Course packet: This will be the single most important collection of readings for our entire semester. You should procure a copy of our course packet from Copy Express in the University Union.

Odds and Ends:

Folders
You will need a folder for this class, which you will utilize to submit your written work on the assigned due dates.

Jump Drives and CDs
I would strongly suggest that you get a flash drive to utilize for all of your assignments for this class. However, if you are unable to purchase a flash drive, I would recommend a rewritable cd. Be aware that I do not accept electronic versions of your assignments, nor will I consider technological troubles of any kind. A single cd or flash drive for this course is the safest bet against viruses and technological related problems. Be sure to back up all of your work on other disks or on your desktops at home. Furthermore, those of you who will be doing the majority of your work in the library, please be aware of the complications associated with floppy disks, particularly computer viruses and incompatibility!

Course Description:
English 1001G: Composition & Language is a writing intensive course, focused on generating a variety of writing projects exemplifying elements of research, persuasion and expression through the development of critical thinking skills, structural and grammatical usage, and precise documentation of outside sources.

Course Objectives:
This particular section of 1001G will be exploring the themes of “Food and Labor” through the various writing, reading and critical thinking activities assigned throughout the semester. You should realize that while many of your writing assignments will be traditional examples of academic writing, you will also be required to complete some work involving “community interaction”. This means that part of your grade will be based upon writing tasks that will require you to interact with people outside of the classroom. Specifically, you will be asked to interview local members of the Charleston community, and visit certain locations within the community.

Grades:
Please keep in mind that this is an ABC or NC course!
1050-945: A, 944-840: B, 839-735: C, 734 or less: NC

Papers:
For this course you will be required to generate a variety of writing assignments including an historical narrative based upon an interview (5 pages), a food review (3 pages), a research assignment (10 pages), and a 10-minute group presentation/analysis (power point & handout). Your papers should be typed, double-spaced, written in 12 point font (Times New Roman or Garamond ONLY), and your last name and page number should be in the upper right-hand corner of each page. You may or may not choose to have a cover page (see Easy Writer p. 196 for MLA format). We will follow the MLA format for the entirety of this course, please be sure to adjust format accordingly.

Paper Submission
Each of your paper assignments should be presented to me in the following manner on the specified draft due dates: Your most recent draft should be on top, followed by all rough drafts, and outlining or brainstorming. These should be submitted in a course folder on the assigned due dates. All papers will be due by the end of class or they will not be accepted, NO EXCEPTIONS.

Proposals
You will be required to submit topic proposals for your Research paper. This means that prior to the submission of any research drafts, you will need to turn in a proposed topic. Proposals will be due on Wednesday, October 25th. For more information on writing proposals, please refer to the list of paper prompts (attached).

Drafts
You will have two total drafts for each assignment- a rough draft, and a final draft. These are not optional drafts; hence, if you fail to turn in any one of the potential drafts, I will no longer grade the assignment.

Revisions:
The nature of this course lends itself to the process of writing and revising! Not only will I comment on your various drafts, occasionally so will your peers during Peer Review Workshops. Please take careful note of the specific Peer Review Workshop dates, as those will be class periods dedicated to revising new drafts and old drafts! Be sure to bring copies of your drafts and/or revised essays on these Peer Review dates. If you do not come with a draft you will be considered absent for that class period.

Attendance, Tardiness & Participation:
Those students interested in becoming better writers, readers, critical thinkers, and overall scholars will prove said dedication by faithfully attending this class, actively participating in class activities, and courteously arriving on time!
Attendance and participation is worth a significant portion of your grade (5 points per class=215 total points). Furthermore, our class will be organized around readings, and writing workshops that mandate your attendance and full participation, so please come to class. Should you come but not participate (i.e. have not completed readings, don’t have your notes and readings with you, decide to fall asleep, etc., etc.) you will be considered absent.

Absences
It is your responsibility to find out about assignments, notes and readings by contacting OTHER members of this class. Please take a few moments to jot down the names and phone numbers of two-four fellow classmates in case you should need to contact them as a result of absence.
Conferences:
You will meet with me for individual conferences during Week 8 of classes. This means that we will not meet as a class; however, you are required to meet with me once. Any unexcused failure to attend conferences will result in a reduction of conference points. Please note the individual conference dates listed in the course syllabus!

Plagiarism:
I am required to give a nod to the English Department’s policies on plagiarism.

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—“The appropriation or imitation of language, ideas and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work” (Random House Dictionary of the English Department of the English Language)—has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignments, of a grade of F for the assigned essay and a grade of F for the course and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.

Sharing ideas is a critical part of what writing and researching is about, and I hope that you will all continue to be responsible writers and researchers. Imitating without giving credit to the contributor is not only irresponsible, but it is unjust and cruel. That said, should you have any questions or concerns related to this very serious topic, please feel free to meet with me for further discussion!

Electronic Writing Portfolio:
Please realize that you must fulfill some writing requirements for the Electronic Writing Portfolio (EWP) in order to graduate. You may choose to fulfill one of these requirements by submitting an essay from either 1001G or 1002G. If you choose to submit a piece of work from this course, you will need to obtain the necessary EWP form (see http://www.eiu.edu/~assess/ewpmain.php), which you will need to have me sign. For further information, please contact The Writing Center (3110 Coleman Hall), or Dr. Daiva Markelis (3375 Coleman Hall).

Students with Disabilities:
If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.
