Class Policies and Procedures

Attendance: Please be clear about this from the beginning: you must attend class on a regular basis if you expect to earn a passing grade for this course. It is impossible to duplicate class discussions and activities for students who are absent. Since students come to a greater understanding of course materials through these class discussions and activities, those who frequently miss class find themselves at a serious disadvantage when writing papers or completing class assignments, and such frequent absences almost always manifest their effect on the final course grade.

Missed assignments and exams: Missed assignments may be made up for credit only with a verified excused absence. If you are ill but do not go to Health Service, you must phone me--before class--during my office hours on the day of the absence to verify an excused absence for that day's class session. Arrangements for making up missed work must be made with me the class period immediately following the absence. If you have a university recognized anticipated absence (academic or athletic activity), please note that you are to submit any work that is due on that date before the anticipated absence. If you need to speak to me about assignments or missed class work, please phone me during my office hours or phone me at home (before 10:00 p.m., please). Do not leave voice-mail messages on my office phone. Those messages go to Mrs. Clark, not to me; consequently, I will not receive messages you leave there.

Late papers: You have ample time for each essay assignment; however, for those of you who have a tendency to procrastinate, please note that essays which are turned in late will lose one letter grade for each class meeting that they are overdue.

Submitting essays: All essays should be submitted according to proper MLA format, which may be found on pages 117-18 of your handbook, A Pocket Style Manual. You will need a pocket folder in which to submit your essays for evaluation. The final manuscript should be placed on the right side of the folder; all other phases of the writing process--planning, rough draft(s), peer evaluations, revisions--should be placed, in that order, on the left side of the folder. Papers submitted without all phases of the writing process will be considered incomplete and will thus lose at least one letter grade, depending upon how many of the stages of the process are missing. That means that even though you have your drafts on disk, you must make paper copies of all drafts to be included in your submission folder. On the date that they are due, essays should be in the proper order and ready for submission at the beginning of the class period—no last minute printing in class.

Course requirement: Please be aware that you must complete and submit all essays (no matter how late they may be) in order to pass the class. Failure to submit all essays will result in an "NC" for the course.

Grading: Since this is primarily a writing course, you will write numerous papers as well as essay responses on exams. Grades will be assigned on a point system as indicated by the following chart.

Point values for the course:
Poetry essay-------------------------------- 75 points
Exam on poetry---------------------------------100 points
Fiction essay----------------------------------- 125 points
Drama essay--------------------------------150 points
Final exam--------------------------------200 points
Additional assignments------------------------150 points

The total number of points possible for the course is 800. Grades will be assigned according to the following grading scale:

720--800 = A
640--719 = B
560--639 = C
559 & below = NC

On official transcripts and grade reports, any grade below 560 points will be recorded as "NC" (no credit). Any student receiving "NC" for the course must retake English 1002G.

Please keep all returned papers, exercises, and any other graded assignments in a pocket folder so that you will have a ready record of your progress in the course. You can figure your grade in the course at any time during the semester by dividing the number of points you have accumulated by the number of points possible up to that time.

Good luck; hope you enjoy the semester.
Electronic Writing Portfolio

If you did not submit an essay from English 1001G to your electronic writing portfolio, you must submit an essay from English 1002G; otherwise enrollment for future semesters will be blocked. I will accept submissions through Thursday, April 19; do not ask me after that date. If you have not submitted an essay by April 19, you may face the possibility of having to retake the course (no matter what grade you receive) or enroll in a workshop (at your expense) in order to complete submission requirements. When your disk copy and your forms are in order, stop by my office during office hours or immediately before or after class so that I can check your disk and sign the forms. Please don't hand them to me during class and expect me to be responsible for returning them to you the next class period. Your electronic writing portfolio is your responsibility; please make sure you understand the requirements and fulfill them in a timely manner.

Enrollment Reminders

Students who have ACT scores in English of 15 or below (13 on the old version of the test) or who have no test scores on file with the university must pass English 1000 before enrolling in English 1001G. and Successful completion of English 1001G or its equivalent is a prerequisite for enrollment in English 1002G.

Plagiarism Policy

Please note the English department's statement concerning plagiarism:

"Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism--'The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one's original work' ([Random House Dictionary of the English Language])--has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including the immediate assignment of a grade of 'F' for the assigned essay and a grade of 'F' for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office."

