class essays supported with research: 50% of grade

-two in-class essays:	25% of grade
-pop quizzes:	10% of grade
-final examination:	15% of grade

Grading Policy: For the essays and final, I will grade using a simple ten-point scale. That is, a 92% is an A- , an 87% is a B+, and so on. When I grade the essays and the final, I will consider content (purpose, reasoning, evidence), organization and coherence, grammar and mechanics, and style. Keep in mind that an essay or a final will fail if it is radically deficient in any of the areas for grading I have mentioned. After all, readers are served neither by a technically perfect essay that is superficial and empty nor an otherwise thoughtful essay that is riddled with distracting errors and infelicities.

Revision Opportunity: You can revise your in-class essays for up to 15% over your original grade.

Late-Work Policy: You are expected to hand in your work on time and in class. You will forfeit five points each day for late work and five points for work placed in my mail on the due date.

Attendance Policy: If you are enrolled in another class or engaged in any other activity that may cause you to miss a significant number of classes in 1002G, you should not attempt to take 1002G this term. If you have an excused absence, I will arrange time for you to catch up with written work. For an excused absence, you must provide a verifiable excuse from Health Service, a doctor, or a University official. After three unexcused absences, you will forfeit 10% of the course grade and 5% for each subsequent absence. The same penalties will apply to arriving at class late, leaving class early, and leaving and returning during class, unless you obtain my approval.

Plagiarism Policy: Plagiarism is a serious offense; it is intellectual theft and fraud. Accordingly, plagiarism will be punished in conformity with English Department and University procedures. Here is the English Department's statement concerning plagiarism:

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism --"The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one's own work"-- (Random House Dictionary of the English Language) has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of a grade of "F" for the assigned essay and a grade of "F" for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office. Respect for the work of others should encompass all formats, including print, electronic, and oral sources.

Students with Disabilities: If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.

Writing Portfolio Submissions: If you choose to do so, you may submit one of your essays for your writing portfolio. Before you submit the essay electronically, give me a copy of the graded essay. Keep in mind that all submissions must include at least 750 words. To review instructions for electronic submission, go to “Electronic Writing Portfolio” by using the A to Z index at the upper right of Eastern’s Website.

Office Hours:

Whenever you want to ask questions about assignments or talk about your work for the course, feel free to schedule a time to meet with me during office hours or some other time of mutual convenience. I look forward to seeing you.

Student Success Center:

Students who are having difficulty achieving their academic goals are encouraged to contact the Student Success Center (www.eiu.edu/~success) for assistance with time management, text taking, avoiding procrastination, setting goals, and other skills to support academic achievement.
