MATHISON RECEIVES AWARDS AT EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

CHARLESTON -- Sarah Mathison, daughter of William and Janice Mathison of Richmond, was recently recognized with three awards from Eastern Illinois University's School of Business.

The Dean's Award, established by former dean of the school of business, Dr. James Giffin, and his wife, June, is an annual award presented to a senior student who is nominated by a member of the faculty. The recipient must demonstrate academic excellence, service to the School of Business and the university and potential for distinguished service and leadership.

Phi Gamma Nu, a national business fraternity open to all business majors, presents its Scholarship Certificate to the senior member in the School of Business with the highest grade point average.

The Marketing Excellence Award is presented to the student who excels in the classroom as well as in campus and community activities.

Mathison is a 1995 graduate of McHenry West Campus High School and a senior marketing major.
