

'Born Yesterday' Opens Feb. 3; Tickets Go On Sale Today

THE PLAYERS' winter production, "Born Yesterday," by Garson Kanin, will be presented four nights, beginning February 3, in the Fine Arts Theater.

Tickets for the comedy go on sale today at the University Union. Reserved seats will be $1.00 for the public.

Students will use activity ticket No. 18. It has been suggested by Dr. E. G. Gabbard, director of the play, that students purchase tickets before the night of the play to avoid congestion at the box office.

Two of the leading roles, those of Billie Dawn and Harry Brock, will be played by Judy Jones, sophomore speech major from Herrick, and Bob Hodge, junior art major from Moweaqua. These same two roles launched the careers of Judy Holliday and Paul Douglas when they were in the Broadway production.

Other members of the cast and the characters they portray are: Paul Verrall—Mike Sullivan, sophomore English major from Sullivan; Ed Devery—James Sarver, sophomore speech major from Herrick; Sen. Hedges — Bob Wood, senior speech major from Springfield;

Mrs. Hedges—Debera Works, freshman speech major from Albion; Eddie Brock—Mike Collins, sophomore speech major from Casey; Asst. Mgr. of the hotel—Ray Hoops; sophomore speech major from Waldon; Helen, a maid—

(Continued on page 8)

'Born Yesterday' . . .

(Continued from page 1)

Connie Cogdal, speech major from Sullivan; bellhops — Jim Elder, sophomore social science major from Villa Grove and Jim Reedy, junior English major from Sullivan; barber—Bob Dodds, freshman physical education major from Champaign;

Manicurist — Jeanne Smith, freshman English major from Decatur; bootblack—Jay Platt, sophomore chemistry major from Litchfield; waiter—Steve Schoeneweis, Edwardsville.

Stage designer for the play is John Bielenberg.