FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

SHUPE EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

CHARLESTON, IL--Ellen Shupe, of Mattoon, has been named Eastern Illinois University's Employee of the Month.

Shupe, a secretary/transcriber for the University's Affirmative Action office, was selected from over 800 civil service employees by Eastern's Civil Service Recognition Committee.

She assists Dr. Judith Anderson, Director of Affirmative Action, in office duties, including keeping two budgets, does word-processing and supervises three student workers.

"The opportunities for mobility in the civil service system at Eastern continue to encourage workers to better find their "niche". I have found the educational, employment, and personal benefits to be a big plus in working for Eastern," she said.

SHUPE, EOM

Anderson, who recommended Shupe for the Employee of the Month recognition, said "It is a pleasure to work with someone as competent and capable as Ms. Shupe. She is an asset to the Affirmative Action Program as well as to the various committees for which she provides staff support."

Shupe attended high school in Mattoon and then went to Blackburn College in Carlinville, where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Arts and Social Sciences. She started working at Eastern Illinois University in the Spring of 1984, and has been at the Affirmative Action office for two years.

She, her husband Richard, and their son, Justin, live in Mattoon.
