FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--Carl Sexton, tennis coach at Eastern Illinois University for the past five years, has resigned his coaching duties but will remain on the staff as a faculty member in the health education department.

"I've certainly enjoyed the past five years but coaching is very time consuming and I need to get back to some academic and personal responsibilities . . . it's simply a matter of time and energy," said Sexton.

"It's been a real pleasure to work with the young men here the past five years. They have been super and I'll particularly miss that association," he said. "I think we did about as well as could be expected . . . I think they have appreciated the success they've achieved and I have, too."

Sexton's 1983 Panthers won the Mid-Continent with an 18-6 dual record and finished a close second on two other occasions. He had a career record 64-36 and was voted the league's 'coach of the year' once and 'co-coach of the year' two other times. He has been a professor of health education here at EIU since 1966.
