Course description

In English 1002G (Composition and Literature) you will take another step from 1001G toward developing your writing, reading and analytical skills. We will read works of literature — poetry, fiction, drama — then, after studying different ways to analyze them, we will dig deeper and learn how to talk and write intelligently about them.

EEE In this course you must take a final exam EEE

The plan*
*Subject to change without notice

Literary Terms Study Sheet: Do this first!

Find the Literary Terms Study Sheet on the Content Page in D2L. Use your textbooks to define the terms, which you will need to know for a deeper understanding of the material we cover. Oh, and while I’m at it, bring your textbook, Literature — the one you could stop a door with — to class each day; you cannot participate in discussion without it.

Course notes

Now, once you’ve finished the Literary Terms Study Sheet, you need to know what I expect from you. Read this syllabus closely! That will help. I strongly suggest that you print out a copy. On occasion, I will post announcements either on the Desire2Learn (D2L) calendar or via email so make sure you check both frequently.

Some other important items: For me and for at least some of you, this will be our maiden voyage on D2L. Given that, please understand that there undoubtedly will be some issues, problems and accidents. With that in mind, we will test the waters gingerly at first, hopefully to find the water is fine, and then plunge in head first. Hopefully, you will be able to submit electronic copies of your essays to me using D2L. If not, we will use email until I can establish a D2L dropbox. I will not accept paper essays in class (more on that later).

Regardless of how or where I ask you to turn in your essays, the essays will be due in electronic format no later than midnight the day they are due. Essays submitted at 12:01 a.m. will receive a 10 percent deduction (see section on late submissions below). Essays more than three days late will NOT be accepted so please don't ask.

Use Microsoft Word format (.docx) exclusively as your word processing program, and it is possible because the library and Triad, along with other campus resources, have computers available with MSWord installed. Submit files in Word's default format (.docx). And, I will NOT ACCEPT essays pasted into the message window of the e-mail, should that be the format we ultimately use. You must also turn in the "marked copies" of your essay. We will discuss how you will accomplish this miracle in class.

Other

Read read read read ... write write write write write – we will do both. Perhaps not your favorite things, not what you wanted but perhaps expected to hear. You must do both to become a competent writer. And in this class those who flex their creative muscle, do the work, and participate in class discussions will be rewarded with good grades.

Conferences

Of major importance in this class will be the one-on-one conferences with me and the peer editing and workshop sessions with your classmates. In the conferences, you will sit down with me to read over your essays on the big screen, although we will not conference on every essay. Make sure you bring a hard copy of your essay to the conference so that you can take notes. Because you have received personal input on your essays, I will expect each subsequent essay or writing assignment improve significantly; therefore, I will grade them increasingly more strictly as the semester progresses.

You are also required to peer edit your classmates' work. Peer editing will not be graded. If you do not participate in peer editing, you will not have the benefit of an extra set of "eyes," and I assure you that the quality of your final product and your grade will suffer immensely.

You will be required to attend at least two conferences with me. We also hold a group conference, in the form of team workshops. These will be scheduled ahead of time (see schedule below). The individual conferences will last 20 to 30 minutes, depending on the complexity of the assignment.

During conference weeks, we may or may not meet during our regularly scheduled class times. That depends on how we progress through the semester. If we have class during conferences, you will be required to attend and watch a movie (take notes!) during class. The movies will be relevant to course material, and I will take attendance. If you fail to keep your conference appointment, you will NOT be allowed the opportunity to make it up and will receive one regular unexcused absence.

Short responses

You must carefully read each assignment or writing prompt – short stories, poems, plays. To make sure you understand the material, I will require you to write a number of two-page responses, instead of fewer, longer essays. In these responses, you will answer a question or questions over a reading or readings. I will announce details as we progress through the semester. Again, essays must follow MLA format. Essays obviously must also follow the principles of good writing – comprehensive content, attention to audience, clarity, organization, correct grammar, spelling and punctuation and so on. The responses will be worth ten points
Depending on your participation in class discussion, I may administer unannounced quizzes. Quizzes will help determine that you are reading closely. They will consist of 10 multiple choice or true/false questions worth one-half point each for five points total.

Reading: To understand the material, you must read the assignments carefully. I suggest reading each twice. The first time through, read for the enjoyment of the story, poem or play. Read without pausing, questioning, analyzing or making any judgment on the work of literature. The second time, begin to ask yourself questions about the content. For example, you could ask questions about characters, plot, setting, diction and other aspects of the story. We will discuss various approaches to gain deeper understanding of literature.

Purdue OWL Website
Purdue University

The Purdue OWL lists the most current (2009) MLA guidelines. MLA has made major changes, changes that may or may not be reflected in your handbook. Go to http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/557/01 for more information.

EIU’s Writing Center
Eastern Illinois University

EIU’s Writing Center has tutors who can help you through the writing process, from beginning to end. The tutors, however, will not proof or edit your papers. They will help you work through problems in all areas of writing that you may have. Take advantage of its services. Visit the WC Website, call to make an appointment or stop by. Tutors are usually available. Contact information: The Writing Center 3110 Coleman Hall Eastern Illinois University 600 Lincoln Avenue Charleston, IL 61920 Phone: (217) 581-5829.

