FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--The sweet eyes of Texas will be on the Eastern Illinois University women's volleyball team as they travel to the Lone Star State this weekend (Sept. 28-29) for the Rice University Classic at Houston.

EIU is sporting a 6-6 record and a modest two-match winning streak after defeating DePaul and Lewis in the last week. In fact, the Lady Panthers have won six consecutive games during that stretch and have displayed a prowess for serving with 24 aces in the last two matches.

"I'm looking for a good tournament down in Houston," states second-year head coach Betty Ralston. "I think we will be real competitive and we should surprise some people."

Sophomore Maura LeFevour (Oak Park/Oak Park-River Forest) continues to dominate the club's offensive statistics in kills (128), total attempts (284), attack percentage (.333), block solos (9) and block assists (32).

"She (Maura) has really come into her own this season," states Ralston. "Maura has really improved a great deal and is beginning to realize the role she must play on the team."

LeFevour, however, isn't a one-woman show by any stretch of the imagination. Her teammates' names are sprinkled among the Gateway Conference statistical leaders. Junior April Deer (Morton/East Peoria) is pacing the league in aces with 36 while senior co-captain Gretchen Braker (Matteson/Rich Central) is third in the GCAC in assists with 5.4 per contest. Senior co-captain Donna Uhler (Glen Ellyn/Benet) is fourth in the loop in digs averaging 2.8 per game. She also ranks fourth in total attempts (268). EIU leads the league in attack percentage (.288) and digs (15.9 per game.)
