Course Description:
- Got the first-semester-home-sick blues? Worried sick about what’s expected of you in this (and other) classes? Well, you should be. Just kidding ... to a point. Expect to feel overwhelmed at first, in this and other classes; you’d be abnormal if you didn’t at least feel a little queasy at first. For those of you who, for the first time, will be spending an extended time away from home, expect to feel isolated and lonely. I encourage you to make friends, seek out my (and your other instructors’) counsel, and utilize all the University’s resources.
- Together, we will work through your first exposure to college level composition. I will necessarily emphasize but not limit you to expository (explanatory) and persuasive papers. But we will also direct our attention on how personal “creativity” can help us to write sparkling and persuasive prose; how to discover the “truth” within ourselves, how it transacts with the outside world; and how to articulate the synthesis of the two using different rhetorical strategies on paper. We’ll do all this while keeping in mind specific purposes and audiences.
- Whenever possible, you will use technology to facilitate the process of writing. Through use of ETIC (English Technology-Integrated Classroom), you will see how technology can support (and not support) your writing. We will also use the Internet, Booth Library (electronic and shelf) and other online sources for research.
- You will learn that writing and the final product do not mean that you get one shot. On the contrary, you will see through the development of your research/argumentative paper over the semester that writing occurs as a process, not a one-shot deal.

Course Objectives:
- To write purposeful, spectacular paragraphs and stunning sentences that are direct, economic, free of ambiguity, and structurally appropriate for the ideas expressed.
- To write standard written English that exemplifies principles of preciseness and of suitability to the purpose of the paper.
- To develop skills in critical reading and listening to understand and evaluate culturally diverse course materials, and to become more discerning readers and editors of your own writing. The course materials will reflect historically, socially, and culturally relevant issues.

Required Textbook and Materials:
Other items:
- Two HD IBM formatted discs (may change, depending on new equipment)
- Paper for in-class writing assignments
- Two pocket folders for use as portfolios

Course Requirements:
- In-class writing
- Reading textbook assignments and participating in class discussion
- Four essays, selected and revised from four (Research/argumentative must be one of the four and will be the ongoing focus of this course), compare/contrast, descriptive, narrative. Essays will be of varying length and complexity. Plan to put equal effort into all essays while realizing you may wish to choose, in consultation with me, an essay for the Electronic Writing Portfolio, which meets a portion of the University requirement for graduation. If you plan to use one of your essays, you must bring it to me at least two weeks before the close of the semester.
- Portfolios (not to be confused with the University required EWP) contain your research paper and other two essays and drafts.
- Peer Editing—You will be required to assist your classmates in improving the quality of their essays. This will consist of reading your essays aloud to a classmate(s) and evaluating fellow classmates’ work online and off (guidance will be given beforehand).
- Attend one-on-one conferences with me, as needed.

Grading:
- Essays will be scored a maximum of 100 points each except the research paper, which will be your final paper. It will be worth 150 points. Your grades will be based on three of four essays, in-class writing and other assignments. You should keep two folders: one will contain all your research information—drafts of the research paper, copies of research with passages you drew from highlighted, and the final paper. The other will contain two of three of the other essays, which you will choose and be allowed to revise at the end of the semester. However, you MUST include in the second folder all drafts for each essay revised in the folder. All essay drafts must be turned in to make a completed essay. These scores will be combined with all other assignments to make up your final score. I’ll not issue final grades until the end of the semester. That’s what I said. Rather, you’ll be given a pretty good ballpark figure near midterm. We will talk frequently, one-to-one, about your essays to make sure you’re on track and have no surprises at the end of the semester.
- Evaluation criteria: Essays will be judged according to focus on a single idea, clarity of thought and structure. Some emphasis necessarily will also be placed on grammar and spelling. Research sources and correct MLA format will play a role as well.