If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.

Should you be in this class? If you received an NC in 1001G, you must see me IMMEDIATELY afterward. You must successfully pass 1001G before you enroll in 1002G.
The Electronic Writing Portfolio

You can submit an essay from this course for inclusion in your Electronic Writing Portfolio. Near the end of the semester, we will revisit the EWP submission.

Policies

The academic policy on plagiarism

Plagiarism. Don’t do it. Why? Because you could get hit with sanctions ranging from a failing grade to expulsion from the University, whose policy reads as follows:

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—“The appropriation or imitation of language, ideas and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work” (Random House Dictionary of the English Language)—has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of a grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office. Respect for the work of others should encompass all formats, including print, electronic, and oral sources.

My NEW attendance policy

Be there. To gain full benefit from the class, you must be present. I have established the following simple attendance policy:

For each class missed – except documented University-sanctioned absences, which are excused – you will receive a two-point deduction from your total score. So miss as many classes as you wish. Just remember, if you miss five classes for illness, family emergencies or whatever, you will lose 10 points from your Running Point total. That is nearly a full grade. An A would slip to a B, a B to a C, and a C to an NC (non-credit), which means you must retake the course.

Late Assignments
Submit your paper, in electronic format, no later than midnight on the day it is due. For each day the essay is late, I will assess a 10 percent penalty, up to three days, or 30 percent. After the third day, I will not accept papers. I will not accept papers beyond the last day of class.

Assignments and Grades

The essays

(More on the responses) You will write four response papers of no more than 600 words each (which equals two typed pages, with text double-spaced, 12 point, Times New Roman typeface, pages with one-inch margins all round) on selected readings; a four-page midterm paper (may take the form of an essay and/or an objective exam); and a final six-page research paper. You will also take a final exam, date to be announced. And, if you have not already entered a paper from 1001, you will have the opportunity to enter one of your papers into the University’s Electronic Writing Portfolio. More on that later.

The final paper
Final paper: You will write a six-page literary essay, including a Works Cited page, on a topic of your choice. The essay must be researched and include three sources. We will talk more about details of the essays and the source requirement later. As the culmination of our classwork and a measure of what you have taken from the course, your final paper will be worth 30 points.

Essay format
All essays, whether short responses or longer literary essays, MUST conform to the MLA format. This means they should be formatted on the page correctly and all MLA conventions must be followed. For example, find out whether it is appropriate to use digits for numbers and when to spell out the numbers. (I suggest you seek guidance on the latest MLA format at Purdue University’s Online Writing Lab, your text book (Lit), or The Little, Brown Handbook.

You must learn how to format the first page (You can find an example of what page one of your essays should look like on D2L), subsequent pages, and how to set up the Works Cited page. Do NOT use a cover page.

I’LL DEDUCT UP TO 10 PERCENT OF TOTAL POSSIBLE GRADE FOR FORMATTING ERRORS.

Exams and other projects

The midterm
This could take the form of an essay, in-class essay questions, multiple-choice and true-false test, or other projects. I will let you know the format and what the test will cover nearer midterm. The midterm will be worth twenty points.

Final exam
Final exam: This course requires you to take a final exam. The final will NOT be comprehensive. Instead, it will focus on the drama section of 1002 and be worth 20 points.

Team presentation
Presentations: I will assign you to teams of no more than six but no less than three members. As part of a team, you will analyze works of literature and to develop a team presentation. The Team will decide what work of literature you will present to the class. More on this later. They will be worth 10 points of the total possible for the class.

Desired Learning Outcomes

To gain a deeper understanding of poetry, short stories and drama. (Literary Genres)
We will examine poetry and short stories, old and new, from different genres.

To become familiar with how authors’ lives impact their art. (About the Author)
Students will examine the impact writers’ life may or may not have on their work.

To utilize sources to support your ideas and conclusions. (Sources)
Students will identify and employ sources to support their main propositions. As with all other work in this class, these shall be formatted in MLA style.

To demonstrate how to write critically and analytically (Critical Thinking )
Learning to read fiction, poetry and drama closely and thoroughly.
To demonstrate clarity and mechanical knowledge in writing. (Mechanics and Clarity)
You will revise papers until they are clean of mechanical errors and readable.

Grades and point values

Point totals: Grades will computed as follows:

§ Four response papers/quizzes = 10 points each for 40 points possible.
§ One team presentations = 10 points each out of 10 points possible.
§ Midterm paper (may take the form of an essay and/or objective exam) = 20 points
§ Final exam (D2L?) — Multiple choice, short answer, true/false = 20 points
§ Final paper = six-page research paper with at least four sources = 30 points

120 points possible (estimated total – may change)

* You must earn a C (70% or above) to pass this course.
 If you come to class, do the writing and reading, pay attention, attend conferences, participate in discussions, utilize all resources available to you (e.g., The Writing Center), you should have no problem passing this course with at least a C.

Track your Grades
Track your scores in the blank spaces next to the assignments. That way, you will have a record of your scores and can know where your grade stands throughout the semester. (Assignments may be added as necessary.)
