

Wednesday, April 12, 1961

Lincoln And Stepmother

ABRAHAM LINCOLN (Rex Syndergaard) and his stepmother, Sarah Bush Lincoln (Lucina Gabbard) visit during Lincoln's final visit to Coles County in 1861. Scene is from "Our Neighbor," a one-act play by Dorothy Coleman being presented nightly through Saturday in the Fine Arts Theatre.

What's This?

UNION SOLDIER points out to a surprised Abraham Lincoln news of the president's assassination. The bogus Lincoln, in the person of Rex Syndergaard, arrived at the Fine Arts Theatre for his role in "Our Neighbor" just as Charles Weishaupt, the costumed driver-lecturer of the Historymobile, put the final touches on an exhibit.