Instructor’s policies:
- Attendance: You cannot learn how to write if you don’t show. However, I find some … er … incentive to attend necessary. You get two unexcused absences. More will result in a NC (NO CREDIT). It’s your responsibility to see that all work is made up, and that I’m informed, either by phone or email. Your grade will unavoidably suffer if you’re not there. Excused absences include illnesses verified by the university health service or personal physician, university sanctioned events. Missed Work: If you are absent you will miss significant (and undoubtedly important) information and possibly in-class writings. However, class work can be made up, under the above named circumstances, if placed in my hands by the next class meeting. If you blow this off, you’ll simply receive a zero for the assignment (WITHOUT A CHANCE TO MAKE UP THE WORK). That means you must seek out someone who can give you the details of the assignment. Class notes, handouts, and assignments are your responsibility.

Other: Tardiness: You’re in college. Don’t interrupt class with excessive tardiness. My tardiness: If the occasion arises that I am late for class, please wait 10 minutes before leaving. If you leave prior to that, you will be given an unexcused absence. I will make every effort to inform you of my absences. Class Disruptions: I don’t need to say anything about this except that lively discussion is encouraged. No throwing chairs or punches, especially at me; that will lower your grade significantly. Seating: Sit in the same seat for the first few weeks. This will aid my rapidly fading ability to remember your name. Don’t laugh; it’ll happen to you one day. Contacting Me: Feel free to use my email, office and home numbers, preferably in that order. Assignments: All essays must be typed in 12-point, Times New Roman font. Margins must be 1 inch top, bottom, left and right. Don’t try to increase size of the type or increase the margins to pad your paper; I’ll know. (Emailing assignments will be encouraged but tricky. More on this.) Peer Editing Dates: You must have a completed draft to share with your peer reviewers on the designated dates, or you will be counted absent. Conferences: One class (perhaps more) will be devoted to one-on-one conferences with me. If you don’t show you will be counted absent.

Plagiarism:
- Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—“The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work” (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignments of a grade of F for the assigned essay and a grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.

If you intentionally or unintentionally do any of the following, you could be plagiarizing:
- Buying a paper from a paper mill (obviously).
- Asking someone else to write your paper (ditto).
- Using a paper with words, phrases, sentences, or ideas found in a previous student’s work (not always so obvious).
- Summarizing or quoting someone else’s words without giving that person proper credit (ditto).

If you have any question at all about plagiarism, please contact me BEFORE you turn in the paper. Plagiarizing will earn you a failing grade on the paper and perhaps a failing grade in the course, or worse.

Grading Scale: I’ll calculate your final grade according to the following scale:
- A=600-540 pts. B=539-480 pts. C=479-420 pts. NC=419 or below. If you receive a NC (no credit) you must retake the course. You will not receive a grade on individual papers until near the end of the semester. Instead, you will confer with me a number of times over the course of the semester on each paper. We’ll discuss the strengths and weaknesses of each paper, and you’ll have ample opportunity to revise. Three out of four papers, plus other points accumulated, will be used to calculate your final grade. For midterm, I’ll give you an estimated grade. You will not receive a midterm unless you’re in danger of getting a D or an F (NC).
Point values per assignments:

Three (of four) selected essays (including all drafts) = 450 pts. (100 pts. each, except the research/argumentative paper, which equals 150 points)
Library Research project = 50 pts.
In-class writing = 100 pts.
Total = 600 points

To learn to write, you must write and read. Those two elements are the best teachers.

Other:

- STUDENTS WHO HAVE AN ACT SCORE IN ENGLISH OF 14 OR BELOW, OR WHO HAVE NO TEST SCORES ON FILE WITH THE UNIVERSITY, MUST PASS ENGLISH 1000 BEFORE ENROLLING IN ENG1001G.
- STUDENTS WHO HAVE A DOCUMENTED DISABILITY AND WISH TO RECEIVE ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION SHOULD CONTACT THE OFFICE OF DISABILITY SERVICES (581-6583).
