FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--Eastern Illinois University's volleyball team will play before its home fans Friday (Oct. 14) for the first time in nearly six weeks.

Loyola University will face the Lady Panthers, 17-6, at 7:30 p.m. as Eastern attempts to regroup after compiling a disappointing 2-2 record last weekend at the Windy City Invitational.

Loyola also competed at Chicago and won one of four matches for a seventh place finish in the eight-team tourney, while Eastern placed in the invitational's top four.

Coach Betty Ralston said her Panther squad should be tested by the taller Lady Ramblers who blocked very effectively last weekend.

"We will try to mix up our offense more than we did in Chicago by doing more dinking and trying to drop soft hits in the back row," Ralston said. "That may pull them away from the net so our attackers can be more effective."

"Also, we have to work on being prepared for recovering from being blocked. When one of our big hitters gets blocked, we aren't prepared to keep the ball in play because we always seem to expect the hit to be a kill."

Three of the "big hitters" this fall have been seniors Stacy Cook (Lincoln/Illinois Central) and Bonnie Fisk (Evansville, IN-Castle) and sophomore Judy Planos (Evanston-Township).

Planos leads the team in attack percentage at 33.1, while Cook has the most kills, 223, closely followed by Fisk's 222 kills.

Fisk is the most effective blocker with 38 solos and 31 assists, while Cook has 29 solos and 33 assists to her credit. Fisk also leads the team with 40 service aces. Cook and Planos have chipped in 31 and 29 aces, respectively.

Senior Kathy Briggs (Bartonville-Limestone/Illinois Central) has been a stalwart on defense all season, collecting a team-high 232 digs.
