Professional Writing Career Development

Fall 2018 | (1 credit)

Course Description

This course is designed to help you prepare for your post-undergraduate professional and/or academic experiences. In this course, you will research job openings and professional organizations, meet with professionals in one or more related fields, analyze your own professional skills and abilities, and read course materials related to career development. As part of the class, you will create some or all of the following: a final resume, a cover letter template, a print portfolio, a professional website or online portfolio, and a personal statement for graduate school.

Required Course Materials

Smith and Haines-Korn. Portfolios for Technical and Professional Communicators

Course Requirements

1. Job Search project: In this two-part project, you will research a jobs database to find ten jobs you might be qualified to apply for. You will then write an analysis of one of those ads.

2A. Resume/Cover Letter. You will create (and revise and revise and revise!) your resume and a sample cover letter.

--OR--

2B. Graduate school application letter and personal statement. You will create (and revise and revise and revise!) your written application materials for a graduate program of your choice.

3. LinkedIn profile or professional website. You will set up a robust LinkedIn profile or professional website that helps you reach potential employers and networking contacts.

4. Externship/interview reports. You will interview and (if possible) job shadow two different professionals during the semester. You will then report the results of your interviews to the class in the form of a presentation and accompanying electronic handout.

5. Post-graduation plan. You will put together a guided post-graduate plan, including a timeline.

4. Homework/reflection/participation. This class will include a lot of reflective assignments designed to help you identify your strengths and interests. You will also prepare for and participate in a mock job interview.

Assessment

Each assignment will include specific criteria. The grade breakdown for assignments is below. Note: I reserve the right to make additions and alterations to this assessment breakdown should the need arise. Students will be informed in class and in writing prior to any changes being made.

Assignment	% grade
Job search project	10
Resumé/cover letter --OR-- Grad school application	20
LinkedIn or website	20
Externship reports	25
Job search plan	5
Homework / participation	20

The grading scale for this course is as follows:

90–100	A
80–89.9	B
70–79.9	C
60–69.9	D
59.9 and below	F

Attendance

This class meets only once per week and its success depends on our ability to create a community of support for one another as you develop post-graduate plans and professional application materials. On those days when we have presentations, your active participation is crucial.

- You may miss no more than one class period.
 - If you must miss a class, you are still responsible for meeting assignment deadlines. Submit assignments via D2L email or dropbox, as appropriate.
 - You cannot receive participation points on days you are absent.

Deadlines

All assignments must be submitted by class time on the date listed. Late projects will be docked 5% each day until they are turned in.

Expected Conduct

This class focuses on communicating in professional settings. Just as in a workplace setting, certain types of conduct are expected. In addition to the policies pertaining to attendance and deadlines, pay attention to the following course policies:

- Class correspondence (i.e., emails you send to someone in the class, including me) should be written professionally and according to the expectations of the business world. Expect to receive feedback from me on the style, content, and organization of your emails.
- In this course, you will need to use advanced features of common software such as Microsoft Word, web editing technologies, and other programs that may be new to you. I am always happy to give you advice and out-of-class assistance at your request, but I expect you to be willing to develop the software skills you need to complete projects effectively.
- Keep copies of all work you produce for this class, including handwritten work, as they may be useful preparation for later graded assignments. Do not store your work only on a single flash drive. If I have given you a hand-written evaluation on an assignment or activity, save that evaluation until you have received your final grade in the course.
- Class time is for doing work related to the course. Limit your use of email, the internet, cell phones, etc. to course-related work during class time.
- All major assignments listed on this course policy sheet must be completed in order to pass the course.
- Scholarly integrity and ethics--students are expected to maintain principles of academic integrity and conduct as defined in EIU's Code of Conduct. Violations will be reported to the Office of Student Standards. If you are in doubt of the appropriate way to identify your source, check with me before turning in the assignment. If you have any questions regarding appropriate handling of sources, collaboration, or past work, talk with me before turning in an assignment.
- If circumstances arise that may impact your ability to maintain our course policies, address the situation as you would in the workplace—professionally, courteously, and in advance.
