FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

HINE ELECTED

CHARLESTON, IL--Dr. William C. Hine, Dean, School of Adult and Continuing Education, Eastern Illinois University, was recently elected to the national Board of Directors of the Association for Continuing Higher Education (ACHE), at its national meeting, which was held in Charleston, South Carolina, November 12-15.

The Association for Continuing Higher Education is a professional association representing almost 600 colleges and universities throughout the western hemisphere, with over 1,500 members. The Board of Directors is responsible for setting all policies and direction for the Association.

HINE ELECTED

Hine will have specific responsibilities for overseeing the publication and research efforts of ACHE. Members of ACHE are professionals involved in continuing and adult education at universities and colleges.

Hine stated, "I am grateful for the opportunity to serve on the Board of Directors, and for the support of my professional colleagues. I am excited about the challenges of the future. I especially want to thank Dr. Robert Kindrick, Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, and Eastern Illinois University, for their support, which has allowed me to participate in ACHE and to serve the Association."

He has been involved with ACHE for over a decade, on both the local, regional, and national levels and has made presentations at several regional and national meetings.
