You are finished.
There is no final examination in English 1001G.

Attention!
You should keep all of your essays in a folder and on multiple disks. At the end of the semester you will need them.

All computer generated papers must be done in Microsoft Word. When saving work on various computers using various versions of Microsoft Word, save in Rich Text Format to avoid headaches and tears.

Most essays (#1-#6) will be--at the very least--two full pages. The researched essay is longer (7-9 pages).

You are required by the University to submit an essay from 1001G or 1002G as part of the requirements for your Electronic Writing Portfolio. Let’s get it done this semester, no later than November 18. We will be discussing the EWP in detail as soon as you have produced appropriate work for it.
Course Requirements and Grading:
50% of your grade is based on Essays #1-6 and the Writing Aids Portfolio, which counts as one paper grade.
10% of your grade is based on various homework assignments and quizzes.
10% of your grade is based on two revised essays turned in on December 6.
15% of your grade is based on the longer researched essay due on December 11.
15% of your grade is based on class participation, effort, improvement and, mostly, my general impression of your work.

Class Attendance/Conference Attendance:

Because the information provided in the classroom and in private conference is a major part of English 1001G, and because of what you learn here about writing involves analytic discussion, debate and reading aloud, failure to attend class or scheduled conferences will affect your grade. Any student missing more than five meetings without obtaining my approval will not receive credit for the course.

Late Work:

Unless you have made prior arrangements with me, any late work will receive a failing grade. You must, however, turn in all assigned essays to be considered for a passing grade for the course.

Plagiarism:
Here is the English Department’s policy on plagiarism:

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—"The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thought of another author, and representation of them as one's original work" (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of a grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.

A note for students with disabilities: If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.
