Description and Guidelines
This course is designed to improve critical thinking and writing skills through the study of fiction, drama, and poetry. Success in this course will depend largely on careful, multiple readings of assigned texts and participation in class discussions.

All students should have passed 1001G or fulfilled this requirement via transfer credit or the CLEP proficiency exam.

Lab
If your section is computer assisted, we will be doing some writing and evaluating in the computer lab. No part of a student's grade will be affected by his or her computer savvy; however, computer problems outside the classroom do not serve as valid excuses for late or missing work.

EIU Online
The online course page will be active and serve – mostly – as a place for course documents, announcements, and links to resources. Please check the course page regularly.

Attendance
Each student is allowed three discretionary absences. Each absence thereafter will lower the student's final grade by 30 points. Students are responsible for all material covered in class, including any changes in the syllabus, regardless of absences.

Writing Assignments
Assignments must be typed and double-spaced in Times New Roman 12 pt. and submitted as .doc, .docx, or .rtf. The student's name, instructor's name and paper title should appear on the upper left corner.

Late Work
Papers are due (via Dropbox) on the assigned dates/times. Late papers will be penalized by one letter grade per day late.

Plagiarism
EIU Policy: Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism – the appropriation or imitation of language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work – has the right and responsibility to impose upon the student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of the grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.

Students with Disabilities
If you are a student who has a documented disability and wishes to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (6583) as soon as possible.
