The following texts are used for English 1002G:

A college-level dictionary: Webster’s New World, The American Heritage, etc.

ATTENDANCE: Plan to attend every class. You might glance at page 55 of the 2003-2004 catalog concerning this matter. Obviously, a student seldom does well in a course and never performs to his or her potential when he or she cuts class frequently. For that reason, I have established the following attendance policy. For every five unexcused absences, your final grade will be lowered one letter grade. If you have ten unexcused absences, your final grade will be lowered two letter grades, etc. Late papers will be accepted only in cases of extreme emergency—severe illness, official university activity, or other urgent reasons.

DEPARTMENTAL STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM: “Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism—‘the appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one’s original work’ (Random House Dictionary of the English Language) has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty up to and including the immediate assignment of a grade of F for the course, and to report the incident to the Judicial Affairs Office.”

COURSE LOAD: Expect to read at least eight to ten short stories, three or four plays, and twenty to thirty poems. Two essays of at least 1,000 words each (one on fiction, the other on drama), both of which you will have the opportunity to revise if you wish, and one shorter essay of a minimum of 600 words on poetry will be required. A midterm (on fiction), a final (on drama and poetry), reading check quizzes and graded group work are also expected.

GRADING: Approximately 15 percent of your grade will consist of class participation, graded group work, and surprise reading check quizzes. Each of the three essays will count 20 percent. If you decide to revise either of the first two essays, the initial draft will count 5% and the revision 15%. Unfortunately, there will not be enough time for a revision of essay three. Extra credit will be awarded to those who turn original drafts in on time or early. All letter grades are also given numerical equivalents to avoid confusion. Only the numerical equivalent is recorded.

You are responsible for keeping up with reading and writing assignments, even if you are unable to attend class. In other words, a missed class is not a valid excuse for not being prepared on your return. Learn the assignment from a classmate or from your instructor. If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodation, contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.
