Course Description: ENG 3001: Advanced Composition centers on advanced applications of the principles of writing analyses and arguments. This course offers opportunities to explore a variety of research sources and genres of writing. Attention will be given to analyzing writing situations, including the purpose for writing, assumed audiences, and appropriate styles and tones. Active participation in online class activities is required. In addition to major writing projects, homework assignments will consist of analytic reading responses or pieces of writing that contribute to larger writing projects-in-progress. The class will have group discussions online during which students will discuss their responses to readings, collaborate on exercises, or provide feedback on strategies and plans for major writing assignments. Students will also evaluate and provide feedback on one another’s writing as part of peer response groups.

Course Objectives (Connections to University Learning Objectives in Parentheses):

- Understand writing as a process that includes critical reading, research, evaluation of sources, synthesis, drafting, feedback, revision, and editing (writing and critical reading; critical thinking).
- Develop an analytic and reflective understanding of rhetorical context, purpose, and audience (writing and critical reading; critical thinking; speaking and listening).
- Develop strategies for reading and producing texts in a variety of modes, media and genre, with a particular focus on argumentation and its function in specific fields or disciplines (writing and critical reading; speaking and listening).
- Analyze the content and features of discipline-specific genre and scholarship (writing and critical reading).
- Understand the purposes and correct application of discipline-specific citation systems; integrate and document sources of ideas and information (writing and critical reading).
- Explore and consider a variety of perspectives on a topic in a field of interest. Establish and defend an argument (writing and critical reading; critical thinking).
- Share writing and give/receive feedback with classmates. Read carefully and critically, both your writing and the writing of others (writing and critical reading).
- Apply knowledge and skills to new and changing contexts within and beyond the classroom (responsible citizenship).

Required Texts and Materials:
Active EIU e-mail account and Internet access to EIU’s D2L Online Course Delivery System Microsoft Word for Word Processing (Now available for free to EIU students with Panthermail: http://www.eiu.edu/its/helpdesk/swdownloads/office365proplus.php)

MP4-capable media player. Most laptops, tablets, and some smart phones can play MP4 files automatically, if you need a media player, here is a link to a versatile one called VLC: http://www.videolan.org/vlc/index.html

NOTE: If you need help using D2L, you may call the EIU ITS help desk at 217-581-HELP.

Course Requirements:

Reading: We will discuss reading assignments on the day they are listed on the course calendar. Set aside enough time to read, analyze, think about, and re-read if necessary each assignment. Read all sections of the assigned material, including sample articles. Look up unfamiliar words. Prepare yourself to contribute to online class and group discussions and activities.

Writing: Students must complete all major writing assignments (Genre Analysis, Proposal Argument, Source-based Argument Essay, Visual Argument & Self-analysis, and the Final Project) to be eligible to pass this course. Shorter online discussion posts will fall under the Daily Work & Participation category. Dr. Binns will usually provide grades and feedback within one week for writing assignments using the ENG 3001 Essay Rubric for all major writing assignments except for the Visual Argument & Self-analysis Project, which has its own rubric.

Daily Work & Participation: There will be a substantial amount of online daily work through D2L (such as peer response as well as class and group online discussion posts) during the semester. Often, class or group discussion posts will require an initial post with later responses to posts by other group members. More details for each discussion topic, such as specific discussion questions, will be posted with instructions from Dr. Binns on the Discussion Board at least one day prior to the discussion thread. Dr. Binns will usually provide grades for discussion posts within 1-3 days using the ENG 3001 Discussion Online Discussion Rubric for class and group discussions and the ENG 3001 Online Peer Response Rubric for required essay peer responses. Students must follow the EIU Netiquette guidelines that are posted under "Content" in D2L.

Course Grade: Penalties for excessive absences will be deducted as described in the “Attendance” section. Late work will be penalized as described in the “Late Work” section. Otherwise, your final course grade will be determined by the following:

B= 80% to 89%
C= 70% to 79%
D= 60% to 69%
F= 0% to 59%

Late Work: Late work that is not excused before its due date will be penalized by 10% of the maximum possible score for each day it is late (excluding weekend days. Computer problems are not an excuse for turning in late work, so make certain you have a back-up plan if your computer experiences issues. Also, make certain that you save your work in more than one way (i.e. computer hard drive and a usb-compatible drive). Even as you draft, save your work often.

Plagiarism: Students are expected to maintain principles of academic integrity and conduct as defined in EIU’s Code of Conduct (http://www.eiu.edu/judicial/studentconductcode.php). Violations will be reported to the Office of Student Standards.

In accordance with English Department and University policies, “Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—‘The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation as one’s original work’ (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right and responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty up to and including immediate assignment of the grade of F for the assigned essay and a grade of F for the course."

The best argument against plagiarism is that you cheat yourself out of the education you are here to obtain when you copy someone else’s work. If you believe that a specific instance in your writing might constitute plagiarism, please consult me prior to turning in the final draft.

Students with Disabilities: If you are a student with a documented disability in need of accommodations to fully participate in this class, please contact the Office of Student Disability Services (OSDS). All accommodations must be approved through OSDS. Please stop by Ninth Street Hall, Room 2006, or call 217-581-6583 to make an appointment. If you do not live in the Charleston, IL, area, obviously you may contact them by phone.

The Student Success Center: Students who are having difficulty achieving their academic goals are encouraged to contact the Student Success Center (www.eiu.edu/~success) for assistance with time management, text taking, note taking, avoiding procrastination, setting goals, and other skills to support academic achievement. The Student Success Center provides individualized consultations. To make an appointment, call 217-581-6696, or go to 9th Street Hall, Room 1302. This service is unavailable if you are not within commuting distance to Charleston, IL, however.

Contacting Dr. Binns: You may contact Dr. Binns through e-mail (djinns@eiu.edu). It is best if you e-mail directly through Panthermail rather than trying to e-mail through D2L (cutting out the middle step always seems to help). Generally, you should receive a response to e-mails within twenty-four hours if you send them through Panthermail. Dr. Binns will contact all students through their officially provided EIU e-mail addresses. Online conferences can be arranged through Skype (optional) or with Blackboard Collaborate through D2L (See "Communication" and then "Online Rooms"). Skype can be downloaded for a variety of devices here www.skype.com/download-skype/. Students living within commuting distance to Charleston, IL, may arrange in-person conferences with Dr. Binns in her office (3851 Coleman Hall).

ENG 3001 Course Calendar: Summer 2015

This schedule is subject to additions and changes at my discretion. Assignments are due on the date that they are listed on the schedule by the end of that class day (by 11:59 p.m. CST). Class and Initial Group Discussion posts will be due by 11:59 p.m. CST that day. When group responses require additional discussion responses to other group members, they will be due by the end of the following class day (again, by 11:59 p.m.). As a result, students may sometimes need to post to two different threads in the same day to complete class or group discussion work from the current and previous day. Both class and group discussions will be conducted through the D2L Discussion Board.
