The Norton Anthology of Children's Literature (NA)
Classics of Children's Literature (4th edition) (CL)
Only Connect: Readings on Children's Literature
(3rd edition) (OC)
Louise Fitzhugh: Harriet the Spy
Louis Sacher: Holes

Two 6-8 page double-spaced typewritten essays. At least one of these two essays must deal with both a work or works we read for the course PLUS a work or works by a writer or writers not on the syllabus. The first of these two papers will be preceded by a written project proposal which will count for one-third of the paper grade. Topics, further guidelines and due-dates to be announced.

Mid-term and final. The mid-term and final will consist of essay and short answer identifications questions.

To introduce opening discussion of some of the class sessions, teams of two students will be responsible for presenting and leading discussion on material relevant to the assigned readings. Student teams will turn in a written outline of the presentation for review, comment and grading.

Each essay counts one third, and the average of the mid-term, the final, and the presentation makes up the final third of the course grade. All work must be completed to pass the course.

This average may be adjusted up or down depending on your class participation, improvement and effort. ATTENDANCE WILL AFFECT YOUR GRADE (see last page).

THE PURPOSE OF THIS COURSE:
First of all, this is not a methods course. The only method to which I subscribe is successfully presenting literature to children simply involves reading it, understanding it, and enjoying it yourself. If you can manage this, then the chances of your getting a child to like the literature should certainly improve. Beyond this obvious prescription I will not venture.

As the title states, this is a course in literature, and we will be approaching that literature with the same seriousness and rigor that can be applied to any "adult" literature. The course aims at an understanding of children's literature in its psychological, historical, and cultural depths of meaning. We will be looking at the cultural history of the phenomena of childhood, and the changes in adult ideas about children and childhood, as reflected in this literature. We will try to see what is involved in a serious evaluation of the worth of such literature. Furthermore, we will try to understand the cultural values built into and/or imposed upon this body of literature. Throughout our consideration of these matters, I expect you to discuss, argue, and question.

English Department Statement Concerning Plagiarism

Any teacher who discovers an act of plagiarism -- "The appropriation or imitation of the language, ideas, and/or thoughts of another author, and representation of them as one's original work" (Random House Dictionary of the English Language) -- has the right and the responsibility to impose upon the guilty student an appropriate penalty, up to and including immediate assignment of a grade of F for the course.

Grading Scale

- 4.0 - 3.6  A
- 3.5 - 2.5  B
- 2.4 - 1.4  C
- 1.3 - 0.1  D
Attendance Policy

Because the information provided in the classroom is a major part of 3405, and because of the stress that I place on discussion, argument, and interrogation, failure to attend class will most definitely affect your grade. Any student missing more than 6 class meetings without obtaining either my approval beforehand or a formal excuse will fail the course.

Legitimate reasons (illness, official university activity, recognized emergency) established through the University Health Service or the Office of Student Personnel Services.

Late Work

Unless you have made prior arrangements with me, or provided a formal excuse (see above), I will accept no late papers.

Information for Students with Disabilities

If you have a documented disability and wish to receive academic accommodations, please contact the Coordinator of the Office of Disability Services (581-6583) as soon as possible.
