CARLISLE BARRACKS, PA--The U.S. Army War College Current Affairs Panel will give a presentation on contemporary national security issues at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston on Wednesday, Nov. 2 at 4:30 p.m. in the Coleman Hall Auditorium.

The panel is made up of five senior Army officers who are students at the U.S. Army War College, the Army's senior educational institution located in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. An Army War College faculty member serves as moderator for the panel. The panel was established to encourage a dialogue with college students and faculty about national security policy formulation.

The members of the U.S. Army War College Current Affairs panel are not official spokesmen for the Army or U.S. Government policies but rather students of the national security policy formulation process. The panel discussion is conducted in an academic atmosphere to share facts and ideas with others who have a similar interest in national security issues.

The discussion will begin with a brief introduction highlighting areas of contemporary concern such as nuclear and conventional strategy, the role of the Services in policy formulation, nuclear weaponry and its role in U.S. strategy, arms reduction possibilities, capabilities and shortfalls of the Army and the other Services, management and budgeting of defense resources, personnel issues in the Armed Forces and U.S. policies toward Europe, Latin America, the Middle East and other regions of the world.
