Course Description

ENG 5007: Composition Pedagogies will prepare you to teach college writing through both theory and praxis. This course will cover best practices for teaching writing in the college classroom, and help you apply what you learn to the teaching of writing courses. In addition to designing your own lesson plans and researching a writing studies issue/topic, you will also engage with writing studies topics and concerns, like responding to and assessing student writing, facilitating class discussions, as well as the why and how of crafting class activities and assignments.

Course Objectives

- ◇ Demonstrate breadth and depth of knowledge about the history, theories, and movements within Rhetoric and Composition
- ◇ Analyze and synthesize diverse composition theories
- ◇ Demonstrate preparation to apply composition theories and pedagogies to one's own teaching
- ◇ Demonstrate effective oral and written communication through leading discussions and formal presentations
- ◇ Demonstrate the ability to produce a research article that could lead to presentation or publication

Required Materials

- ◇ Bean, John C and Dan Metzger. Engaging Ideas: The Professor's Guide to Integrating Writing, Critical Thinking, and Active Learning in the Classroom. 3rd ed., Josey-Bass, 2021.
- ◇ Adler-Kassler, Linda, and Elizabeth Wardle. Naming What We Know: Threshold Concepts of the Writing Classroom. Classroom Edition. Utah State UP, 2016.
- ◇ Reliable access to the internet and D2L.
- ◇ Reliable access to a working computer with Microsoft Word, which you can get for free through Office 365.
- ◇ A flash drive on which to back up your work, or Cloud storage.

Office Hours

My office hours will take place both physically and virtually this semester. Office hours are a chance for you to get help on coursework; go over material covered in class; talk about connections between class material and your other academic work; and so on. I strongly encourage you to take advantage of this time. If you would like to stop by and chat face-to-face, you can find me in Coleman 3040. If you would prefer to chat online, follow the Zoom information provided at the top of this syllabus.

Course Work

	Project #1: Composition Theorist Review	Project #2: Lesson Plan Design
Major Course Projects	Project #3: Research Annotated Bibliography + Synthesis	Project #4: Teaching Philosophy
	To receive credit for your major assignments, you will need to complete each step of the process on time, according to specifications, and with your best effort. The specifics about each project are outlined in their respective assignment sheets on D2L. Assignments will be turned in via D2L via the weekly folder/module in which they are due.
Additional Coursework	Discussion Board: You will post at least once a week on the discussion board and posts are due Fridays by midnight . Discussion board posts will be in response to the readings assigned for a given week. You will also be expected to post 2 peer responses per week, and these are due on Sundays by midnight . Discussion board prompts will be included with the weekly module in which they are assigned. See the Discussion Board Assignment Sheet on D2L for more details.
Participation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Participate in class activities and contribute to discussions, both in class and online ➤ Give your best effort for all work ➤ Contribute to group work and respect all members of the class at all times

Late Work

All work or drafts must be turned in electronically on the date due as specified on the course schedule. Use double-spaced, Times New Roman or Garamond 12 pt font, and MLA formatting for your projects. Any work submitted late will not be accepted and will receive a zero. Because circumstances sometimes prohibit the timely completion of work, each student is allowed one (1) late pass per semester without consequences to your grade. If you are having trouble with an assignment or struggling to meet a deadline, do not hesitate to contact me or chat with me during my office hours to determine a date you can complete the assignment.

Grading System

Assignments are graded on a point system. Your final grade will be based on 1000 points, which are broken down as follows:

Major Projects (pts include process work)
Project #1: Composition Theorist Review	125 pts
Project #2: Lesson Plan Design	125 pts
Project #3: Annotated Bib + Synthesis	200 pts
Project #4: Teaching Philosophy	100 pts
Additional Coursework
Discussion Board Posts (x14)	280 pts (20 pts each)
Peer Responses (14 x 2 = 28 total)	140 pts (5 pts each, x2 each week)
Leading Class Discussion	30 pts
Totals
Major Assignments	550 pts
Additional Coursework	450 pts
Total	1000 pts

D2L

We will be a Learning Management System—Desire to Learn (D2L)—to make the most of our class experience. You are expected to access to D2L, and there you will find all course materials, aside from your textbooks. You will also turn in all assignments through D2L. Though online classes are certainly more flexible than face-to-face classes, keep in mind that this is not a self-paced course. You are expected to participate regularly in class discussions and will have different weekly check-ins and writing assignments. Just like a face-to-face course, you will need to carve out time for reading and writing in this class—for example, you want to wait until the night before discussion posts are due to complete the weekly reading. The posts will require more thoughtful engagement in the readings than can be provided in a single evening.

