Class policies:
1. This class has a lot of reading, and you will have to keep up. There may be quizzes.
2. This class meets twice a week; miss more than three classes, and you're in trouble.
3. This class is a discussion class, and 50% or so of your course grade will be based on your performance in class. Come regularly, be prepared, and share what you think—and you'll do fine.
4. There will be at least two big writing projects, one an author review and study, the other, a large take home final. There may be other sorts of writing I'll have you do.
