

'The Birthday Party'

to be presented here

"The Birthday Party" by Harold Pinter will be performed this weekend in the Fine Arts Theatre at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, J. Sain of the Theatre Arts Department said Thursday.

Admission for the production is $2 for adults, $1 for children and 75 cents for students.

The play is situated in a run-down, second-rate boarding house which is part of a seashore resort. The only people who can stand to live there are the two eccentric owners, Meg (Karen Eubanks) and her husband, Petey, (Jon Malkovich) and a neurotic young man, Stanley (Bob Bacon).
