

'Midsummer' scheduled for Monday

The Theater Arts Department has re-scheduled last Sunday's cancelled showing of a "Midsummers Night's Dream" to 8 p.m. Monday.

This weekend's showings of the Shakespearean comedy will remain on their original times at the Quincy Doudna Fine Arts Theater.

Tickets are $1 for Eastern students with ID, $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children and can be ordered at the Fine Arts Ticket Office.

J. Sain, publicity director for Theater Arts, said Tuesday that last Sunday's production was cancelled "because of an illness of one of the main actors."

Peter Samuel, who suffered from an attack of appendicitis last weekend will be ready to make up at least two performances as Oberon, King of the Fairies," Sain said.

Taking Samuel's place for the Friday show will be Jim Kleckner, Sain said.