General Course Policies

- Email/LMS: You have the responsibility check your school email and your D2L account regularly for important course communication.
- Communication: It is your responsibility to communicate with me when you have questions or concerns. Communication with me should be timely and respectful. I am available in-person and digitally—use communication with me as a resource.
- Public writing: Submit work that you are comfortable with peers reading. All major essays are public.

- Tracking: Track your missed work and major/minor obligations. It is your responsibility to understand the grading system and to keep up with the course schedule. Ask early and often if something is unclear about this.
- Self-advocacy: As a college student, you must develop your ability to advocate for your needs. You have the responsibility to identify barriers prohibiting your full classroom participation and engage productively with me and the other members of the classroom to remedy the issue.

Expectations & (Online) Classroom Conduct

Participate in the class with an open mind and understanding that each person brings unique experiences, cultures, values, etc. to class. Remain respectful to one another, for each individual and every idea, especially as we connect and communicate online. We will often have the opportunity to share our opinions and beliefs, but no racist, sexist, homophobic, ableist or any other negative communication harmful to an individual or group will be tolerated. Whether something is offensive or not will be determined by the people whom it might offend or their advocates. Furthermore, I expect none of you to remain bystanders in the classroom; if something offensive is said, address it. Online classroom incivility will not be tolerated on any level.

Accommodations & Inclusive Learning

EIU Statement: If you are a student with a documented disability in need of accommodations to fully participate in this class, please contact the Office of Student Disability Services (OSDS). All accommodations must be approved through OSDS. Please stop by McAfee Gym, Room 1210, or call 217-581-6583 to make an appointment.

Your success in this class is important to me. We will all need accommodations because we all learn differently. If there are aspects of this course that prevent you from learning or exclude you, please let me know as soon as possible. Together we'll develop strategies to meet both your needs and the requirements of the course. I encourage you to visit the Student Disability Services office to determine how you could improve your learning as well. If you need official accommodations, you have a right to have these met.

However, even if you don't have "proper" documentation but need an accommodation, please feel free to reach out to me; I know that for a variety of reasons some people avoid documenting their disability/disabilities with Student Disability Services, so I extend this offer to approach me about an accommodation without having documentation. If you want to register your disability with the university and haven't done so, please contact Student Disability Services at 217-581-6583.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

EIU Statement: "Students are expected to maintain principles of academic integrity and conduct as defined in EIU's Code of Conduct (<http://www.eiu.edu/judicial/studentconductcode.php>). Violations will be reported to the Office of Student Standards."

English Department Statement: “Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—“The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s own original work” (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right and responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignments of a grade of F for the assigned essay and a grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Office of Student Standards. Respect for the work of others should encompass all formats, including print, electronic, and oral sources.”

Sexual Violence & Misconduct

Eastern Illinois University prohibits sexual misconduct, relationship violence, and stalking in any of its employment situations or educational programs and activities. As indicated here, <https://www.eiu.edu/mandatedinformation/assault.php>, sexual assault, abuse or other sexual misconduct including domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking is prohibited and will not be tolerated. The University continually endeavors to prevent sexual assault by providing training and educational materials to all students and employees, and by thoroughly investigating complaints of assault.

Sexual assault is a crime and complaints will receive serious and immediate action. Once a complaint is received, the first step taken by the University personnel will be to ensure that the complainant is safe and protected from harm. The University understands that a complainant may need a support person to accompany them on campus and students and employees will be provided with contact information with various on-campus and off-campus resources.

Should you need to file a complaint, you have multiple options, and I have included a few below:

The University Police Department (UPD)

Student Resources

Student Success Center

EIU Statement: “Students who are having difficulty achieving their academic goals are encouraged to contact the Student Success Center (www.eiu.edu/~success) for assistance with time management, test taking, note taking, avoiding procrastination, setting goals, and other skills to support academic achievement. The Student Success Center provides individualized consultations. To make an appointment, call 217-581-6696, or go to McAfee Gym, Room 1301.”

Writing Center

EIU's writing center can be found at 3110 Coleman Hall, and this fall, they will be offering face-to-face consulting sessions on weekdays and online sessions evenings and Sundays. Students will be able to book either a face-to-face or online appointment through the Writing Center website (www.eiu.edu/writing). I strongly encourage you to use this free resource, as they can help you at any stage of the writing process.
