

'Lovers' and 'Adaptation' comedies for Homecoming

The Theatre Arts Department is kicking off their season with two plays directed by Glendon Gabbard to be presented at Homecoming. "Adaptation" is by Elaine May of the Mike Nichols and Elaine May team. This comedy is about a young man, the young man of the "American Dream," and his life told in an episodic manner.

The second play, "Lovers," is also a comedy written by Brian Friel. The plot line for "Lovers" is merely the trials and tribulations of a young couple in love.

THE HOMECOMING shows will be presented October 5, 6, 7, 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. and October 8 at 2 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre. Price of admission is EIU students $.50, Adults $1.50, and Children $.75.

Play tickets go on sale

Tickets for the two Homecoming plays, "Lovers" and "Adaptions," go on sale Monday at the Fine Arts center ticket office, noon to 5 daily. Tickets may be reserved by calling 581-3110 during office hours.

Opening Oct. 6 and playing through Oct. 10, the one act plays deal with the life of a young Irish couple facing the future, and a parody of life as a television game show.

Shows will start at 8 p.m., with a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Oct. 8. Tickets are 50 cents for Eastern students, 75 cents for children and $1.50 for adults.

The play "Lovers," by Brian Friel, was first produced in New York as a part of the Lincoln Center Festival. "Adaptations," also in one-act, was written by Elaine May.
