Description: This course introduces the reading and writing of expressive, expository and persuasive essays. Attention is given to effective expression, clear structure, adequate development and documentation of sources. Prerequisite: English 1000 or proficiency in basic skills as determined by the English Department.

Guidelines: All students with an ACT English score of 15 or above (13 on the old ACT) are placed on English 1001C. Students with ACT scores below the cut-off—or with no ACT score on file—are placed in ENG 1000, Fundamental English, a basic review of grammar, punctuation, and spelling, which also includes instruction in writing sentences, paragraphs and brief essays.

This course instructs the student in writing from both a personal and objective perspective, writing persuasively, adequately developing ideas in sentence and paragraph form with maximum clarity, using standard English in both thought conveyance and syntactic construction, using and documenting sources to support an argument, developing skills in critical reading and analyzing and editing their own writings.

Graded Essays/Exams: Three 4-6 page, double spaced typewritten essays, A research project in three sections: One 4-6 page argument support, One 2-3 page opposition report and a 5-7 page, double spaced and typewritten research paper integrating both previously mentioned sections and addressing instructor commentary and a 16-22 page reader response journal based upon assigned readings and research materials. There is no final examination in ENG 1001C.

Grading Policies: Each student will complete an in-class diagnostic writing, which will be ungraded. Each student will write six major essays. Failure to complete all assignments will result in a grade of N/C for the course. The final course grade will be computed on the basis of possible 600 points. These break down by paper as:

- 50 pts. – Reader’s Response Journal
- 100 pts. – Narrative Essay
- 50 pts. - Collaborative Analysis Essay
- 100 pts. - Controlled Source Research Project
- 75 pts. - Background and Stance Support or Problem/Solution Research Essay
- 25 pts. - Opposition Report
- 100 pts. - Research Paper Combined
- 100 pts. - Class Participation* see attached for point distribution details

The final grades will be computed according to this scale:

A = 600-540 pts.
B = 539-480 pts.
C = 479-400 pts.
N/C = .399- 0 pts.
Each essay will be evaluated according to an analytic scale. This scale divides your grade among five factors: organization, logic, development, style, structure and mechanics and planning and reader consideration. Each essay will have a different stress of points to be determined by me and divided accordingly.

Attendance Policy: This course involves a great deal of class participation and so it is essential that you attend class. If you have more than four unexcused absences over the course of the semester, your course grade will drop one full letter grade for each subsequent absence. In other words seven or more unexcused absences will result in a course grade of N/C. Persistent lateness will also result in a grade deduction, with three latenesses equaling one unexcused absence. If you are absent due to illness or personal emergency contact me as soon as possible to discuss the nature of the absence.

Late Work: Late assignments will receive a grade penalty to be determined by me based upon the reason for, consistency of and duration of the lateness. No late work will be accepted after 11/17/00. If all essays are not submitted, the student will receive a grade of N/C for the course.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT STATEMENT CONCERNING PLAGIARISM

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—“The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one's original work” (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of a grade of F for the assignment and a grade of N/C for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.

Reuse of essays written for previous classes is NOT recommended, due to problems with adhering to SPECIFIC assignment guidelines. In many courses, submission of previously used, unrevised material is defined as plagiarism. For these reasons, essays submitted for evaluation in this course SHOULD NOT have been used in previous courses without instructor approval and THOROUGH revision.

INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.

COMPUTER LAB POLICY

The lab sessions should be looked upon as an opportunity to write and get assistance from both your instructor and peers. Conference and composing time are allotted in these sessions, and research opportunities will occur during the final section of the course. These times should be viewed as valuable and managed as such.

Composing sessions should be spent working on current assignments, revisions and/or journal entries. Research sessions should be focused on research or composition of the assigned project. Your instructor views any non-productive use of the computer as disruptive. Viewing of “adult” or non-course related sources would be grounds for dismissal from the lab session. This dismissal will be recorded as an unexcused absence. Two dismissals from the class for this reason will result in a course grade of N/C.
Evaluation Criteria for Class Participation

The following are the criteria for your participation grade. Please realize that severe deficiencies in any area will result in a significant point reduction. The criteria focuses upon attendance, participation, assignment submission and attitude. Since this grade is worth one paper grade, you will want to take these points seriously.

Attendance - An “A” student will miss a minimum number of classes. If this student does miss class, he or she promptly notifies the instructor before the absence and arranges to get notes and assignments from the instructor or another student.

A “B” student also misses a minimal amount of classes but may only notify the instructor after the absence and still gets required assignments from above mentioned sources.

A “C” student misses up to the allowed absences and does not consistently make an effort to notify the instructor of the reason for the absence. Notes and assignments are obtained as noted above.

A “D/F” student has maximum amount of allowed absences or more and make little effort to communicate reasons with the instructor. The student also shows a lack of concerned for missed work and assignments.

Participation - An “A” student will always have the assignments completed and be ready to join into the discussion with relevant and controlled response.

A “B” student will always have assignments completed and will participate in discussion on a consistent basis.

A “C” student will be prepared for class the majority of the time and usually has a thoughtful response to in-class questions when called upon.

A “D/F” student is rarely prepared for class, has usually not done readings and rarely contributes to the discussion.

Assignment Submission - An “A” student consistently turns in work on time and that work is neatly prepared and thoughtfully rendered. This student will also demonstrate a consistent attention to instructor and peer commentary on given assignments.

A “B” student turns in assigned work on time but may have some slight problems with neat and thoughtful presentation. This student will usually give attention to commentary on the assigned work.

A “C” student turns in assigned work on time but has some issues with neat and thoughtful presentations. This student will somewhat give attention to instructor and peer commentary.

A “D/F” student does not turn work in on time and has little evidence of attention to instructor or peer commentary.

Attitude - An “A” student is always attentive in class and engaged in courteous and thoughtful discourse in both class and conference situations. The student’s attitude respects both the diverse views of his peers and his instructor and contributes to an environment that encourages thoughtful discussion.

A “B” student is usually attentive in class and engaged in a respectful manner with both peers and the instructor in class and in conferences.

A “C” student is somewhat attentive in class but may have some issues with focusing on the entire discussion and/or respecting his peers or the instructor.

A “D/F” student has significant issues with attention to class discussion and/or respecting his peers or instructor when discussing class issues.
