FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL --The Coalition of Adult Education Organizations (CAEO) has established an "outstanding service award" that will go annually "to a person who has made a distinguished contribution recently to the field of adult and continuing education."

George Hackler, Director of Continuing Education at Eastern Illinois University, said contributions may be an imaginative and constructive program conducted in one or more institutions; the writing of a significant book in the field; "inspired" teaching of adult education; or distinguished participation in professional associations devoted to adult education.

Nominations must be made no later than Feb. 15 and should include a statement of the nominee's contributions, plus a minimum of three professional references.

Recommendations and supporting documents should be mailed to Andrew M. Hansen, Reference and Adult Services Division, American Library Association, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago, IL 60611.
