CHARLESTON, IL --The first program in a black film series will be presented at Eastern Illinois University on Monday, Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. in Coleman Hall, Room 121.

Dr. Jimmie Franklin, History Department, will lead the discussion revolving around the full-length western, "Buck and the Preacher," starring Harry Belafonte and Sidney Portier. There is no admission charge.

The Illinois Humanities Council awarded the Afro-American Studies and Research program at the University of Illinois a $23,000 grant to provide funding for a film discussion series to be presented in six Illinois communities, including Charleston.

The project will attempt to study the relationships of blacks and non-blacks in American society and the value systems which form the basis of the meaning for their social lives.
