FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--Dr. Margaret Price Weber, who holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois University, is the 1984 recipient of the School of Home Economics' "Outstanding Alumnus Award."

Her father, John E. Price, lives in Shelbyville, Ill. She and her husband, Dr. Joseph A. Weber, are the parents of two sons.

Dr. Weber is Coordinator of the Housing and Interior Design Program, College of Home Economics, Oklahoma State University. She will receive the award at a tea on April 14 at 2 p.m. in the Tarble Arts Center.

She earned her degrees at Eastern in 1969 and 1970 and the Ph.D. at the University of Missouri in 1977. Dr. Weber taught in the Pana (Ill.) Community Schools from 1970 to 1973 before becoming a graduate teaching assistant at Missouri. She was an adult education teacher in Macon, Mo., for one year before going to Oklahoma State in 1977.

Dr. Beverly Crabtree, Dean of the College of Home Economics, said "since joining the faculty at OSU, Dr. Weber has assumed significant responsibilities for resident instruction, undergraduate and graduate student advisement, research and extension/public service. She is truly an outstanding professional."

Dr. Weber is a member of many professional organizations and has written widely for scholarly publications. At Oklahoma State she is actively involved in research and she works with builders and interior designers in Oklahoma.

She holds the rank of associate professor, an "early promotion," according to Dr. Crabtree.