I shall adhere to this policy throughout the semester.

Writing Center

Help is available through the Writing Center in Coleman Hall, room 301. Students who may need help with a particular writing problem or problems are urged to stop by the center for individual attention. The Writing Center, is NOT a proofreading service, however. Do not take an unmarked paper in and expect someone to find all of your errors before you hand in the paper. If you are having difficulty getting started on a particular assignment or if you know you are weak in a particular area, by all means, stop by the center for help. I may, in fact, refer you to the Writing Center if I detect consistent serious errors or weaknesses in your writing. Don't be afraid to ask for help, and do it before it is too late to salvage your grade. Check the notice on the Writing Center door to find operating hours for the current semester.

Students with Disabilities

Please note the following information from the Office of Disability Services: "If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible."
Course Objectives for English 1002G

- To learn to appreciate specifically three types of literature: fiction, drama, and poetry
- To learn to analyze the qualities of selected short stories, plays, and poems
- To learn how to be a careful, conscientious reader of literature
- To learn the necessary language for talking and writing about literature
- To be able to apply the literary skills and grammatical tools requisite for effective written communication
- To learn how to write about something of value with precision, clarity, and cogency
- To examine the lives and times in which some writers lived and to understand in what ways their lives and environment affected their writing
- To learn proper use of MLA research and documentation techniques
Essay Guidelines

Unless I specify otherwise, the essays you write for this class should be about three to five typed pages. It is imperative that you understand that essays in this course are evaluated on process, not on the final manuscript alone. Therefore, you will need to have print copies of all phases of the writing process for each essay. In other words, you should not only save your first draft (and any subsequent drafts) on disk, but you should also make a print copy to submit for evaluation. If you merely edit drafts on the computer without making print copies, I have no way of viewing the process that brought you to the final product. Consequently, I will be unable to provide a thorough evaluation of your essay, and you will lose at least one letter grade—depending on how many of the phases you fail to include.

To submit essays, you will need a pocket folder (not a binder, please). The final copy of your paper should be placed in the right-hand pocket of the folder. All other phases of the writing process—planning, rough draft(s), peer comments, revisions—should be arranged in that order in the left-hand pocket of the folder. I will return folders with graded papers well in advance of the due date for the next essay, so you may use the same folder to submit all of your essays.

The final copy of your essays should be typed according to MLA guidelines for manuscript form; these are found on pages 117-18 of A Pocket Style Manual. Short essays (fewer than 10 pages, and thus all of the essays for this class) do not use a separate title page.

Also remember that on due dates, essays are to be ready for submission at the beginning of the class period. This means that folders should be in proper order before you get to class; you must not wait until you get to class to print your final manuscript. Be prepared before you come to class.
Policies and Procedures for the ETIC (English Technology-Integrated Classroom)

We will alternate our class time--from week to week--between CH340 (lab) and CH306 (classroom). The lab is equipped with Gateway computers which use a version of Microsoft Word 7.0. If you have access to a personal computer which uses a version newer than Microsoft word 7.0 or if you use a program other than Microsoft Word, you must remember to save your work in Rich Text format in order to be able to work effectively between computers. For saving your work, you will need at least three pre-formatted IBM-compatible high density diskettes (1.44MB). It is imperative that you always make back-up copies of your work. Diskettes should be clearly labeled with your name and appropriate course information.

The ETIC lends itself well to self-directed work, so frequently during your class periods there will be time to work on rough drafts, class assignments, final drafts, or other course projects. Note that a few rules do apply. First, there are to be absolutely no drinks or food in the lab. In addition, you are expected to work on course assignments, and unless all of your assigned work has been completed and submitted, you may not use the computers for reading e-mail or browsing the Internet. In short, you must stay on task; failure to do so will result in dismissal from the class. In the event that we need to use class time in the ETIC for instructional purposes, I also expect you to be attentive to lectures or class discussions. In other words, no working on the computers when attention should be directed to the person or persons talking--a simple matter of courtesy, I think.

I'm sure that many of you have more experience with computer use than I do, so I welcome your comments and suggestions. For those of you who are relatively new to computer use, relax and don't be afraid to ask questions. Remember that this class is first and foremost a composition course; the computers are here to serve our needs, not to overshadow our purpose. I hope you enjoy the semester and come away with a sense of confidence in your writing skills.
